USA REJECTS DEMAND BY RUSSIA

Won't Pledge Not To Use A-Bomb First

UNITED NATIONS (P) — The United States today rejected Russia's demand for a pledge not to be the first to use atomic weapons as an invitation to "suicide."

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. made a strong appeal before the United Nations Main Political Committee for endorsement of a four-power disarmament resolution...

Referring to the Soviet proposal to avoid use of nuclear weapons, Lodge told the committee: "If an international agreement makes it impossible for a law-abiding power to use them first, even in dire extremity of self-defense against a massive aggression, then that power which is strongest in conventional means of warfare would be immediately established as the strongest military power on earth."

Harnett's Split Of School Money Is $200,000

The school kitty is building up. This week Harnett learned that its share of 25 million dollars in state education funds will be a little over $200,000.

That's not as much as Cumberland ($427,726.50), Johns on ($430,138.66) or Sampson ($385,452.11), but it will materially add to the two million of its money which the county will spend.

From an earlier bond issue by the state, also of 25 million, Harnett received $300,000.

The state allocation becomes available when application is made for it, along with building specifications that show how the money is to be used.

Harnett's Board of Education is expected to take up this matter immediately at their meeting on Dec. 16. Bids are also expected to be opened at that time for $1,000,000 in building construction in schools of the county.

Since authorization by the voters of a two million dollar bond issue last year, the county has moved to sell a million dollars worth of school bonds.

Harnett's exact share of the state monies will be $201,637.39. For this rural court county area the total allocation was $1,444,994.96.

4-H Achievement Program Is Held

Presentation of annual prizes and awards marked the annual 4-H Club Achievement Night held Monday in the Lillington School auditorium when around one hundred farm boys and girls saw new proof of the club motto that it pays "To Make the Best Better."

Winners in the boys division were eight who were singled out for outstanding work in particular fields. They included Glenn Ballard of LaFayette Club for meat animal production in beef cattle; John Stone of LaFayette for meat animal production in swine; Richard Byrd of Bunlevel for electrical projects; Carson Gregory, Jr. of Coats for dairy projects; Luther O'Quinn of Boone Trail for poultry; Wayne Faircloth of Boone Trail for forestry; Corbett Parker, Erwin, Route 1 for field crops; and Joe Gregory of Coats, blue ribbon winner at the Holstein Breeders Association show at Wilmington.

For 14 year old Parker it marked the second consecutive year he had captured the coveted field crop award for his work in flu cured tobacco. Parker, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Byrd, grew an average of 22,000 pounds of tobacco to an acre, which brought an average of $1,200 per acre.

Ballard had the twin honor of being the county Health King in addition to his achievements in growing beef cattle. Faircloth already has received his award, an expense paid stay of one week at the State Forestry Camp at Millington in Richmond County. He was awarded for planting pine seedlings and growing trees for Christmas tree sales.

Mrs. Margaret Ray Randall, assistant home agent, presented awards to the girls, and County Farm Agents C. R. Ammons and T. D. O'Quinn made the presentation to the boys.

HOLLER SPEAKS — Earlier, the audience of young people had seen visible proof of the encouragement and scope of achievement 4-H Club work offers young people as depicted in films made at the recent National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The slides were shown by Dan Holler, assistant State 4-H leader, who challenged Harnett youths to strive to have a winner who will be eligible to attend this annual event, during the Congress top ranking farm youths of the nation are literally

LITTLE THINGS ABOUT PEOPLE AND THINGS

Mrs. Elsie Kirby, a divorcee, tells us that the one thing she does NOT want Santa Claus to bring her is another husband. "Anything but that," she laughed. "One was enough. . . . But," we argued, "because one didn't work out doesn't mean all husbands are bad. . . . And then she sez, 'I haven't seen a good one yet!'" . . . Now, was that nice? . . . She just couldn't be convinced. . . . That pretty new home on the right side of the highway just before you reach Erwin is owned by George Joseph However, Ruffin calls margins of profits in the textile industry "highly unsatisfactory." Profits after taxes are less than a cent on the dollar, he said, for goods sold.

In a letter to stockholders, he remarked that developments late in the year showed an encouraging trend. He said directors felt justified in paying a 15-cent dividend on Oct. 21, "which dividend, we hope conditions will justify our maintaining on a quarterly basis."

"Good authorities," Ruffin added, "hold that our industry is in the process of making the long expected move toward a more reasonable level of earnings."

