42 Are Injured As Milwaukee Cars Derailed

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) - A gravel truck smashed into a train carrying 1,000 grade school children to a Milwaukee baseball game today and knocked it off the tracks, near the village of Duplainville, 17 miles west of Milwaukee.

Forty-two persons were injured but there are no known dead. Ten of the 16 car Milwaukee Road train jumped the tracks.

A railroad spokesman said the gravel truck passed six other trucks and went through a warning flasher system at the crossing.

It hit the third unit of the Diesel locomotive and the lead unit of the coaches. The impact knocked over the first two coaches. The next six were piled across the track and the last two were derailed and leaning.

All available doctors, ambulances and emergency equipment were rushed to the scene.

The injured were taken to Waukesha Memorial Hospital, which sent 12 to Milwaukee for extra blood plasma.

A spokesman for the Milwaukee Braves said, "We are very sorry to hear about the wreck. We're keeping our fingers crossed."

Man Held On Rape Charges

Daniel And Bride Back In N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP) - Mr. and Mrs. E. Clifton Daniel Jr., an "old married couple," returned to New York last night from a two week honeymoon in Nassau.

"We're an old married couple and we're not news anymore," said Daniel, assistant to the foreign news editor of the New York Times. His bride, the former Margaret Truman, let newsmen meeting the newlyweds at Idlewild Airport last night know who was the spokesman for the family.

TO RESUME CAREER

"He does all the talking," she said, smiling and pointing to her husband when reporters asked for an interview. Margaret said she planned to resume her radio and television career "as long as it doesn't interfere with my husband's."

Mrs. Daniel is to appear June 2 on the George Gobel television show and the following week will play the role of a spinster school teacher in "Autumn Crocus," on the TV Matinee Theater. She performed in the play in summer stock last year.

GASTONIA (AP) - Police held textile worker Charles Gilbert, 22, without bond today on a charge of raping a 19-year-old girl while taking her home from a dance Saturday night.

Officers said the girl, Donna Sue Helms of Cramerton, told them she met Gilbert at a dance at a fish camp near here and she accepted his offer to take her home. She said instead, he drove to an isolated spot near the camp and raped her, "putting me in fear of my life" if she didn't submit to him. Police said Gilbert denied the charge.

NOTICE - All Hospital Auxiliary workers will continue their same hours until further notified, it was announced by Mrs. Pat Lynch.

Anderson Creek Has Nominee At Last

Although Anderson Creek is part of Harnett County's District Four, there hasn't been a county commissioner elected from there in over 40 years.

SHERRILL WEST

A 30-year-old farmer will try to reverse that in the Democratic primaries on May 26. Sherrill West of Anderson Creek is running against J. Early Womble, the incumbent, and Worth Byrd, a former member of the county board, for the commissionership from District Four.

He admits he has tough opposition. Nevertheless, says West, he will make a race of it and would sincerely like to become the first commissioner from Anderson Creek since Archie Shaw held that post 42 years ago.

West, a young and personable man who is farming the same land that his father did before him, has never run for public office before. He says that if chosen in the primary "there's no Republican

WITH FRESH DETERMINATION - Mayor Hanna (left) and Billy Wellons, head of Wellons Mercantile, talked over plans this morning for a highway safety campaign. They are spearheading efforts to enlist local motorists' in a pledge to watch their driving habits. The terrible traffic death toll was cited by Hanna as he announced that from now on every day is safety day. The U. S. cannot and must not, he said, continue with its high accident rate. (Daily Record Photo)

Mayor Endorses Campaign For Road Safety

Mayor Ralph Hanna today issued a proclamation designating every day of the year as "Safe Driving Day," pointing out that Dunn has been contributing its share to the annual national death toll of 38,000 lives lost on the highways.

It was an unusual official document in that it did not specify any single day or week for the community observance. Instead the Mayor's declaration put the full official weight of the city administration behind an all-out, year-round observance of "Safe Driving Day."

William S. Wellons, manager of Wellons Mercantile, told Mayor Hanna that not only motorists and truck drivers but even children with bicycles are urged to join the "Safe Driver League" and receive a reflectorized emblem to display on their vehicles.

The League is sponsored by B. F. Goodrich Company and its retailers throughout the nation (Wellons is a local outlet) in an effort to emphasize the need for more careful driving as a means of cutting down accidents.

