

BULLETINS

Dunn Hi

MEADVILLE, Pa. (P) — Fire destroyed the 80-year-old LaFayette Hotel here early today, but a night clerk and a bellhop aroused the sleeping guests in time and all 58 escaped safely.

RICHMOND, Va. (P) — William and Mary's 180-pound junior end Walt Brodie today was named the Southern Conference's player of the week for a sensational defensive performance against VMI last Saturday.

JERUSALEM, Israel (P) — Premier-designate David Ben-Gurion said today he is prepared to meet Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and every other Arab leader as soon as possible to work out a mutual settlement of their years-long dispute.

RALEIGH (P) — A. H. Parker of Greensboro is the new president of the North Carolina Bottlers Association. He was elected at yesterday's closing session of the group's 41st annual convention here.

WILMINGTON (P) — Leroy Evans, 17, Wilmington Negro, today began a seven to 10-year prison term for the fatal knifing last August 13 of Samuel White, 26.

Evans pleaded nolo contendere to a manslaughter charge yesterday in New Hanover Superior Court. He said he stabbed White in self-defense.

STOCKHOLM (P) — Two American physicists, Willis E. Lamb and Polykarp Kusch, today won the 1955 Nobel Prize for physics.

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — Poet-historian Carl Sandburg has been quoted as saying Adlai E. Stevenson "is fully equal in quality of mind and spirit to Jefferson, Lincoln, and Woodrow Wilson."

NEW YORK (P) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association has entered a formal denial to government charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust act and demanded a judgment dismissing the accusations.

TRIPOLI, Libya (P) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, NATO supreme commander, believes Communist armaments to Egypt may affect plans of the North Atlantic defense alliance.

TAIPEI, Formosa (P) — Nationalist China showed off armed might on the offshore island of Quemoy Tuesday in a large-scale air, sea and ground war exercise with the Communist coast.

ROME (P) — Premier Antonio Segni may follow the lead of the French government and call general elections ahead of schedule to end domestic uncertainty.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (P) — The government and Fruit Company today rushed relief to relief paraded-stricken cities in the banana belt of Honduras.

friend's peace of mind we can but vaguely conjecture.

Boys faced with this choice, which would seem like pretty good practice for bigamy, were Russell Carter, Donald Gardner, Ronnie Kimmel, Albert Fial, Robert Register, Jimmy Turnage and Harry Green.

Youngest of the varsity sweetheart candidates are Diane Conn and Betsy Sue Tart, both freshmen. Not one single sophomore girl made the grade; we don't know how the sophomores are taking this up to; now we'd heard no complaints about them.

The Juniors got in with Rita McLean and Ann Wheatley, but it's all the rest of the football boys' dreamboats are seniors; Mary Allred, Sue Bailey, Becky Bryant, Laura Carr, Jean Ennis, Bobbie Parker, Alice Stewart, Virginia Vann and Jean Young.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

While the richer set at Dunn High deliberate for which of these girls to break up their five dollar bills into pennies, the school as a whole is conducting some exercises in school spirit which may possibly help it to recover from the 41-0 beating suffered at the hands of Morehead City last Friday.

Yesterday the halls of the high school rang and rang with the strains of "Faithful and True-hearted", every class period beginning with a rendering of the school song. On Monday, Rev. Leslie Tucker of the Presbyterian Church had a talk with high school students about the relationship of good character, sincerity and simplicity to attaining one's goals.

Today, all Dunn students, and teachers, too, are decked in the school colors, white and green. For those who don't think green matches their argyle socks, or just don't have the color in their wardrobe, green ribbons have been passed out to remind them of the glory that can be the Greenwave's.

Thursday is poster day, and 12 classes from the fifth grade up will submit the prize poster from their room in a general contest. The contest is dedicated to the theme of Better School Spirit. In the evening, weather permitting, a massive pep rally will be held on the Dunn High field.

Friday, the team girls for the game (against Gray High School of Winston-Salem) by going through the much greater ordeal of appearing and being introduced to the student body. Coaches Jim Brown and Maurice George as well as the cheerleaders, will appear during the program, prepared by the speech class and under the direction of Mrs. Roy Dixon.

Following the game—and providing Dunn High students still have enough pennies to buy gas for their father's car and get there—a big dance will be held at the Armory. Students, alumni and the visiting team are all welcome. It sounds like it might be fun.

Stevenson

Leader has spoken it would seem the state's big national convention delegation may be put in the Stevenson column. This week's invitation to enter the Minnesota primary was an impressive example of the Stevenson buildup.

Stevenson's unannounced campaign had one slight reverse, but that has been corrected. Former President Truman left the impression during a visit to New York that he favored Gov. Averell Harriman over Stevenson for the Democratic nomination. But Mr. Truman fixed that.

