

WEATHER

Fair to partly cloudy and cold Wednesday. High 45 to 52. Thursday cloudy and rather cold with occasional rain likely, beginning southwest portion Wednesday night.

The Daily Record

THE RECORD IS FIRST

VOLUME 6

TELEPHONES 3117-3118

DUNN, N. C., WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 1, 1956

FIVE CENTS PER COPY

NO. 40

HUMPHREY SAYS TAX CUT NEEDED

COOK ANYTHING HERE — Members of the Women's Auxiliary who looked over Dunn Hospital facilities Tuesday openly admired the pleasant assortment of pots and pans. Left to right are Mrs. Howard Dixon, Mrs. J. E. Young, Mrs. C. L. Corbett, Mrs. Pat Lynch, Jr. and Mr. Paul Green, hospital administrator. (DAILY RECORD PHOTO BY TED CRAIG.)

ASSISTANT WELFARE AIDE NAMED, BUT

Mrs. Ritchey Declines Post

These Little Things

By Hoover Adams

DUNN GROWS, FRANCES WINS; SEXY JAYNE.

Dunn will soon have its first legal building. Attorney J. A. McLeod and his son, Attorney Max McLeod, are erecting a handsome new office building right behind Lanky's bicycle shop, facing Cumberland Street. Yes, this Broadside town is growing. Golly, but ain't it wonderful to be the capitol of Broadside! The new offices in the Purdie Building, upstairs over Muse Super Market, are among the nicest in town. It's the only office building in town with 24-hour elevator service, an automatic job. Glynis us a multi-ed tour of the handsome new building yesterday. Ed showed us how you can stop the elevator between floors and cut off the light — just in case you have your girl friend alone. Brother, that's guaranteed, iron-clad privacy and no doubt about it. "Hain't thought about that one," we told Ed. Mr. and Mrs. James (Gardner's Dairy) Surles had a wonderful time at the dairymen's convention last week at the swank Hotel Carolina in Pinehurst. "It's really the only place for a convention around here," said James, "never had such wonderful food in all my life." And Jim has eaten at all the famous spots around the nation, too. Frances did herself real proud at the convention. During a bridge tournament for the gala, Frances not only won the door prize but walked away with two top bridge prizes. Members of her Novus Bridge Club will probably be jealous. (Continued On Page Two)

IN FRANCE, IT'S LOVE, LOVE LOVE — AND CRIME!

'L'Amour' Drives Frenchmen Wild; Bring Passion Crimes

PARIS — January, with its cold gloomy weather, produced a fine crop of that great old French specialty, "Le Crime Passionnel." A "crime of passion" may include anything from statutory rape to a multiple massacre as long as "L'Amour" has something to do with it. Items chronicled by the Paris press over a two-day period include the following: At Angouleme an Algerian workman stabbed pretty Jeannine Auxire, a 27-year-old workman's wife and the mother of three children, because she refused to become his mistress. Struck four times in the heart she died almost immediately while her 3 1/2-year-old daughter looked on. ADMITS CHILD HIS In Paris a factory worker named Alexandre Durand, aged 28, replied to an anonymous letter telling him that his wife Denise, aged 25, was the mistress of one Lucien Tournel, aged 38, the father of six children. His wife admitted that one of their two children was the son of Tournel. Durand made a date to meet Tournel and talk things over. But he took his father-in-law, Maurice Bailard, with him for safety's sake. Bailard took a gal along with him for safety's sake. When Tournel jumped Durand and began to beat him Bailard calmly shot Tournel in the liver. (Continued On Page Seven)

Adlai Hears Sour Note Of Party Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — An important Democrat has sounded a sour note a few blocks from the White House on the political aspirations of Adlai E. Stevenson.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan told the National Press Club yesterday that Stevenson's "moderation" campaign "simply will not do." He urged Stevenson to take a "bold and courageous line."

And on Sunday he said in a televised interview he couldn't support Stevenson on the basis of his campaign record so far.

Williams, four times governor of Michigan, has been mentioned as a possible presidential or vice presidential nominee. And one of his principal political allies is Walter Reuther, AFL-CIO vice president and president of the United Automobile Workers Union.