"Last year," Wellons said, "38,300 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents. This was an increase of 2300 over 1954's traffic fatalities and more than the total number of Americans killed in the Korean War. This year, unless

EX-EMPLOYEE SURRENDERS

Church Shooting Suspect Gives Up

NEW YORK (AP) - A former Romanian Orthodox Church employe suspected in the sniper slaying of a church warden surrendered to police today and was booked on a charge of homicide.

Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan ordered the charge be made against Tudurchi Sava, 61, after the Romanian immigrant gave authorities a statement.

Sava was described as a malcontent ex-employee of the Church of St. Dumitru where a warden was shot fatally and five other persons were wounded Saturday.

He surrendered to the district attorney this morning, telling a detective: "I understand I'm wanted for questioning."

Just four weeks ago, using the name of Tony Tudorache, Sava rented a room opposite the church, from which the bullets were apparently fired.

FARM AID BLOCKED BY SOLON

Cooley Blamed For Farm Bill Foul-Up

RALEIGH - Congressman Harold D. Cooley was blamed today by W. E. Debnam, his opponent in the Fourth District Congressional race, for "completely fouling up" legislation to give financial aid to farmers.

"Since last January Mr. Cooley has seemed utterly confused about the farm situation and the best way to remedy it," Debnam said. "After playing a devious game of politics in a futile attempt to further his own political ambitions, Mr. Cooley finally has introduced in his own name the Republican-sponsored soil bank bill, and even on this he has succeeded in further hurting the farmer by knocking out the provision for pre-payments now for farmers who pledge to take land out of crop production later."

"The administration presented the soil-bank bill to Congress early in January, and had Mr. Cooley not blocked it then the farmers would have been profiting from it by now."

Debnam also rapped Cooley for introducing a bill early this year to out 1956 tobacco acreage by 20 (Continued on Page Two)

POLITICAL WRITER SAYS

Harnett May Hold Key In Hot Congressional Race

EDITOR'S NOTE: Arthur Johnsey, chief of the Raleigh bureau of the Greensboro Daily News, last week made a survey of the Seventh District in an effort to detect trends in the heated campaign between Congressman F. Eitel Carlyle and his opponent, Former U. S. Senator Alton A. Lennon. He was in Dunn Wednesday and heard Mr. Lennon at Godwin Wednesday night. The following story by Mr. Johnsey reports his findings.

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY In The Greensboro Daily News

FAYETTEVILLE - Alton Lennon has drawn the Kerr Scott leaders into a strange alliance in Harnett County. Here in neighboring Cumberland, the backers of Sheriff L. L. Guy, the embattled crime-buster, were joining Lennon's forces by the score.

These were a few of the signs of political wind-shifting that stirred the seven counties of the Seventh Congressional District under the attack of the former U. S. Senator now on the trail of a political comeback that could take Lennon to Washington again, this time to occupy Rep. F. Eitel Carlyle's seat in the Congress.

Campaigning through territory now as familiar to him as the back of his hand, Lennon had introduced a few surprises into his strategy, mixing them with his old hand-shaking techniques. Most of the subtle new approaches were outgrowths of the situation that arose two years ago when Lennon campaigned hard and made himself known throughout the state in a futile attempt to defeat Scott for the junior Senate seat.

That earlier campaign, Lennon's supporters were saying, had placed him in a stronger position to defeat the strongly entrenched Carlyle than any challenger in years. Witness what had taken place in Harnett, which might turn out to be the key to victory or defeat.

Ninety percent of the political leaders who had supported Kerr (Continued on Page Two)

These Little Things

MARJORIE, A POSTMASTER, TERRY, ESQUIRE, CHURCHES

Hank Hanna and Marjorie Glover report that they already have about 35 dolls enrolled for their new beauty college, which will open in Dunn at an early date. "Any pretty ones?" we asked. "You bet," exclaimed Marjorie, "real pretty, too." "And young?" "Uh, huh," she replied, indicating there would be plenty in their late teens and early 20s, all of which sounds real interesting. Are they gonna accept any male students? "Well," replied Marjorie, a very clever girl, "we haven't had any applications from men yet, but that's an idea." We told Marjorie about a friend of ours who operates a beauty parlor in another section of the State and opens it one night a week for the men—for manicures, massages, hair-washes, and facials. "It's in a small town and after the town got accustomed to the idea, Men's Night went over big with the men claiming the gal operators were more conscientious and more thorough than barber shops. "It probably would take a town like Dunn a little while to get accustomed to the idea," agreed Marjorie, who reacted favorably. As we see it, the big advantages would be that in a beauty parlor you smell perfume and sweet lotions instead of pine tar and Wildroot; girl operators wouldn't blow smoke into your face; and you wouldn't have to listen to talk about politics and baseball and hear a lot of old men (men who are years too old for such) sitting around bragging about nightly conquests that never took

