DUNN - BROADSLAB BOOSTER - Roland Barefoot, well-known farmer who lives in the new Broadslab section of Dunn, is so proud of the fact that Dunn is the new Capitol of Broadslab that he painted a sign and put it on his car to tell the world so. His sign reads: "Do your shopping in the capitol of Broadslab DUNN." Mr. Barefoot is shown at left with his son, Connie, age 5. Three of his friends and neighbors are shown at right, Melvin Parker, Edward Barefoot and Estes Tark. They said they're "Broadslabbers 100 per cent, proud of it and proud to call Dunn their capitol." "We'll be doing our trading here from now on," they said. They said they didn't like anybody throwing off on Jim Thornton or Broadslab and that they're proud to be a part of Dunn now. Barefoot said his 76-year-old grandfather, N. B. Barefoot, had resided in the Broadslab area all his life and is proud of it. Dunn today was making plans for celebration of "Broadslab Day" to pay tribute to its new addition. Democrats Win First '56 Race For Congress

PITTSBURGH (AP) - A Democrat running with full labor backing today won the nation's first congressional battle of the 1956 presidential year.

Elmer J. Holland, a state senator and CIO official, ran up a 3-to-1 margin over Republican David J. Smith in a special election Tuesday to fill a vacancy in Pennsylvania's 30th congressional district.

Republicans shrugged off the huge Democratic bulge as having no national significance because the Democrats held a 2-to-1 advantage among the district's 191,929 registered voters.

Gov. George M. Leader called the special election to fill a vacancy resulting from the death of Mrs. Vera Buchanan last November.

Returns from 309 of 311 districts gave Holland 35,930 votes to 11,660 for Smith, bettering the 2-to-1 margin by which Mrs. Buchanan beat Smith in 1954. The voting turnout was light.

The district, one of the most heavily industrialized in the nation, repeatedly has given big margins to Democratic candidates running with the support of the United Steelworkers and other labor groups.

Parson Gets Even With Stay-Aways

EXNING, England (AP) - The 3,800 inhabitants of this little village were awakened abruptly Sunday by the persistent honking of an automobile horn.

The Rev. Robert Henry Craig said he drove his automobile through every street in the town with his thumb on the horn button because hardly anyone had been showing up for his 8 a. m. church service.

Nude Dancer Is Saved By Curtain

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) - Peaches Page the nude had shown again Tuesday night.

Miss Page, who bills herself as "The Delicious Singing Nude," ran into trouble in London last week when a woman ran across her foot and she streaked for the wings in defiance of British law.

British law says an actress may appear nude on the stage if she does not move.

Tuesday night several men dressed as clergymen parachuted two white mice onto the stage from a box overlooking the delicious nude.

The management dropped the curtain before Miss Page could break the law again. And also before the "clergymen" discovered to be sailors in disguise - could pepper her with the peashooters they had brought with them.

Stolen Cash In Baby's Diaper

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) - An 18-year-old San Angelo, Tex., father was charged with theft today.

Officers found $70 from a service station hidden in the diaper worn by a three-month-old baby being carried by the thief's wife.

NEW POLICEMAN - J. M. Joyce, 32, formerly an officer on the Fayetteville and Carthage police forces, has joined the Dunn force. Chief Alton Cobb has announced.

NAMES BOY FRIEND - Mrs. Betty Kehl, 32, of Flint, Mich., an expectant mother, accused her boy friend of shooting her husband, Robert, 34, to death at a dump near the city limits. The boy friend, William Thomas, 25, immediately denied the charge. Detective Lt. John Burton said that Mrs. Kehl would be given a third lie-detector test.

Gibson Offered Athletic Post

WAKE FOREST (AP) - Bill Gibson of Kinston, a former Wake Forest Athlete and veteran FBI agent, will be offered the post as athletic director of Wake Forest College, it was learned today.

He is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Lennie Baldwin of Dunn. He married her sister, Sue Hester. Gibson addressed the Dunn Rotary Club a few weeks ago.

Gibson is the leading candidate as a successor to Pat Preston who is resigning. Gibson was scheduled to appear before a meeting of the college trustees' executive committee in Winston-Salem yesterday but couldn't make the trip because of a cold.

Lillington's GOC Needs 165 Workers

The Lillington Ground Observation Post is in need of 165 active workers.

Starting February 1, the post will be called on to operate on a 24 hour basis. But by Jan. 28 supervisor N. R. Sessions must make up the schedule of workers to operate the plane spotting on an around-the-clock basis.

There are now 66 qualified civil defense workers in Lillington, but not all are active, and some, due to work or home duties, can not work at night.

Sessions said that the most important thing now is for volunteers to let the past know when they can work. "Please call in the specific time of day or night you can work," he said. "That will be a big help in making out the schedule."

In order to qualify as a member of the Ground Observation Corps, ten hours of plane spotting and other training are necessary. Workers "learn by doing" on the scene, under the direction of Sessions or the chief observer, Mrs. Sessions. Trainees also are invited to come to the post which is located at the Sessions home, adjoining the county prison camp, and watch qualified observers on the job. Official manuals with instructions for sky watchers also are available for study.

