

BULLETINS

HOLLYWOOD — Robert Newton, English stage and screen star who won fame for his role of Long John Silver in the film "Treasure Island," died of a heart attack at his home yesterday. He was 50.

ATLANTA — L. H. Lou Moore, who owned or built five Indianapolis Speedway championship cars, died at Grady Hospital yesterday shortly after he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage at Lakewood Park race track. He was 52. Moore, here to supervise the Pontiac team during a 100-mile feature, was regarded as one of racing's top automobile engineers.

KINSTON — The first world's pocket billiard championship held in the South will begin here April 2 with champion Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia defending his crown against seven challengers.

RALEIGH — Warm air from the southwest, replacing a cold mass which brought peach growers heavy damage and a hectic week, blanketed the Carolina peach belt against further harm last night, the weather bureau here said.

ALGIERS — A huge fire believed started by Algerian extremists roared today through the French army gasoline depots in the city of Tlemcen where top military commanders were meeting to map anti-rebel strategy.

LOUISBURG — A visiting committee of Methodist officials will make recommendations to Bishop Paul N. Garber and other Methodist officials. The committee's report will probably decide whether Louisburg will remain here or move to one of other Eastern North Carolina cities seeking it, and whether or not the school will be expanded to a four-year institution.

UNIONTOWN, Pa. — A twin-engine naval plane believed to be a missing anti-submarine patrol craft exploded and crashed in the Monongahela River today in a lonely section of southwestern Pennsylvania. State police here said it was "doubtful" the three men reported aboard the craft survived the crash.

WASHINGTON — Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss) said yesterday that the South is "not going to surrender" on the school segregation issue. Furthermore, he said, the South is "not bluffing" in its threat to abolish public schools rather than submit to racial integration.

HILLSBORO — Curtis Turner of Roanoke, Virginia, increased his lead in the NASCAR convertible division point standings with an easy win in the 100-mile feature race here.

A crowd of about 8,000 fans watched Turner set a new track record for late model cars as he covered the 100 miles in 1:09:29 at an average speed of 86.3 miles per hour.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The Arab states were reported seeking today to postpone the United States move for "urgent and early" Security Council intervention in the Middle East.

LONDON — Britain today branded Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser the No. 1 trouble maker in the Middle East.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Price Daniel said today he is certain two-thirds of the Senate would like to change the electoral college system for choosing a president. However, the Texas Democrat said, "We'll just have to wait until we start voting and see" whether the Senate will do the job by approving any of the proposed constitutional amendments now pending before it.

WASHINGTON — The United States and Russia are racing to get their new propaganda magazines on each other's newsstands first.

RALEIGH, N. C. — Richard Kluckhohn, a University of Chicago graduate student, goes on trial for the second time today in the fatal shooting of a woman government worker, Kluckhohn, 21-year-old son of Harvard University scientists Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Kluckhohn, was sentenced to 5 to 10 years in prison last June after he was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the shooting of Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, of Arlington, Virginia.

school Bible program is badly in need of some financial assistance.

Dunn drug stores are now accepting contributions for the program. Mrs. E. P. Davis, who has devoted much of her time to the project and has done a wonderful job, says the need is really critical. Here's a chance to aid a worthy cause. Mrs. Must Butt says Mrs. Elsie Kirby always knows all the choice gossip in town before anybody else. "I hear a little now and then," she said, "and come down to work thinking that I really know something—and she's known about it for two weeks already." Now we didn't know anybody ever gossiped in this town.

That's really news to us.

Dunn was really filled with Easter shoppers on Saturday. Harnett Representative Carson Gregory is scheduled to move up to the chairmanship of the important House Committee on Agriculture next session. Carson is now vice chairman and the present chairman, Alonzo Edwards, is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor and won't be eligible to serve again.

The Rotary Club in Wallaceburg, Ontario, Canada recently gave a toast to the Dunn Rotary Club. The Rock and Roll Parade is now at the top of the Hit Parade.

There's a new tune called "Small Town" and one line in it says, "Everybody knows what everybody else is doing in a small town." But that isn't true. They just think they know and spread the word as if they really did know. "Wouldn't it be wonderful," said a friend of ours the other day, "if I were really guilty of all I get accused of." "Life would certainly be a lot more fun," she added with a laugh. The crowd that attended Jean Dickey's wedding here Saturday was one of the largest—of the largest—ever to attend a hitching in this town. It was a beautiful wedding, too. A lot of big wheels from Durham were here for the wedding, including Steed Rollins, owner of Durham's two newspapers. Here's a tip, gals, Steed is a young, handsome and very eligible bachelor. And he's got more money than he can ever spend. Those two newspapers are worth several million dollars.

Well, what are you waiting for? After all, it's Leap Year.

BIRTHDAYS: Today is the birthday of George William Jackson and Mrs. James Snipes. Yesterday was the birthday of Jim Walker, Mrs. Meta Godwin, Mrs. Mel McAdams, and Horton Willford. Celebrating on Friday were: Mildred Cannady, Mrs. Ira Lee, Mrs. Mrs. L. D. Ennis, Millie Mann Prince, Mrs. Ralph Wade, Mildred M. Johnson and Cherry Johnson.

