

Mahone, Mrs. Johnson, Godwin Get Awards

The Daily Record

THE RECORD
IS FIRST

WEATHER
Cloudy, occasional rain or drizzle tonight and Saturday. Somewhat colder north portion tonight and Saturday.

VOLUME 6 TELEPHONES 3117-3118 DUNN, N. C., FRIDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 3, 1956 FIVE CENTS PER COPY NO. 42

U. S. BRITAIN COLD TO NEW LETTER

Dunn Citizens Of The Year

EARL H. MAHONE, MRS. NATHAN M. JOHNSON, SR., O. W. (BILL) GODWIN, JR.

Annual Banquet Is Staged Here Last Nite

Dunn citizens last night reviewed the progress of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year and paid its highest honor to the three citizens who have contributed most in the way of public service to the community during 1955.

Earl H. Mahone, vice president of the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company, was presented a trophy as Dunn's "Man of The Year." Mrs. Nathan M. Johnson Sr., prominent civic, social and religious leader, received the trophy as Dunn's "Woman Of The Year." O. W. (Bill) Godwin, Jr., president of the huge Godwin Building Supply Company and a leader in practically every phase of community affairs, received the Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award as "Young Man of The Year."

POPULAR CHOICES
All three were popular choices for the town's top civic honors and their selection was hailed throughout the city. Each of them rendered exceptionally outstanding and meritorious public service during 1955, as well as during previous years. Mrs. Johnson's round-the-clock service as head of Dunn's participation in the Harnett Centennial Celebration, was one of the factors which capped the honor for her.

Coats Soldier Hurt In Wreck

Master Sgt. Charles T. Weaver of Coats was removed to Ft. Bragg hospital Thursday afternoon by ambulance following a wreck around 1:30 p. m. near Harmony Baptist Church on highway 210, a few miles south of Lillington.

Sheriff Claude R. Moore said investigating officers found the four wheels of Weaver's car in the air and the vehicle upside down across the highway. No other car was involved. The sheriff said apparently Weaver, who was driving alone, had headed in the direction of Coats from Ft. Bragg. His condition is reported critical.

Sergeant Weaver was attached to the Headquarters Battery 285 of the Field Artillery Observation Battalion, Ft. Bragg.

These Little Things

BY HOOVER ADAMS

LONNIE, TEEN-DANCING DOC JAMES AND A DOLL

The Chamber of Commerce banquet turned out to be a great night for the Methodists. Dunn's Man, Woman and Young Man of the Year are all Methodists. The invocation was given by the Rev. J. W. Lineberger, local Methodist pastor. Norman Suttles, a Methodist, presented the award to Methodist Billy Godwin, the Young Man of the Year.

Earl Mahone and Mrs. Nathan M. Johnson, Sr., the other two honorees, are Methodists, and so is the speaker of the evening, Charlie McCullers of Kingston.

Truman Says Nixon Makes Him Mad Enough To Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Truman said today that whenever he thinks of the fact that Vice President Richard M. Nixon has called him a traitor, "I not only swear, I want to punch somebody."

He told newsmen during his morning walk that although he had known Nixon in Congress he had refused to see him since Nixon so characterized him. "I won't see him," he said. "It would just start a fight."

The matter was raised when a reporter mentioned that Truman used strong language in a radio and television speech last night referring to charges that he and Gen. George C. Marshall were "traitors." He interpolated into his prepared speech the remark that if that were true, "this country is sure in a hell of a fix."

Chamber Had Busy Year In '55

Laying of groundwork for the new Bien Jolie plant and duce Auction Co., a new yam market, were among the advances on the local business front cited at last night's annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce.

It was a year in which Ed Carroll, for some months the manager of the Chamber, came and went, and during which Hubert Peay selected as the man of the year for last year was named to head the Finer Carolina program.

The Ground Observers Corps made headway under the impetus of Carroll's leadership and when the manager left, Corky Cretini took over where he left off. The first state vocational agriculture land judging meet was held in Dunn in '55.

The Centennial celebration was planned and carried through with much local excitement and a good

Record Roundup

TO SPEAK MONDAY—Dr. R. S. Dearstyne, W. G. Andrews, and Tom Morris, poultry specialists from N. C. State Extension Service, will speak on Monday at 2 p. m. in the courthouse auditorium in Lillington. They will bring recent information in poultry production of various types. The meeting is open to the public.

TALK OPEN—The address Dr. Charles Corroll, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will give on Monday night at the school house in Lillington will be open to the public. Dr. Corroll's appearance in Harnett County is sponsored by the county Unit of the N. C. Education Association. Mrs. Kitty Byerly

(Continued on Page Six)

Four Children Die In Blaze

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—Four children died today when fire gutted their frame shack home near here while their mother was at work.

(Continued on Page Two)

Mission Rally Set For Local Church

The Rev. H. M. Harrison, pastor of the Assembly of God Revival Center in Durham, N. C. will be guest speaker at a Home Missions Rally to be held at Glad Tidings Assembly of God in Dunn, Monday evening, February 6, at 7:45. The service is being staged simultaneously with some 300 other such rallies throughout the United States.