LIGHTNING HITS MANSION

Mother, 3 Children, Maid Die In Fire

DEAL, N. J. (AP) - A mother, her three children and a maid died early today when lightning struck and burned their two-story mansion.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Estelle Redicker, about 45; two sons, Kenneth, 13, and Stuart, 12; and a daughter, Bonnie Joy, 5. The maid was not identified.

Police said Mrs. Redicker's husband, William, was spending the weekend at Monticello, N. Y., when the tragedy occurred.

Firemen said the five persons were trapped behind aluminum storm windows which expanded from the heat of the blaze.

Firemen found the bodies of Mrs. Redicker, her daughter and the maid in a second-story bedroom. The bodies of the boys were found in a southeastern wing bedroom.

Firemen used an aerial truck to reach the dead.

The blaze caused an estimated $25,000 damage, to the 15-room house fire chief George E. Wood said.

He said the lightning struck the home's metal roof and was conducted into the kitchen by an outside drain pipe. The blaze started in the kitchen.

Judo Threat Used In Rape

CHARLOTTE (AP) - James Montgomery, 24, was held today on a rape charge filed by a 15-year-old girl who said the man threatened to use judo tactics learned in the armed forces if she didn't submit. Police said the girl told them the incident occurred Friday night on a dirt road on the outskirts of the city. The girl said Montgomery had offered to take her and some friends home from a skating rink but she soon found herself alone with him.

The girl told police her alleged attacker threatened several times to strike her on a vital nerve in the neck and "put me to sleep" if she didn't submit to his advances.

Harnett Man Ends His Life

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon for Hickman S. Tilley, 49, of Angier, Route 1, who killed himself Friday with a 22 caliber rifle at the store he operated on Angier, Route 1.

Harnett Coroner Grover C. Henderson of Dunn said Tilley shot himself over the left ear and died almost instantly. Members of the family said he had been worrying a great deal recently.

The coroner ruled it was a plain case of suicide and no inquest was held.

Tilley was the son of the late W and Lettie Edgerton Tilley.

Funeral services were held at the Sandy Grove Primitive Baptist Church, near Angier.

Elder Jimmy Collins officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ella Williams Tilley; three daughters, Mrs. John Payne of Norfolk, Va.; Virginia Ruth and Elizabeth Ann, both of the home; four stepsons, Edward, Stacy, Perrie and James Partin, all of Angier, Route 1; three step-daughters, Mrs. James Tew of Fayetteville, Edith Mae Bonnie Partin of the home; one brother, Ben T. Tilley of Angier, Route 1; three sisters, Mrs. Willie H. Smith and Mrs. Vaden Smith, both of Angier, Route 1; and Mrs. Bruce Gregory of Angier; also two grandchildren.

Assault, Liquor Cases Are Heard

A medley of assault cases, traffic and liquor law violations were heard Thursday in Harnett Recorder's Court.

Judge M. O. Lee was on the bench in the morning, and Vice Recorder L. M. Chaffin in the afternoon. Solicitor Neil Ross prosecuted the docket.

ASSAULTS Thomas McLean, Coats, Route 1 was cleared of assault with a deadly weapon, but the warrant against him was amended to charge engaging in an affray in which a deadly weapon was used. Judgment was continued until May 17. Another charge against McLean of assault on Beatrice Jones was not pressed, because there was no prosecuting witness to prove the charge.

Eldon L. Thomas was freed of the charge of slapping his wife and causing her and their children to flee the home while he was in a drunken condition on April 23. The wife refused to testify and was taxed the costs. A second charge against Thomas of driving under the influence of whiskey, and in a careless and reckless manner, was dismissed with leave to re-open. The warrant against Thomas was (Continued on Page Two)
