Sen. Kefauver Was Served A "Mickey"

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP) - Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) was served a "Mickey" at a smorgasbord here yesterday.

The senator dropped in on a dinner sponsored by the Manchester Democratic Women's Club. A photographer snapped him loading his plate, but the Tennessee Democrat was just about to take a mouthful when he got an earful.

"You've got your nerve coming here," said Mrs. Madeline Gladu, vice president of the Democratic state committee. "This is supposed to be non-partisan."

Kefauver protested that he had been invited. Mrs. Gladu, wearing a large Stevenson button, said that if the Illinois presidential aspirant "were here we'd give him the biggest party this town's ever seen. He wouldn't have to crash in."

"It's not my fault that he isn't here," Kefauver said. Other women demanded that Kefauver ordered the photographer turn over his plates. The senator refused.

"I have no control over the press," he said. "I wouldn't exercise it if I did."

Kefauver told newsmen later that "this is a sample of the pressure being put on in New Hampshire to elect Stevenson delegates."

Men Don't Know How To Comb Their Hair
CHICAGO (AP) - Men don't know how to comb their own hair, according to a beautiful blond beautician.

Mrs. Mary Jorgenson said men are in a coudure rut. Some plaster it down with grease or water, some part it on the wrong side and others, who ought to, don't part it at all.

She said "men, like women, should brush their hair every night." Only 50 strokes will suffice men as compared to 100 for the girls.