THINGAMAJIGS: The current issue of Coronet magazine has a wonderful article on Governor Frank Lausche of Ohio, a very wonderful fellow who would make a great President in our way of thinking.

A Democrat, he's now serving his fifth term as governor in a State that's overwhelmingly Republican. Everybody loves Lausche.

Have you ever noticed how much Pier Angeli and Maria Pavan look alike? They could easily pass for twins. As a matter of fact, they are twins. Their last name is Pierangeli.

Of all the nominees for the Academy Award, Anna Magnani was the least known and least publicized of all of them, not even as well known as those other Italian pin-up "And as normally as possible," Pat put in severely.

They will live both in the Village apartment and in a summer home Smith maintains in Freeport, L. I., where Pat intends to be very domestic, cooking and everything. "And she's a delightful cook," the groom said gallantly.

At Jelke's trial and retrial, which sent him to prison last year, Pat was the state's star witness. She told of having met the heir to the oleomargarine fortune when she was 17 and then, at his instigation becoming one of the most active V-girls in cafe society, entertaining Johns for $50 to $100.

Mickey is currently doing 2-to-3 for having induced Pat into a life of prostitution. With time off for good behavior, he will be eligible for parole next August. In another five years, at the age of 30, he will inherit a $3,000,000 oleo fortune.

For awhile, after Mickey went upriver, Pat took, up with a gay young motorcycle-riding crowd, then dropped out of sight.

Both the feds and state tax people look an interest in getting their cuts on her reported wages of $100. Recently, the State Tax Commission threatened her with contempt action, but dropped it this month when she completed arrangements to pay them $317.34 due for 1953.

Co-Hostesses Entertained At Luncheon

Mrs. R. L. Warren and daughter, Mrs. C. B. Jackson of Burlington entertained at a one o'clock luncheon on Saturday for Miss Jean Dickey and Walter Kenlan, who were married Saturday, and for members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

The luncheon was held at the Warren home on West Harnett Street. White gladioli and mums were attractively arranged throughout the home for the social courtesy.

Miss Dickey was presented a beautiful pink camellia corsage upon her arrival. Later, the hostesses also remembered Miss Dickey with a gift of steak knives.

Guests were invited into the dining room where they were served a delicious three-course luncheon consisting of fruit juice, creamed asparagus, glazed carrots, potato nest, chicken a la king, corned salad, hot biscuits, bridal ices, decorated cake squares, and coffee.

Approximately 35 attended the luncheon.

MR. HODGES HONORED

Mr. Mack F. Hodges was honored on his 72nd birthday Friday with a family birthday dinner given by his wife at their home on North Clinton Ave. Attending the occasion were Mrs. J. B. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Will Holland, Mrs. George Upchurch, Caroline Schwill, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones and son Wayne, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hodges.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mrs. J. M. Barefoot wishes to express their gratitude and appreciation to each and everyone for the many kindnesses shown to them during their bereavement and sorrow. May God bless each of you.

Bids on projects at Smithfield, Princeton and Benson were opened at a meeting of the county school board last Thursday.

Low bids on the three projects totaled $428,714 and ran lower than was anticipated, according to Architect W. W. Hook of Charlotte.

The Smithfield project involved a new elementary school and the Princeton construction included a gymnasium and boiler room.

Hook said that construction on the Benson project would probably be completed by next fall.

CAKE CUTTING Held At Woman's Club

Immediately after the Kenlan-Dickey wedding rehearsal on Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dickey of Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Emory C. Green, Jr. of Greensboro entertained the wedding party, friends, and out-of-town guests at a cake cutting at the Dunn Woman's Club.

The yellow color scheme was predominant in the entrance hall and living room of the clubhouse with profusions of jonquills and daffodils effectively used. Smilax was also decorative on the mantles.

The hosts and hostesses greeted guests at the door and invited them into the dining room. The table held an arrangement of mixed white flowers, and the beautiful four-tiered wedding cake, which was decorated with designs of green white roses to carry out the bridal motif.

After the bridal couple had cut the traditional first slice of the cake, Mrs. R. L. Warren, aunt of the bride, served the remainder to the guests. Miss Maude Lee of Chapel Hill presided at the punch bowl. Mints and nuts were also served. Miss Jo Whitley and Miss Donna Avery of Durham assisted.

Miss Emma Lee David played several musical selections at the piano during the evening.

Approximately 100 persons, including the wedding party, friends, and out-of-town guests, attended the social affair.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Edward Hodges, Jr. of Fairmont, 15-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hodges of Dunn is in critical condition in the Robeson County Memorial Hospital in Lumberton after an accident which occurred on the athletic field in Fairmont. Edward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hodges, Sr., were previously scheduled to arrive here Friday for the birthday dinner of his father.
