STATE'S NIGHT CLASSES PROVING POPULAR

Susan Black, Talented Dunn Mother, Continues Art Study

By PEGGY CHEARS

RALEIGH — Mrs. J. Edgar Black, Jr. of Dunn travels to North Carolina State College once a week to study art.

An attractive brunette, Mrs. Black is one of a growing number of North Carolinians who have turned to painting and to other phases of art as a leisure-time hobby. Attendance in classes, offered by the North Carolina State College Extension Division, indicates that this trend is gaining momentum.

DOING NICELY

One night each week during the current series of evening classes at North Carolina State, Mrs. Black leaves her two children at home in Dunn with Mr. Black, and she heads for Raleigh, where she is studying drawing under Prof. Leslie J. Laskey of the college's School of Design faculty.

"Not only do I enjoy the classes, but it also gives me an opportunity for a night out," commented Mrs. Black with a smile.

And Mrs. Black is progressing nicely with her work in the field of art.

"Thus far," she said, "I've done pencil sketches and worked with tempera paints and brushes."

DUKE, TERRY, MERRITT, GIRDLES AND THE IRISH

Uncle George Upchurch bought himself a new Chrysler New York Saturday from Guy Stewart's Coats Motor Company. Uncle George is a man who believes in driving a new car and he trades once or twice a year—everytime a new improvement is made by Chrysler or anytime he can get a good deal. "The old one was worn out," declared Uncle George. "Yep, it had 3,900 miles on it," he laughed. He'll get another new Chrysler just as soon as the 1957 models hit the market. W. E. DUCHESS CONTINUES MEMOIRS

Wally Says First Husband A Neurotic

NEW YORK (AP) — The Duchess of Windsor's first marriage to Earl Winfield Spencer Jr., was a matter of love at first sight and disillusion soon after the honeymoon.

In the second installment of her autobiography published today in McCall's magazine, the duchess blames the failure of her marriage to the handsome, dashing naval air officer to "a festering discontent within himself" which gradually transformed Spencer into a "mixed-up neurotic." He turned to alcohol and not to her for solace, she said. Wallis Warfield, the Baltimore Belle, and Spencer, a Chicagoan, (Continued On Page Four)

155 Dead In Worst Storm In 40 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — The death toll rose today to at least 155 persons killed in two weekend storms which swept across the northeastern states.

The death toll from the first, which rolled in from the Midwest on Friday, was 88.

New England states reported 24 deaths in the second storm which blew up along the hurricane path from Cape Hatteras to Cape Cod, paralyzing parts of seven states under one to two feet of snow. Twenty-seven died in New Jersey, nine in Pennsylvania and eight in New York, for a total of 67.

The storm swirled out to sea off New England today, cutting communications withoutly islands, raising dangerous tides along the Massachusetts coast and tossing 11 fishermen into a close brush with death.

Nova Scotia, woke to a new fall of 25 inches of snow this morning from the same low pressure system.

CITIES UNDER SNOW

The weather bureau reported a high of 21 inches of snow at Concord, N. H., 21 inches of snow at Concord, N. H., 21 at Newark, N. J., 18 at Boston and Portland, Me., 20 at Providence and Hartford, 13 20 New York City.

Metropolitan areas from Philadelphia to Boston struggled to sort out tangled transportation systems and stranded citizens under a snow blanket that glittered deceptively on the first day of spring.

The storm was the worst in 40 years through most of the area.

Ike Expected To Veto Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland predicted after a White House conference today that President Eisenhower will veto the Senate-passed farm bill unless it is "modified" by a conference committee.

Knowland and other GOP legislative leaders discussed the farm bill with the President at their weekly legislative conference today, Senate Democrats meanwhile boasted they had won a "back door" victory over the administration in the fight over high price supports in the farm measure.

Knowland said that "everyone, including the President" expressed hope at the White House meeting that the conference committee (Continued On Page Six)

AUCTION WATCHERS — These tense, absorbed faces were typical of the large crowd of farmers on hand at Benson's Hog and Livestock Market yesterday as a "Fat Cattle Sale" was held. Dunn Man Goes To Prison

Dallas Junior Crosland, arrested in Dunn week before last as police cleaned up a break-in at the Big Four warehouse, was sentenced to a total of nine to ten years in prison today in Harnett Superior Court.

Judge William Bickett, who lives in Raleigh and was making his first appearance on the Harnett Superior Court bench, referred to the defendant's recent release after serving seven years for a previous conviction of breaking and entering.

"I'm sorry to have to do this because apparently the other term did you no good," said Judge Bickett, as he sentenced Crosland five to seven years for breaking and entering, and two to three years for larceny of tires.

The highly articulate Judge had comments for several other defendants as their cases came up in the opening session of the two-weeks criminal term.

DAUGHTER FRAMED HIM, HE SAID

Jury Frees Father On Incest Charge

Alonzo McLean, an old and feeble-looking Negro man charged with committing incest with his 19-year-old daughter, was acquitted by the jury in Harnett Superior Court.

The father of 12 children and appearing without a lawyer to defend him in the old clothes he had worn in jail, McLean told the jury he was framed because he refused to pay the bills on the child born to his daughter.

Mary Flora, the 19-year-old daughter who took the stand yesterday to claim that he had first had relations with her when she was 14 years old and was the father of her child born in January, 1955, didn't tell the court the truth, Alonzo said.

She had told him, he claimed, that she had relations with two men and didn't know which of them was the father. The colored man spoke quietly as he met the accusations of incest which had been leveled against him.

It took the jury only 35 or 40 minutes to agree on acquittal. Solicitor Jack Hooks, who prosecuted the case, did not make a final address to the jury. The facts were summed up by Judge William Y. Bickett of Raleigh.

Another case which started yesterday in Superior Court was also concluded this morning when Norman Turpin, who had pled guilty to writing a bad check and signing the name of Vance Ammons when he claimed owed him $300, was given a suspended sentence.

15 AND 16-YEAR-OLD GIRLS PROSTITUTING

Mayor, General Feud Over Bawdy Houses

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The mayor of Danville and the commanding general of nearby Chanute Air Force Base feuded today over whether the town's bawdy houses are corrupting the general's men.

Mayor, Girth N. Hicks called Brig. Gen. A. M. Minton a "publicly seeking, swivel-chair general."

"You look after your camp, general, and we will look after our city," Hicks said in an open letter.

Minton retorted that eight of his airmen had come down with venereal disease after visits to nine brothels in Danville.

He called for an open conference to map plans for protecting his men.

"It is the public responsibility as well as mine to be concerned with the welfare of the 17-20 year old airmen in my command," he said.

The feud boiled up while Hicks was on a visit to Georgia. He returned to find that Minton had called in Sheriff William C. Hendrickson and given him a list of alleged bawdy houses in this city of 38,000 persons, located 40 miles from Chanute.

Hendrickson said he is investigating and he believes a vice syndicate is "bringing in 15 and 16 year old girls to Danville."

But the mayor protested "Danville is a good town to live in. Let he who is without sin cast the first stone."
