And Dr. James got elected a State director of the organization, too. Congratulations. Harnett County Democrats, holding their biennial convention Saturday morning in Lillington, elected Archie R. Taylor, Lillington attorney, as new chairman of the county executive committee.

Taylor succeeds W. A. (Bill) Johnson of Lillington, who had held the influential post for six years. Johnson guided the party to a wide margin of victory at every election during this period. Other officers chosen at the same time were: Mrs. Eugene Lasater of Erwin, Route 1, vice chairman; Henderson Steele of Lillington, secretary; Henry Turlington of Dunn, Route 3, treasurer. Mrs. Lasater served the party in a wide variety of posts and succeeds Roger Mann of Lillington. Steele, Lillington newspaper publisher, has served as secretary for more than 25 years.

BAGGETT LEAVING COUNTY
Turlington will replace Venable Baggett of Lillington, who is moving to Cumberland County to make his home.

CLOSE DECISION
The vote for county chairman was close. Twenty of the county's 21 precinct chairmen were present. Taylor won over Johnson with a vote of 12 to 8. Robert A. Draughon, chairman of Averasboro No. 1, was absent and had no proxy. Harnett County has 21 voting precincts and the precinct chairmen were chosen May 5 at precinct meetings. Traditionally in Harnett, the man who holds the party chairmanship is named county attorney, which is a salaried job.

Principal Chosen For New School

Dunn native Robert Cannady was announced today for the post of principal of the Wayne Avenue School, new elementary building near the high school which is to open this fall.

District Principal A. B. Johnson also reported this morning that the Dunn School Board determined at its May meeting to formally designate Wayne Avenue School and Magnolia Avenue School as names for the two elementary buildings that will be in use during the next school year.

Earlier, Johnson had suggested that ideas for naming the schools were under consideration, and requested suggestions from the public. Magnolia Avenue School is the present Dunn Grammar School, and its principal is Mrs. J. Shepherd Bryan. Cannady, who is to head the new elementary building, is the son of J. R. Cannady, retired businessman and farmer. He was born in Dunn 31 years ago on April 22, 1925. Graduating from Dunn High School in 1942, he served in the Pacific area, and saw action in the Philippines, Okinawa and Saipan. He was a motor crewman. After his release from the army Cannady went to Atlantic Christian, where

Dolls May Have Lured Two To Death

LONDON — A British newspaper reported today that "ravenous Greek Cypriot lovelies" may have lured two British soldiers to their execution on the troubled island of Cyprus.

"Hours after terrorists claimed to have hanged two British soldiers," The Sunday Dispatch reported, "a non-fraternization order went out to the 18,000 British troops in Cyprus." "The order is particularly directed against women. For ravenous Greek lovelies, known to be in the ranks of the terrorists, are believed to be acting as murder decoys," the paper said.

"These slow-eyed girls may have enticed into captivity the two British soldiers said by Edeka Cypriot to have been hanged as a reprisal for the judicial execution of two young terrorists."

Byrnes Declares Supreme Court Must Be Curbed

WASHINGTON — Former Supreme Court Justice James F. Byrnes said today the Supreme Court "must be curbed" because of its school segregation decision and other moves which he said constitute a "trend to destroy the power of the 48 states."

Declaring Congress has power to regulate the court's jurisdiction, he called on "the court of public opinion" to urge Congress "to act before it is too late."

Byrnes, former secretary of state, senator and governor of South Carolina, issued a scathing attack on the Supreme Court in a copyrighted article in U. S. News & World Report, a weekly news-magazine published here.

He charged that the tribunal's school integration decision two years ago "amended" the U. S. Constitution rather than interpreting it, thus "usurping" the power of Congress and the states.

Asserting the school decision has "undone" half a century of progress toward racial amity, he said it has caused racial tension in the South unequaled since Reconstruction days and threatens closing of public schools in many Southern states.

Byrnes went on to assail more recent Supreme Court decisions nullifying state secession laws and a New York City regulation under which a teacher was fired. He said these, added to the school decision, amount to "trend . . . to destroy the powers of the 48 states."

"Power intoxicates men," Byrnes wrote. "It is never voluntarily surrendered. It must be taken from them. The Supreme Court must be curbed."

He did not give details of his proposed move to "curb" the court other than to say that "the Constitution authorizes the Congress to regulate the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court."

Demos Report GOP Has Lost Ground

WASHINGTON — The Democratic Digest said today the Republican Party has "lost more ground and more elections" under President Eisenhower than under any previous GOP President.

The Digest, official publication of the Democratic National Committee, said "even President Herbert Hoover did better when he was in the White House."

The article said the voters gave Mr. Hoover a Republican Congress during the mid-term election in his term of office. Democrats, it pointed out, won a majority of both houses in Mr. Eisenhower's mid-term election.

This, the Digest added, was despite the present chief executive's "barnstorming campaign" for his party's candidates in 1954.

"President Eisenhower's voter appeal sagged even further in the 1956 presidential primaries," the article said. It called the 1956 primaries "particularly significant in view of the strong Democratic gains over the past three years."

"... they clearly indicate that President Eisenhower is getting the same treatment at the polls

Says It Would Endanger Our Defense Effort

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson told senators today that any major cut in President Eisenhower's 3-billion dollar foreign military aid program "would present serious risks to the defense of the United States."

He said it also would require a complete overhaul of the defense budget, which was based on the expectation that arms aid would continue flowing to our allies.

Wilson testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in support of President Eisenhower's request for nearly 5 billion in foreign aid funds for the year starting July 1. About 3 billion would be for military aid.

"To cut military assistance materially at this time," Wilson said, "would present serious risks to the defense of the United States and the free world and would require a complete re-evaluation of our international position and of our own military budgets."

Helps 200 Divisions
Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chief of Staff, backed up the plea for the full amount of requested military aid funds. Radford told the committee the sum "is not excessive."

Wilson said America is now helping to support 200 divisions in allied armies, a force "several times the strength of our own army."

Allied air forces and navies also receive support and these forces are taken into account in determining America's defense requirements. (Continued On Page Eight)

MAN SAYS CHILD NOT HIS BUT

He Pleads Guilty To Assault Charges

John Robert McLean, 21-year old Negro laborer of Lillington, was the defendant in two cases which engaged the attention of Harnett Recorder's Court most of Tuesday.

McLean was acquitted of non-support of an illegitimate child, a child Novella McMillan testified was his. McLean entered a plea of innocent to the charge, and the trial was marked by heated exchanges between Acting Solicitor Jake Lamm and the defending lawyer, Duncan Wilson.

The young Negro woman who was accompanied by her child, was the only State witness in the first woman showed several discrepancies in her testimony and the judge said, "I suppose we will have to give the defendant the benefit of the doubt."

Trial of the assault charge followed immediately. The McMillan woman said on the stand that McLean "snatched" her out of a car in which she was riding with Harvey Rosser, a white man, pulled her arm and then drew a knife on her, cutting her coat and inflicting a scar on her neck, which she exhibited to the court. She added that McLean threatened to cut off her head with the knife.

The alleged assault took place near the home of Zach McDougald in Shawtown. Another witness, John D. Camp (Continued on Page Two)
