REPLACES CLINC — A Pre-School Conference and Registration will be held at Dunn Grammar School, April 9, 10, 11 and 12 from 9:30 to 11 a. m. each day. The purpose, announced District Principal A. B. Johnson, will be to register new pupils, discuss health problems and acquaint parents with the first grade program. Parents should take child's birth certificate and health immunization certificate (if any) to the meeting. The conference will take place of the pre-school clinic held in former years, said Principal Johnson.

AT SUMMERVILLE — An Easter sunrise service will be conducted at Summerville Presbyterian Church, three miles west of Lillington on Sunday, April 1. Young people of the church have made arrangements to present a sound film entitled, "The Resurrection", which will include appropriate scriptures, readings and choral music. The service will begin at 5:15 a. m. and will last for thirty minutes. Visitors will be welcomed, particularly persons who have relatives buried in the adjoining cemetery. Each grave will be marked by a small container filled with water and that morning visitors are asked to bring cut flowers to decorate all graves in the cemetery. However, none of the services will be conducted out-of-doors.

Coats Pitcher Fans Thirteen

Thirteen strike-outs were registered by Coats High pitcher Russell McLean yesterday as his team defeated Lillington 7-4. McLean was wild enough to permit seven walks, but he fanned the batters when he needed to. Opposing pitcher was Lillington's Baggett who struck out two, gave no walks. Lillington had only five hits. Coats 14. Second baseman Bobby Weaver scored two runs for Coats, and Jimmy Johnson, an outsider, did the same for Lillington, to lead the batting.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler retorted that he "amazed at Benson's hypocrisy." And Rep. Frank Chelf (D-Ky.) charged that never had a secretary of agriculture "talked more, bragged more and known less and done less," than Benson. Benson and Aiken joined in predicting President Eisenhower will veto the bill if it goes to the White House with its present price support provisions. But Aiken and GOP House Leader Joseph W.

CITY THROUGH — Dunn is through with its part of the job to lay a water line to the Ben Jolis plant, the garment factory promoted by Dunn Investors which will house a Benjamin Johns operation. City Manager A. B. Uzzle, Jr., announced today that the city was finishing up the water line as far as the city limits and will fill the ditch back in. Dunn Investors will carry the line the rest of the distance.

195 TAGS LEFT — Police have exercised the friendly tap on the shoulder so far, sending a number of Dunn residents flying to the city hall to get city tags for their cars. A crack-down which will take the tagless into court could start at any moment, so better get yours now. A fair number are still neglecting this for the city still has 195 tags to sell. Price is a buck.

REVIVAL SERVICES — A revival will begin at Pleasant Grove Free Will Baptist Church (better known as Old Field Church) between Dunn and Erwin Sunday night, April 1, beginning at 7:30 with the Rev. W. H. Lancaster of Smithfield as the evangelist. A hearty welcome is extended to everyone.

TO FAYETTEVILLE — Mrs. B. P. Gentry went to Fayetteville Tuesday for a short visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Hood and family. She plans to meet her niece, Miss Sue Cobb Bullock of Maxton, in Lillington on Friday for a week end visit in Oxford with relatives. Miss Bullock, who teaches in Maxton, is a native of Stovall and will go home for the Easter holiday.
