Little Things

"Why, I'll bet," he added, "that if we went to the Waldorf Astoria and they served her a $15 pheasant dinner, she'd send it back and get a hamburger instead." The blank didn't have a column for "sexiest," did it? . . . Cad Upchurch thinks it's high time (in fact about 10 years too late already) for Dunn to string up some new Christmas decorations. . . . It seems that nearly everybody agrees that the town needs some new decorations as well as a parade and that the decorations might be preferable if we couldn't have both. . . . "No reason why we can't have both," said Cad.

DREAMING OF A White Christmas?

Then why not remind the man in your life that he can wrap up your dream in the gleaming whiteness of a major Electric Appliance?

Remind him how cleanly and quietly an electric range can start the day right with a hearty, hot breakfast. Jog his memory on how an electric washer, dryer and ironer help speed the laundry to a perfect finish—and save him money, too! Tase his appetite with the vision of how much spice and variety you can add to meal planning with fresh-frozen foods from an electric home freezer, or a refrigerator-freezer combination.

Then tell him how the cleansing magic of an automatic electric dishwasher relieves him of "kitchen police."

Time's running short, so why not start hinting right now? Make your dream of a White Christmas come true—BUT, when you do . . . make it ELECTRIC!