Other political developments:

1. President Eisenhower's name will be entered in the New Jersey presidential primary. New Jersey election laws do not require consent of a candidate for entry of his name in the April 17 election.

2. George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Russia, announced organization of a Stevenson-for-president committee in New Jersey.

3. Heart specialist Paul Dudley White said his next examination of the President will be "sometime between February 10 and February 15 depending on when I get a call from the White House." (The President's second term plans are expected to hinge on the results of the examination.)

4. The acting chairman of the congressional Economic Committee charged administration policies have promoted "galloping inflation" of big business prices and profits. Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.) said meanwhile farmers and small businessmen are suffering "severe deflation."

5. Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R- (Continued On Page Seven)

THE NEW MUSE SUPER MARKET HARNETT'S LARGEST INDEPENDENT FOOD STORE

Muse Super Market Opens For Gala Four-Day Event

Janet Dean Wins Girl Scout Honor

Janet Dean, Lillington Girl Scout, last night was announced as one of the four senior Scouts selected from the five county area composed of Harnett, Hoke, Moore, Lee and Chatham Counties to attend the National Girl Scout Round-Up this summer at Pontiac, Mich. Other winners of the coveted honor were: Phyllis Garzik of Southern Pines; Sandra Jo Allen of Carthage, and Mackie Wood of Sanford. They will be among the (Continued On Page Two)

Mayor Ralph Hanna and many others were on hand today for the opening of the Muse Super Market on West Broad Street at 3 p. m. The mayor presided at the ribbon-cutting as Dunn had its first "official look" at the new market.

Side-walk superintendents have already scanned the building pretty thoroughly while revamping and stocking operations have been going on, and announce it good. The four-day opening will last through Saturday. Owner-operator Locke Muse has announced he will open at 8:30 daily, after today, and this week will keep the store open until 8 p. m. each night. Next week it will go on regular business hours.

Today's crowds were registering for a chance at the 21-inch Sylvania TV set — a $400 console model — which is to be given away free. It was provided by Wilbourne Furniture Co. of Dunn and Lillington. Fifty food-baskets and 1000 smaller gifts will also be distributed by the new market.

FREE REFRESHMENTS Refreshments will be served throughout the afternoon to all who come to buy or just inspect. Locke Muse has said he will use chain-store methods, with less than chain-store prices, in running his supermarket.

His long experience in the field qualifies him to make good on that, and his many friends in the area will be glad to see him do so. The supermarket is totally modern, right down to the color scheme, which is dusty rose, blue, misty green and white. Shoppers entering the store can select a cart and shop first in the large produce department.

Three large counters in this department are specially equipped to keep produce fresh and crisp for shoppers. There is also plenty of eye-appeal, brilliant mirror-images of the vegetables showing it up from both sides. Muse said he has arranged the store with customer convenience in mind, keeping the aisles wide and the arrangements of products logical. Three check-out counters are at the right, in front of the store, to provide speedy service throughout the day.

HE GETS READY LOS ANGELES (AP) — Abraham Rappoport, 67, threatened his estranged wife, Sophie, 58, that he would pay $1,800 for his own burial crypt and funeral.

HE WAS DOING MAMBO WASHINGTON (AP) — Juvenile Court Judge Edith H. Cockrill ordered U. S. Marshall to pick up a gay father for non-support of his family.

ELEVEN PLUS THREE — Mrs. Hulda Vos, a 39-year-old grandmother, poses with her newly-born triplets in a Pittsburgh (Pa.) hospital. Mrs. Vos, one of 11 children, is the mother of 11 other children and has three grandchildren. She was divorced from her husband last July.

Record Roundup

MARRIAGE LICENSE — A marriage license was issued on January 27 from the office of the registrar of deeds in Lillington to Robert Madison Watson, 35, of Jacksonville, and Mabelle Sanderfer Mooney, 35, of Lillington.