Planes spotted over Lillington are called in to the filter center, located at Durham. Through cooperation with the Carolina Telephone and (Continued On Page Two)

Says Family Not Against Second Term

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Eisenhower announced today that he probably will undergo his next important medical examinations between February 10 and February 15. He promised not to dilly-dally too long after that on his decision on whether to seek re-election.

Under news conference questioning, the President said flatly that no member of his family has any objection to his running again.

He was lavish in his praise for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, but said he had not discussed with Nixon what role the vice president would play in the 1956 campaign - whether or not the President runs.

In an oblique reply to a question concerning the possible political future of Chief Justice Earl Warren, he used his own personal case as an allegory which suggested that if Warren enters politics, he should resign from the Supreme Court.

Other news highlights of his second meeting with reporters in Washington since his heart attack: Change of Policy

1. He would like to see the great principles and policies governing this country's conduct of foreign affairs removed from politics. Foreign nations then would not fear an abrupt change of policy in event of a change in the executive branch of government in this country.

2. He wished the school construction bill could be considered on its own merits rather than having it (Continued On Page Eight)

Police Seek Minister In Sex Offenses

MIAMI (AP) - Police today began a statewide search for a young Miami minister accused of sex crimes involving teen-aged boys.

The Rev. Ed Wall, handsome minister and a founder of the First Church of Religious Service here, was charged yesterday with crimes against nature involving two teenage boys and contributing to the delinquency of a third by giving him liquor.

The youths ranged from 14 to 15 years old. Officers trying to serve a warrant to Wall at his church were told he had left for California. Police immediately broadcast a statewide alarm for Wall's arrest.

IN TROUBLE BEFORE Wall has been in hot water with authorities a number of times in recent years.

In 1951 he and Andre J. Perez, 25, were charged with arson in the $15,000 fire of the home of Sabu the elephant boy, in Los Angeles. Perez confessed to setting the fire, but charges against Wall were dropped.

Last week Wall and the directors of his church were sued for $3,000. Perez was arrested here yesterday in connection with the case. He was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and released on $100 bond.

Sophia Loren

Silvana Mangano

THEY FIGHT, FILM FIRM BUSTS - Because sultry Italian movie stars Sophia Loren, left, and Silvana Mangano battled over which would star in a picture about Indochina, Italy's biggest movie company has broken up. It was the Ponti-De Laurentis Film Co. Carlo Ponti, 42, the steady date of Sophia, 20, insisted that she get the stellar role. But his partner, Dino De Laurentis, happens to be Silvana's husband, and was determined that his wife get the plum. So Ponti and Sophia went one way and De Laurentis and his Silvana the other. Both sides are racing to be the first to produce the Indochina film.

Duke's Famed Ace To Address Alumni

Clarence (Ace) Parker, of the Duke University athletic department, will address the annual meeting of the Harnett County unit of the Duke Alumni Association on Wednesday night, February 1 in Dunn.

C. Grayson Biggs of Lillington, president of the former Duke students, explained that the annual gathering which customarily is held each Fall, was postponed until now in order to secure Parker, one of football's all time greats, to address the group.

Parker, a former all American football player, is now head baseball coach at Duke, and also is backfield coach of the Duke Blue Devils. He is expected to speak on the Duke Athletic department.

The alumni gathering will take the form of a dinner at 7:30 p. m. at Johnson's Restaurant. Biggs said. Notices were mailed yesterday to all Duke alumni in the county.

Last year Duke alumni heard Dr. James T. Cleland of the divinity school speak at a similar gathering. In 1953, Dean McClain of the Duke Law School was the guest speaker.

Officers of the Duke group in addition to Biggs are: R. S. Williams, Erwin, vice-president; Fred Thomas, Erwin, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Sarah Lockhardt, Dunn-alumnae representative.

Benson Chamber Set For Banquet

Charles L. McCullers, who is scheduled to speak at Dunn's Chamber of Commerce banquet, is also to be the principal speaker at Benson.

The Benson Chamber will hold its annual banquet this Friday. McCullers, executive vice-president of Kinston's Chamber and well-known throughout the state, will deliver a talk on accomplishment and aims of the organization.

Benson's Mrs. Elizabeth Ferguson, manager for the Chamber, reports that the banquet is to hold in the high school lunchroom on Friday, Jan. 27, starting at 7 p. m.

McCullers will be introduced by C. C. Cannady, Benson attorney, presentation of the annual "Citizen of the Year" award will be made by last year's winner, S. P. Honeycutt. A secret committee is currently deliberating on who shall receive (Continued On Page Two)

Angier Votes For Town Hall

These Little Things By HOOVER ADAMS

Citizens of Angier went to the polls yesterday and approved by a vote of 134 to 16 the issuance of $40,000 in municipal bonds for the erection of a modernistic new town hall which will also include facilities for a proposed city courtroom.

