COLUMBUS, O. (P) — Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today a suggestion that Virginia change its constitution so public funds could be used for private schools "would be a most difficult operation and subject to many kinds of monkey wrenches."

WASHINGTON (P) — Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said today it may be possible to relieve President Eisenhower of some of his burdensome duties without either changing the Constitution or adopting new laws. He made the statement in commenting on a study of presidential activities which the Justice Department undertook after President Eisenhower suffered his September 24 heart attack.

FORRESTON, Ill. (P) — Six persons were killed Sunday when the speeding Union Pacific Challenger plowed into the car in which they were riding at a grade crossing near here.

WASHINGTON (P) — The little red schoolhouse is going, going, but not gone. Twenty-nine years ago there were 148,711 one-room, one-teacher schools, according to the committee for the White House Conference on Education. Today, it said, there are 39,061 one-room schools of the "little red schoolhouse" type.

NEW YORK (P) — A plan to fight juvenile delinquency by using reading to build character in America's elementary school children was announced today. The plan involves a set of readers for fourth, fifth and sixth grade children, to be known as the "Golden Rule Series," which will be published January 3 by the American Book Company in cooperation with the Palmer Foundation.

WASHINGTON (P) — The world's farms are pouring out one of the largest harvests of major foods in history. This is the opinion of the Agriculture Department's Foreign Agricultural Service after an analysis of the world food situation.

MONTREAL (P) — Marie Dionne, the frailest of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets, was reported today to be in "very precarious condition" with pernicious anemia at a church-operated hospital. But hospital officials denied she was there. Unconfirmed reports said the 21-year old girl who left the cloisters of a Quebec City convent Wednesday for the second time in 16 months entered the Notre Dame de l'Esperance Hospital Saturday.

TOKYO (P) — Japanese textile weavers have cut back production sharply — as much as 50 per cent in some districts — because of lagging demand for their products.

SOUTHERN PINES (P) — Former amateur champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, won the second annual Pilot's Open golf tournament here yesterday.

reasons. Lovely Joan Collins, star of the movie, is just about the hottest discovery Hollywood has made in many a moon. That gal from London is going places. Incidentally, we may have to quit using that word "gal." Little Doc Corbett informed us the other day that he doesn't like it. But, then again, Doc doesn't like gals—be just loves Sylvia. Somebody said a few weeks ago that all the chimney trees in Harnets had been killed by the hurricanes and other adverse weather. But plenty of them still look healthy to us.

BIRTHDAYS: Celebrating birthdays today are Mrs. Everett Warren, Mrs. Harrington, E. W. Smith, III, Margaret Tart, Daphne Fisher and Jimmie Thomas Jackson.

THINGAMAJIGS: Rommie and Dot Williamson celebrated their wedding anniversary last Wednesday. We've always wondered how some of these bride and book clubs and other social organizations get their names. Many of them have little or no relation to the club's activities. But we know of one club called the Cards 'N Gossip Bridge Club. And over in the little town of Goldston there's a club called the Evergreen Garden Club. Now there are two practical names. So does the Hoe 'N Grow Garden Club of Dunn have an appropriate name. The Beulah Baptist Church, located six miles east of Dunn on the Jonesboro road, is planning a Harvest Sale Wednesday. A barbecue, chicken salad and chicken stew dinner will be served from 11 a. m. to 8 p. m. You can tell that Christmas is near. James (Gardner's Dairy) Surles is again advertising Gardner's Egg Nog—and it's wonderful, too. But you may have to add a little hog. After all, it's against the more powerful cabinet that will include the newly created Liberal-Democratic Party.

RALEIGH (P) — The final week of sales began today on the only Eastern Belt tobacco markets still in operation, Wilson and Rocky Mount. The two markets will hold final sales Wednesday. Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, Middle and Old Belt markets will operate only three days this week and will be closed Thursday and Friday.

The search by some 200 civil defense workers and volunteers in the desolate mountain terrain was postponed at 2:30 a. m. because of darkness and extreme cold.

LONDON (P) — Financiers and motor car manufacturers are discussing development of a new motor transport project based on inventions by millionaire tractor-engineer Harry Ferguson, it was announced last night. The new scheme, details of which are still top secret, was believed to include a car of revolutionary design driven without gear lever of clutch.