WORLD AFFAIRS CONFERENCE — The annual conference on World Affairs sponsored by various State civic organizations will convene on Thursday, Feb. 9 in Chapel Hill. Mrs. Martha Branscombe, head of the social science bureau of the United Nations, will talk on "Achieving World Peace Through Social Service." Paul Green will speak on "Our Role in This Revolutionary World." Registration fee is one dollar and the conference will open at 9:30 a. m. Citizenship and international relations leaders in the home demonstration clubs are urged by Miss Thelma Hinson, home agent to make plans to attend. The N. C. Federation of (Continued On Page Three)

ELEVEN PLUS THREE — Mrs. Hulda Vos, a 39-year-old grandmother, poses with her newly-born triplets in a Pittsburgh (Pa.) hospital. Mrs. Vos, one of 11 children, is the mother of 11 other children and has three grandchildren. She was divorced from her husband last July.

Army Is Large Enough, Says Sect. Brucker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey said today taxes should be reduced as soon as possible because they are curtailing incentive — "the very basis of our freedom."

In line with administration policy of putting debt reduction first, Humphrey offered no time-table for cutting taxes. But he said a "money incentive" is the free economy's answer to the "do-it-or-else" philosophy of the "slave state."

"Our taxes are very high and they ought to be reduced as soon as we can do so and still provide the necessary protection to our economy," the treasury secretary said.

WATCH ON CREDIT

Humphrey also said he believes the credit situation "should be watched" although he does not consider it dangerous now.

He added, however, that "we can't have too many people owing too much money or we'll get into trouble." He urged individuals to weigh their own ability to pay before plunging into new installment debt.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said today the administration is maintaining a "sufficiently large" Army for a "proper margin of safety" in the cold war.

He also told a National Press Club lunch that it is a "dangerous myth" to believe that wars can be won by remote control with push buttons and soldiers still would play the major role in any future war.

Brucker's statement on the Army's size appeared to be a direct contradiction of recent charges by Gen. Matthew Ridgway, former chief of staff, in a series of magazine articles that it is being neglected in overemphasis on air and atomic power.

Purdie Offices Open To Public Tonight

The 19 modern new air-conditioned offices in the new Purdie Building, which houses Muse Super Market, are being thrown open this afternoon and tonight for inspection by the public.

This handsome new building is owned by Ed and Johnnie Purdie of Purdie Brothers. The wholesale company occupied that location from 1903 until it moved into its handsome new building on the Fayetteville highway a year ago.

AMONG FINEST Offices in this new building are among the finest in the area. (Continued On Page Seven)

Wagons Once Drove Through Muse Market

Though public interest is bound to center around the coming award of a Sylvania TV set and other prizes, the opening of the new Muse Supermarket today also holds other significance.

Broad Street, in downtown Dunn, has often had more grocery stores than it has now. The new market will provide an additional — and very large — shopping center for the crowds which stay on the main stem.

The building which houses the new market, with a few business offices being located upstairs, is across from the Post-Office and near The Sugs Co. and Cad Upchurch's.

Brilliantly lighted and completely modernized, it is "a sight changed," as someone said of the building which Purdie Bros. moved out of a year and a half ago.

The original building was put up in 1903, by the fathers of the present Purdie Bros. It was intended for wholesale groceries, and it was once possible to drive a wagon right through it, picking up goods on the way through.

Ownership remains in the hands of the Purdie Bros., who are leasing it to Locke Muse. Though it was not large enough for the needs (Continued On Page Three)

Chamber Banquet Tomorrow Night

Speculation about the man and woman of the year awards will come to an end tomorrow night when the Dunn Chamber of Commerce throws its annual banquet at the high school cafeteria.

One of the most dramatic events of the evening will be the presentation of these awards to a local man and woman, chosen in private by a secret committee. The "Young Man of the Year," a Jaycee award, will also be named at the banquet.

Principal speaker tomorrow night will be Charles McCullers, widely known officer of the Chamber of Commerce, who is the executive vice-president of the Kingston C

Speaking at Benson last week, McCullers told a Chamber audience there that the town should look within and not without for support and progress in industry and other developments that can help the town to build itself.

It is expected he will have a somewhat similar message for Dunn which, like Benson, is interested in attracting and building industry (Continued On Page Four)