Glaoui Dies; Had Harem Of 1,200 Girls

RABAT, Morocco - The pasha of Marrakech, who a massed $25 million and a harem of 1,200 women, died Monday.

The pasha, Hadj Thami el Glaoui, 85, was absolute ruler of some three million Berber tribesmen and helped France rule Morocco for the last 40 years.

Abstemious about food, the pasha dined off gold, owned four magnificent palaces and filled them with women.

27 Nights in a Club He once flew in a troupe of British chorus girls for a one-night stand. In 1952, the aged pasha was so impressed by one Paris night club specializing in nudes that he went to the show 27 nights in a row.

pasha acquired a large share of foreign oil and mining in his domain. He owned half the resort city of Marrakech.

LITTLE NOTES ABOUT PEOPLE AND THINGS

The new offices of Doctors Randolph Deffermyre, Charlie Byrd and Bill Lilly will be among the swankiest in this part of the State. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Johnson attended the big Gift Market showing in Charlotte this week.

Henrietta said the new gifts are "out of this world." She bought heavily for her shoes, too. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mahone were also there visiting their son, Earl, Jr., manager of Charlotte's big Merchandise Mart.

And suddenly everywhere in Dunn people answers to the nickname of "Dick." It's an old Broadslab greeting. So now, the Dunn Broadslabbers address each other as "Big Dick," "Little Dick" or just plain "Dick."

Who sez business isn't good? Grover Henderson reports he had the best day Monday that he's had on any day other than Saturday or Christmas Eve in his more than a quarter of a century in Dunn.

And Manager Earl Foreman of Fife's in Erwin says Saturday was the best day he's had since Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, incidentally, are getting ready to attend the Fish Point furniture market.

While they're away, Robby will look after Quinn's for his dad and his pretty new bride, Kathryn, will look after the Henderson household. "I'm getting time started off right," laughed Mrs. Henderson. "I just love to go to the furniture market," she said. "We always have a wonderful (Continued On Page Two)

Sister Of Former Dunn Minister Died Monday

Dr. Emily Gardner, 56, Richmond, Va., pediatrician and chairman of the City Board of Health since 1953, died Monday night in a Richmond hospital.

She was the first woman ever to head Richmond's Board of Health and was named in 1951 by Governor Battle to the State Board of Medical Examiners.

Dr. Gardner was a former vice president of the Richmond Academy of Medicine and was assistant (Continued On Page Three)

Over 8,000 Given Free Chest X-Ray

Response to the county-wide free chest x-ray campaign was excellent, Dr. W. B. Hunter, county health officer, said today.

During the past two weeks, 8,103 Harnett County citizens stepped into two trailer-trucks for free chest X-rays. The campaign was sponsored jointly by the State Board of Health, the county health department and the Harnett Tuberculosis Association.

Already cards, noting results of the examinations, are being mailed daily from the county health office in Lillington as fast as reading of the plates are received from the State Board of Health. All persons with unsatisfactory X-rays will be notified by the county health department to report for a second X-ray. The county (Continued on Page Two)

+ Record Roundup +

IF TROUBLE - Three ham radio operators - Charles T. Hildreth, Russell Bassford and Bill Miles - have informed Civil Defense they have permission from the government to operate very high frequency equipment in an emergency. During hurricanes last summer and fall, the "hams" stayed on duty almost 24 hours a day, assisting in the relay of messages from one part of the state to the other.

NEW POLICEMAN - J. M. Joyce, 32, formerly an officer on the Fayetteville and Carthage police forces, has joined the Dunn force. Chief Alton Cobb has announced. Chief Alton Cobb has announced. Chief Alton Cobb has announced. Chief Alton Cobb has announced.

Teenagers Terrorize Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) - A stabbing capped a week of shocking "wolf gang" attacks Tuesday night and police ordered the pickup of every Chicago teenager with a police record.

The unprecedented roundup was touched off by the murder of William McNeff, 20, on a west side sidewalk.

12-Inch Blade Into Heart Four youths jumped McNeff and a friend at the entrance of a restaurant. While McNeff pleaded "For God's sake, don't use that blade," one of the toughs plunged a 12-inch switchblade knife into his heart.

The killing was the latest in a series of "wolf gang" attacks which have shocked Chicago in the past week. On Sunday night, a gang of teenagers pulled a semi-pro football player, 18-year old Donald Stevens from his car and beat him unmercifully with a wrench. The same gang swaggered along south west side streets that night, "jumping" anybody who came along, police said.

YOUTH CLUB TEACHER Last week, two 16-year olds clubbed a teacher into unconsciousness in an elementary school corridor.

Hours after the McNeff murder Deputy Uniformed Police Chief Robert Ryan ordered the mass pickup of teen-agers.

"Bring 'em in as fast as you can find 'em on the streets," he told his men. "I'm putting an end to this terrible situation right now." Roundups of known criminals are routine in Chicago police annals. But this was the first time that a blanket pickup order had (Continued on Page Two)