Theme of the local rally which kicks off the Assemblies of God drive to complete the 1,000 church crusade this year, will be "Every Church Help Start Another Church."

During 1955 the Home Missions Department of the denomination, with headquarters in Springfield, Missouri, assisted in the establishment of some 400 new churches. Additional churches have been added to the Assemblies of God at the rate of more than one each day for the past 10 years.

Participating in the local rally will be Calvary Assembly of God and Burn Street Assembly of God from Fayetteville, Barborton Assembly of God, First Church of the Assemblies of God of Raleigh, As-

(Continued on Page Two)

MANAGER C. C. AMOS

GOOD BOSS FIDDLE MAN, TOO

Leder Bros. Hires Youthful Manager

Arriving yesterday morning from Whiteville where he stopped for a visit at the headquarters of Leder Bros., C. C. Amos immediately started on his new job as manager of the branch in Dunn.

His immediate reaction to Dunn, which he had never visited, and to this section of North Carolina, which he hadn't seen, was, "I like the looks of it. I like what I see here."

First thing on his planning list, following a day getting acquainted with the staff and store, was preparation for moving his family to Dunn. They are now in Danville, Va., waiting for him to clear the way for them.

The 33-year-old manager has two children—Mike, 4, and third-grader Janice, who is 10. His wife's name is Connie. In the retail clothing business since the age of 15 or 16 — his first job was as a shoe salesman with a firm in Danville—this will be Amos' first job with Leder Bros. For six years, he has been manager of a retail store in Greenwood, South Carolina.

At Greenwood, he had a term as secretary and treasurer of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and

(Continued on Page Two)

Last Minute News Shorts

WASHINGTON — The United States and Britain have spurned Russia's new offer of friendship treaties. Britain's rejection was issued by Prime Minister Eden at a news conference.

WASHINGTON — Air Force officials briefing a jet-age aviation conference have hinted this country's bombers now patrol the skies equipped with atomic bombs.

WASHINGTON — Senator says attorney offered him $2,700 campaign gift in mistaken belief he would vote for natural gas bill.

BUENOS AIRES — La Prensa resumes operations with greatest

(Continued on Page Three)

See No Value In Russia's Peace Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain today cold-shouldered Russia's latest proposal for separate 20-year friendship pacts with the Big Three.

Britain's position was set forth by Prime Minister Anthony Eden. He told a Washington news conference he sees no value in a British-Soviet treaty so soon after a similar 20-year pact was "torn up" by Russia. Moscow last year broke off non-aggression pacts with Britain and France.

Eden declined to comment on the broad aspects of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's latest letter to President Eisenhower since it was not addressed to him. Eden said, "The answer clearly must come from you, and I have every confidence in the answer."

Diplomatic sources were certain the American answer will be another polite but firm "no"—path-torn after the original rejection of Bulganin's proposal, contained in a new 3,000-word letter to the President yesterday.

Confer With Allies
The President studied the letter at his Gettysburg farm. He and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be in touch with Allied leaders before the American reply is sent to Moscow.

Erwin Scouts Received Awards

The Boy Scouts Court of Honor was held last night at 7:00 at the Ft. Stephen's Episcopal Parish House in Erwin.

At the Court of Honor session, scouting awards were made to the following scouts of Troop 54 of Erwin:

Second Class awards went to Messie Godwin, Bruce Ryals, James Wilson, Paul McLanahan, Jerome Pope, Kenneth Pope and Edward Pope.

Leslie Clark received a merit badge for safety. Others who received merit badges were Jessie Godwin, safety and firemanship; Dale Butler, safety and firemanship; Earl Moore, Wild Life management and Public Health; J. W. Warren, Safety & Firemanship; Dale Butler, Farm Home and Its Planning; Mike Beard, Weather; Joseph Johnson, Weather; Eugene Pope, citizenship in the community and citizenship in the home.

Joe Johnson, who is scoutmaster of Troop 54, has the following assistants: Eugene Pope, Assistant scoutmaster; Tom Cameron, Assistant Scoutmaster; Roger Scrabbs, Junior Assistant scoutmaster.

E. L. Sewell, Ray D. Caldwell, James Bost, C. L. Taylor, and Dr. W. E. Adair, troop physician, serve on the troop committee.

W. H. Taylor, Sr., advancement chairman, presented the awards at last night's meeting.

Broadslab Salute Is Set

Saturday night will be "Broadslab Night" on James Thornton's big hour-long "Country Style TV" show over the Durham television station, WTVB, from 11 to 12 p. m. A group of leading Dunn citizens will appear on the big TV show—largest live TV show in the two Carolinas—to welcome visitors to Dunn for "Broadslab Day," tentatively set for Feb. 17th.

DUNN'S THE CAPITOL
Dunn is planning a big celebration on "Broadslab Day" to welcome citizens of the new Broadslab section of Dunn into the city limits. Two weeks ago Thornton, the honorary mayor of Broadslab, officially moved the capitol of Broadslab from Benson to Dunn on invitation of Mayor Ralph E. Hanna.

This took place after the Benson Chamber of Commerce wrote the

BROADSLAB'S MAYOR THORNTON

REV. H. M. HARRISON