law to sell the stuff with enough nog in it. Mrs. Joe Whittenton is getting her Thanksgiving turkey ready. Bobbie Jean will be home Wednesday for the holiday weekend. What we want to know of our good friend Charlie Parker of the State News Bureau is: Who did the voting to select Dolly Madison, a charmer of 100 years ago as North Carolina's top beauty over Ava Gardner? It just ain't so. We looked up a picture of Dolly and Ava and compared them. Ava has everything while Dolly was just ho-hum. Loroman C. DuPree's insurance company, Life and Casualty Insurance Company of Tennessee, is showing remarkable growth and progress. For instance, the company has just announced that the Durham district, which includes Dunn, now has more than six million dollars worth of life insurance in force with the company. The whole company has well over a billion dollars insurance in force. Mr. DuPree, an energetic, hard-working agent, is staff manager of the Dunn district. The Durham papers had a picture of Mr. DuPree along with other district officials the other day. Congratulations, Sir. Mrs. Arthur Capps tells us that her pretty niece, Carolyn Upchurch, a lovely, curvaceous drum major, etc. for the Wilmington High School Band, is coming to town for a visit soon. Get ready, Wolves. She always comes by the Record office. We'll be glad to put your name on her waiting list. She's a honey. Mrs. Eula True says she just loves the cool weather.

CHICAGO (P) — Adlai E. Stevenson moved today to get his presidential campaign down to the grass roots level as soon as possible. His headquarters was expected to announce the formation of a national volunteers for Stevenson organization, Barry Bingham, editor of The Louisville Courier-Journal and Mrs. A. B. Dick of Chicago, Stevenson's longtime friend and supporter, were slated for the roles of co-chairmen. A season professional was expected to call the major plays in the volunteers organization. He is Archibald Alexander, Democratic national committeeman from the important state of New Jersey. Meanwhile, Stevenson's young campaign was already coming under fire—some of it from within his own party. The target was Stevenson's nationally-televized speech Saturday night.

HARRIMAN DISAGREES Gov. Averell Harriman of New York indicated he couldn't go along with Stevenson's praise of "moderation." Stevenson called moderation "the spirit of the times," but warned against confusing moderation with stagnation. Harriman told a Sunday news conference that "the word 'moderation' is not in the Democratic dictionary."

The Democratic Party is not moderately for labor, not moderately for the small businessman, not moderately for any one such group," Harriman said. "We are for them all the way."

Harriman, who is expected to blister the Eisenhower foreign policy in a Seattle, Wash., speech tonight, also said he doesn't join Ste-

Negro Man

(Continued from Page One) and Robert Morgan attempted to show that Gilliam, a small-sized man, cut "Big James," who was six feet, four inches in height and weighed 195 pounds, in self defense, and that his wife, Ethel Lee, had no part in the fight at all. FORMER TEACHER TESTIFIES Chief witness for the State was Maggie McCoy, a former Negro school teacher, who testified that she saw the Gilliams assault Murchison.

Dave Murchison, father of the dead man, testified for the State that Jimmy Bailey, a defense witness who had said Ethel had not been in the fight, told him after the killing that he had seen Ethel and James and Big James down on the ground struggling in a pile.

Other defense witnesses testified they saw the fight and that Ethel had not participated in it. Those witnesses were Annie Mae Murchison, Ethel Lee's sister-in-law; John Murchison, Annie Mae's husband, and Ethel herself. James Gilliam did not take the witness stand.

Minister Fired For Racial Stand

DURANT, Miss. (P) — A Presbyterian minister who branded the action of a pro-segregation mass meeting as "un-Christian and un-American" sought a new pulpit today as the request of his congregation.

Forty-three of the 45 resident members of the Durant Presbyterian Church backed up a demand by the church's board of elders that the Rev. Marsh Calloway be ousted for dabbling in politics because he defended two white men accused of advocating racial integration.

Reliable sources said there was no discussion during the congregational meeting Sunday before regular services, only a unanimous standing vote by the members who attended to fire Calloway. The meeting lasted only seven minutes.

Calloway, 60 had announced earlier he would seek a new pastorate. He will serve here until the Central Mississippi Presbytery, meeting Nov. 29 in Jackson, takes final action on the congregation's request and appoints a new minister for Durant.

Car Hits (Continued from Page One) house was practically demolished and part of its contents badly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. McLeod and their child were asleep in the house at the time but were not injured.

TWO HURT Johnson and a passenger in his car, Glenn Tart, 15, of Dunn, Route 2, were treated at the Dunn Hospital. Tart suffered lacerations of the head and scalp and Johnson had leg and hip injuries.

Another passenger, Silas Neighbors, 18, of Dunn Route 3 was not injured.

Johnson was enroute from Dunn to Burlington's Crossroads when the accident occurred. Patrolman David Matthews, who investigated, indicted him for running past the stop sign without stopping.

This accident occurred Saturday morning about 1:15 o'clock.

TART INDICTED

Sherwood Fay Tart, 21, of 801 Aversboro Road, Dunn, was indicted by Patrolman Matthews for careless and reckless driving as the result of an accident that occurred just before midnight Saturday on the Pope Road, just outside the city limits of Dunn.

Tart lost control of his car and overturned in the road.

Tart was treated at the Dunn Hospital for lacerations and bruises. A passenger, Wiley Bass, Jr., escaped without injury.
