under the law they should have been listed. None of the dogs according to Wells, had been vaccinated. There was the corollary charge that the dogs were not wearing the collar and tags as prescribed by law.

Grocerydom

Clara Lee, a Checker at the Piggly Wiggly store in Dunn, has many customers who buy that much and more every time they come to shop. There is even a lady, who keeps a home for teachers near Buie's Creek, whose shopping list frequently runs more than forty dollars. Last summer, when the Youth Camp at Falcon was operating, Checkers nimbly ran off bills between a hundred and two hundred dollars.

This happens to be the week that the giant Piggly Wiggly chain is celebrating its 35th anniversary. It is also very near the time when the Dunn branch of Piggly Wiggly will have completed its fourth year of service to its customers. And perhaps not by coincidence, the Checkers in Piggly Wiggly stores all across the nation are involved in a very special kind of contest.

Billy Rose Sets Date With Joyce

NEW YORK — Bantam Broadway showman Billy Rose and blonde Joyce Mathews have finally set the date for their wedding — April 2 at Billy's sprawling Mount Kisco estate.

This was disclosed yesterday by Joyce who is recovering at Doctors Hospital from an emergency appendectomy performed last Thursday. Billy, who has been wooing Joyce, ex-wife of Milton Berle, for five years, gave her an 11-carat diamond.

Suppose you were a Checker, for a moment. Could you keep it straight in your mind that Lux bath-size bars are two-for-twenty-three, Lifebuoy two-for-twenty-seven, Swan three-for-twenty-six, Dial two-for-twenty-seven, Ivory three-for-twenty-six, Sweetheart three-for-twenty-seven, Palmolive three-for-twenty-six? You couldn't? But a lot of checkers have. Those figures are from one tiny corner of Clara Lee's memory, and there are thousands of other figures she has mastered in the period she has been working. Many products are marked, but many aren't, and it takes a mighty good Checker to ripple along, never — or hardly ever — unsure of a price.

No wonder the Supermarket Institute decided that perhaps the Checker should be glorified little with a contest. When 10 regional winners go to Cleveland later this year, they will be given a series of tests on personality, speed and accuracy in checking out a standard order. The Institute obviously hopes that this will help to dramatize the very real skill involved in this everyday occupation.

Lee has been working as a Checker several months. Doris Altman is an old hand, and has been at it four years. It's not as easy a job as you might think.

Mistress Of Mussolini Is Reburied

ROME, Italy (AP) — A motor-hearse today carried the body of Claretta Petacci, mistress of Benito Mussolini, to Rome for reburial after a secret exhumation from a grave in a Milan cemetery.

Authorities granted relatives permission to transfer the body to Rome's Verano cemetery almost 11 years after Miss Petacci was "executed" with the Fascist dictator by partisans.

A tall statue of Miss Petacci, the face turned upwards to the sky and the arms fully extended behind the back, already has been set in place over the newly-dug grave.

Luncheon Head, Bragg Engineer Receive Honor

The keeper of the school luncheon at Anderson Creek and an operating engineer of Fort Bragg have been named by the Anderson Creek Ruritan Club as man and woman of the year.

Mrs. Louise Wilson and Capt. Saunders were named for the honor by virtue of "outstanding personal and civic qualities."

Saunders, who has been an operating engineer for the Fort Bragg Post Engineers for the past 14 years, is a native of Newton in Catawba County. For the past ten years, he has lived in Anderson Creek.

Gas Fumes Kill 6 In One Family

NEW YORK (AP) — Six members of a Brooklyn family died today in their gas filled basement apartment and a seventh was fighting for her life in a hospital.

and King last weekend, Joyce revealed. Billy, who formerly was wed to the late Fanny Brice and to swim star Eleanor Holm, will be Joyce's third husband. Her first was Col. Gonzalo Gomez, son of the late Juan Vincent Gomez, Venezuela dictator. They were divorced in 1940. Joyce and Berle were married and divorced twice.

Joyce was named by Eleanor as the other woman in her divorce suit. The romance of Joyce, 36, and Billy, 56, became generally known in July 1951 when Joyce slashed a wrist and threatened to jump from Billy's apartment atop the Ziegfeld Theatre, Sixth Ave. and 54th St. That incident, at which Billy made the no wclass comment that "now is the time for a man to have a wife," uncovered a flying trip to Canada by Joyce and Billy. Rose used his real name of William Samuel Rosenberg, for the occasion.

Miss Holm later had Billy's apartment raided, got a divorce and $30,000 annual alimony, one of the largest ever in this state, plus $200,000, tax free, to be paid to her over a 10-year period.

Among those from Dunn attending the State W. M. U. convention in Winston-Salem this week were: Mrs. E. P. Russell, Mrs. R. A. Dunson, Sr., Lillian Draughton, Mrs. H. A. Westbrook, Mrs. R. J. Deany, Mrs. L. C. Maynard, Mrs. H. Paul Strickland, and Mrs. C. D. Bain.