On most other fronts the Stevenson campaign is booming. Tammany boss Carmine De Sapio was set back on his heels on a recent visit to California in search of Harriman delegates. Democratic Mayor Robert Wagner of New York seems to favor Stevenson as of now in preference to Harriman. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York is firmly committed to the man from Illinois.

HARRIMAN LIKELY ALTERNATE

Harriman is counted by some persons the most likely alternate if the convention rejects Stevenson. The defection of Wagner and Lehman is not deadly to his candidacy. PDR won his first Democratic nomination with Mayor James J. Walker of New York City, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and the entire Tammany organization opposing him.

But it is significant that Stevenson can chip away some of Harriman's Democratic associates. Stevenson has accomplished even more in Tennessee, where a coon-skin cap is as much the badge of Sen. Estes Kefauver as of Davy Crockett. Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee is for Stevenson for president a fact which the senator must seriously consider before deciding to make another try for the White House.

Stevenson's candidacy has not yet come squarely up against those Southern conservatives who did not like him in 1952 and bolted to the Republican ticket. The breach in the Democratic Party remains wide and deep. None knows what will happen when the party factions resume next year in Chicago the dispute which was interrupted in 1952 by adjournment of the Democratic national convention.

But the current situation is not at all obscure. Stevenson is way out in front and gaining steadily.

that he had no comment on the proposed motion.

Mrs. Godwin stoutly defended last night those who were accused of subversive activities against the bylaws of the church. Of her husband, she said, "I've lived with Ellis Godwin nine years and if he wasn't fit for church membership, I don't know who could be. I intend to use my rights and stay and work for getting all these men reinstated, if it takes a year."

The 25 who met last night constitute about a fourth of the membership of the church. They will seek reinstatement with restoration of full rights and fellowship for B. O. Slaughter, M. A. Knox, Joe Earnhardt, Ellis Godwin, Alton O. Bennet and Charles E. Massengill.

Said Durham Rowland, electrical repairman and member of the Second Baptist congregation, "If necessary we will appeal to officials of both the Little River Association and State Convention to mediate in an advisory capacity and will seek to get the church to extend the necessary invitations. We feel those groups have moral responsibility. If not legal authority, and can exercise advisory powers to enlighten our membership."

"If any individual or group wants him (Keller) as official pastor, then let them propose such fact," said Denwood Godwin. "Let the people duly elect or reject him."

J. W. Daniels, chairman of the deacons of the church at the time of the ousting, is among those who opposed his church's action and he spoke at the meeting last night.

"If the church will shut its doors in the face of these six men," said Daniels, "it will shut it in the face of any other man. All of us need to ask, 'Will I be next?' Maybe I'm a 'subversive,' too, but I'll be next

Dior Explains Line In Round Figures ($350)

NEW YORK (P) — Christian Dior, the guy who started a furor a while back when he introduced the "flat look" to the world of fashion, arrived yesterday on the Queen Elizabeth.

The French couturier is here to arrange for a showing of his new line of women's gowns at a fashion show to be held Nov. 8 at the House of Dior, 730 Fifth Ave.

"There will be no H-look, A-look or Y-look," he said. "I have run out of letters. My gowns will be simple, less full in the skirts and have hems 14 inches from the floor." They'll retail for about $350 apiece, he added.

Has the "flat look" gone forever? There never was one, Monsieur Dior insisted. "I just raised the bosom to its natural position. Smart women liked it. I never had such a business as I had last year!"

nual clinical congress of the American Colleges of Surgeons.

"I believe the solution is not too far away," Dr. Herbert Conway of New York said.

A major problem still must be overcome. In the human body nature causes borrowed organs to die, rejecting the "foreign" tissue. But Conway said he and his associates have been able to transplant skin from one mouse to another mouse and make it continue to live. Previously, except in the case of identical twins or in very rare cases, this was impossible in either mice or men.

A series of tests conducted by Dr. Clifford L. Klehn of Western Reserve University along this line indicated that the blood stream carries the killer of borrowed tissue.

Klehn reported to the surgeons that it may be possible to block the transport of this killer substance chemically or otherwise.

Commenting generally, Dr. Creighton A. Hard in Kansas City, said he thought the transplanting of organs and tissue from one human body to another "is solvable in time."

BULLETINS

PIEMONTE DALIFE, Italy (P) — Physicians opened up the stomach of Addolorata Carbonelli, 42, a farmer's wife, here last night and removed a bundle of keys. The woman said she swallowed the keys to the drawer where the family savings are kept to prevent her husband from squandering the money.

DURBAN, South Africa (P) — Workmen pledged today to "go to any expense" to save the life of a plucky cat which was accidentally crated up with a shipment of automobile parts and lived for three months without food or water.