County TB X-Rays Slated

A mass chest x-ray campaign to detect tuberculosis among Harnett County residents will be conducted by the county health department in January, Dr. W. B. Hunter, county health officer, said today.

Two mobile x-ray units and staff workers to conduct the examinations will be furnished by the State Health Department. However, exact dates and plans for the campaign await notification from the State Health Department.

A similar free x-ray program in January 1953 utilized four mobile x-ray units. A total of 17,463 Harnett residents took advantage of

Varied Cases Heard In Harnett Court

Cases ranking from theft to non-support were heard Thursday in Harnett Recorder's Court. Judge M. O. Lee was on the bench and Solicitor Neill Ross prosecuted the docket.

Louise Carter Dalton, 25 year old Lillington man, submitted to the charge of stealing four new pick-up truck tires from Sexton Motor Sales. Jim Sexton, the owner, reported the theft on Oct. 20, but it was not until this week that Sheriff C. R. Moore and Policeman Walker O'Quinn found evidence linking Dalton with the crime, which Dalton admitted. Judgment was continued until Friday, Dec. 9.

Ashley Cameron, 35 years old Negro of Cameron, Route 2, entered a nolo contendere plea to illegal manufacture of whiskey. Cameron was caught at a still. He drew six months on the roads, suspended three years on payment of $340 and costs.

George Campbell, 45 years old Negro, of Lillington, Route 3 admitted giving a worthless check to

Yeah, Man, Go Go Melt That Curtain

WASHINGTON (P) — A bop combo from Greenwich Village has told the State Department it is ready "to go, go, go" and melt the Iron Curtain for the United States.

But so far it is the only jazz group showing real interest in the State Department's newly-disclosed plan to help jazz musicians travel abroad with their native American art.

The Greenwich Village jazzman said in a telegram to the state department, "We are ready to go, go, go, man, and melt that iron curtain."

The State Department declined to identify the village cats because it had not yet had a chance to reply.

The real cool offer came to the state department after Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) told of the department's search for jazzmen to travel abroad under its special program for spreading American culture. In the past, the department has limited the program chiefly to symphony orchestras, ballets and other long hairs.

Officials said they have gotten a batch of letters since Powell's announcement from people violently opposed to the jazz project. The objectors have asked, in effect, whether the department has gone out of its mind.

But state department authorities won't be dissuaded by such squawks from squares.

"We still think it is a good idea," one official said. "We desperately wish we could get a good mixed combo which would make a trip almost anywhere but Europe."

He explained that jazz groups already are successfully booking their own engagements throughout Europe and don't need government help.

Injured Woman Asks $35,000

A young woman who was injured in an automobile accident en route to the hospital to give birth to her first child has filed a civil action in Harnett Superior Court requesting recovery of $30,000 compensation for personal injury.

Mrs. Doris M. Tysinger of Bules Creek has brought suit against Eugene H. Lasater, Sr. of Erwin as a result of a two car wreck last April 15 at the intersection of 421 and Old Wire Road, one mile East of Bule's Creek.

In her complaint, Mrs. Tysinger contends she was riding with her husband D. C. Tysinger approaching the intersection when Lasater, travelling North on the Old Wire Road, carelessly and without warning, darted into the line of travel of the Tysinger car, which she contends had the right of way.

In the collision Mrs. Tysinger suffered a broken right leg, and smashed her left knee-cap. She was a patient at Good Hope Hospital, Erwin, for ten days, she may have to undergo an operation for removal of her knee-cap, the complaint states. She further contends that she was disabled for 16 weeks and unable to give her child the "care and motherly love which she otherwise would have been able to give it." She argues that this omission has caused her great "mental anguish and grief."

Mrs. Tysinger is represented by the law firm of Wilson and Johnson.

Four bullets ended Greenberg's rags-to-riches career as he stepped from a restaurant Thursday night. His wife watched in horror as the underworld multi-millionaire staggered after his two assassins, only to crumple in the middle of a dingy street.

An old charge of "possession of pyrotechnics" against Archie Lee Roberson resulted in a 30 day sentence, suspended, for the defendant, and court costs. Roberson lives on Rt. 2, Amble.

Only last month, judge Willie Bluff, key witness in the conviction of four top underworld figures in the 1943 trial, was blown to pieces by a dynamite blast at his Phoenix Ariz., home. Greenberg was also a prosecution witness in the trial and at least one of the defendants threatened at the time to "get him."
