N. C. Campaign Getting Hot As End Nears

RALEIGH (UP) — A candidate for Congress has charged that a "whispered lie" has injected racial prejudice into the 3rd District Democratic primary campaign "with the hope that it will influence voters before the truth can reach them."

Thus, at least indirectly, the racial issue arose in still another primary campaign. There was a drumfire of developments mostly on the racial theme as the campaigns entered the final four days.

Candidate James O. Simpkins of New Bern (D-NC) in Saturday's voting, said the "contemptible and despicable lie" has been spread that Barden, if defeated, would be succeeded by Negro Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee. Simpkins said he is "certain" that Barden himself "had nothing to do with the 'whispered' spread of the 'mis-information.'" He said the rumor is "completely untrue."

Among the developments were these:

HODGES ATTACKED

Gubernatorial Candidate Tom Sawyer accused Gov. Hodges of "bartering" for the Negro vote for the Democrats by doing "everything possible to keep any candidate from coming out on the race question. He said Hodges is following the national Democratic party 'line' to 'discredit' Southern segregation leaders.

Candidate W. E. Debnam of Raleigh struck again at Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC), his 4th District opponent, for refusing to sign the Southern Manifesto. Debnam charged that Cooley, by his refusal, "ran up the white flag of surrender to racial mixing" and that Cooley "did not come out" (Continued On Page Two)

ROAD-E-O WINNERS — Mack Dawson, left, proved to be the best hand at maneuvering a car through some tricky and specially laid-out courses. Competing with other good teen-age drivers from Dunn High, he won the right to represent this area in the state contest at Greenville June 2-3. Second and third-place winners were Willie Norris (center) and Jimmy Carroll (right). (Daily Record Photo by Ted Crail.)

Richards Says Ample Funds On Hand Already

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted 18 to 11 today to slash one billion dollars in military funds from President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program.

President Eisenhower had urged approval of the entire program and warned that any major cuts would jeopardize this country's global position.

Committee Chairman James P. Richards (D-SC), in announcing the cut, said the administration has "ample funds" already on hand to carry out all necessary military aid programs for at least years.

He pointed to 5 billion in military funds approved by past congresses and still not spent.

The slash was approved after the committee rejected on a "rather close" vote a proposed $1,200,000,000 cut in military aid. Richards declined to give the precise vote on the deeper cut.

An attempt by Rep. John M. Vorys (Ohio), key Republican on the committee, to hold the cut to 500 million also was defeated.

In voting the committee specified that 48 million of the remaining military funds must be used in Spain and that not more than 402 million should be spent in Europe. The administration had planned to spend 760 million of the total military funds in Europe.

The billion cut was announced shortly after it had been disclosed unofficially.

PAPA ORSON FACING COURT

Rita Wants Him In A Supporting Role

NEW YORK — Rita Hayworth will turn to the courts this week in an effort to make her former husband, actor Orson Welles, contribute to the support of their child, Rebecca, 12, attorney Bartley Crum disclosed today.

Welles already owes Rita $22,450 for Rebecca's care since the couple were divorced in 1947 Crum said.

"My client is proceeding reluctantly on this," said the lawyer. "But after all, it is more than eight years and he hasn't contributed a cent. She feels that as the father of the child, he should contribute support."

According to Crum, Superior Court in Los Angeles directed Welles to pay $50 a week for the child's maintenance as a provision of the divorce decree.

Welles never has made a single payment, and has ignored communications from Rita on the matter, Crum said.

Judge Bickett Raps High Accident Rate

Superior Court Judge William Y. Bickett today called on grand jurors to use all resources at their command to help cut traffic accidents.

"I believe that proper thought on your part and some thoughtful action by petit jurors could save some lives in your county," the judge said in charging the new grand jurors. "Just five minutes of thought might help save one life. If just one life is saved, it is worth it. Convey your ideas and thoughts to your neighbors. Let's do something about this business of killing on our highways."

"Highway laws are made to enforce," the judge added. "If a law is a good law, it will remain on the law books, if it is not, it will be replaced."

"In 24 years as a solicitor," the judge recalled "I prosecuted many (Continued on Page Two)"

Grand Jurors Work Fast Make Report

Grand jurors set something of a record of work on Monday. They examined six bills of indictment, inspected county institutions, conferred with Solicitor Jack Hooks and his assistant Glenn Hooper, Jr. and adjourned in one day.

Text of their report, read at the closing minutes of the Monday court sessions, follows: "We, the grand jury of Harnett County Superior Court submit this our final report for the term of court beginning the 21st day of May, 1956.

We have given careful consideration to and passed upon all bills of indictment sent to us by the solicitor and have made returns on the same.

JAIL FOUND CLEAN. We inspected the county jail and found it in good clean condition and necessary repairs have been made.

We inspected the prison camp and found it in good condition and the prisoners well fed. We visited the welfare office and the employees were pleased with working conditions, but more room is greatly needed.

The grand jury checked with the clerk of superior court and she reports that proper reports have been made by all administrators, guardians, executors and justices of the peace.

The grand jury wishes to express our thanks and appreciation to the solicitor for his helpful conduct.

Lady-Loving Jimmy Plans 3rd Wedding

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) Monday confirmed published reports he would marry a secretary in his Washington office when his divorce from his second wife becomes final next month.

The 49-year-old eldest son of the late president had refused until Monday to comment on reports he planned to marry Mrs. Gladys Irene Owens, 29. His divorce from Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt becomes final in June.

Mrs. Roosevelt, a former nurse, originally had named Mrs. Owens as a correspondent in a 1954 divorce suit in which she charged Roosevelt with being intimate with several women. Mrs. Roosevelt, however, later dropped the charges and won a divorce on an amended complaint.

BAER'S CAMP; A FABULOUS BEACH, LEE, BECKY, ETC

Ted Malone of Coats, who is waging an aggressive campaign for county commissioner in District II, has the most clever slogan of any of the Harnett candidates. He says: "Use Your Head and Vote For Ted."

With four candidates in the running, a second primary in that district seems almost a certainty. "Just because I'm wearing a hat don't get the idea that I don't have plenty of hair," Cad Upchurch told Bill Signor the other night. "Yeah," replied Hill, "I know you have—but where is it?"

That Shrine Club banquet last night was a fez-topped event. There was even a giant-size fez used for decoration purposes at the plate of President Paul L. Strickland, Jr. One of the TV magazines reports that former Dunn newsmen E. O. Daniel, Jr. has been offered a fat network contract, but so far hasn't accepted.

His wife, the former Margaret Truman, is now on leave from NBC.

There's talk about starting the couple in a Mr. and Mrs. type of program and the magazines say he's also in line to be the "Ed Murrow" on CBS's rival stations.

"Handsome and graying in extremely distinguished fashion," continues the article, "newspaperman Daniel has vast reportorial experience and an easy, authoritative way of talking. Before Daniel met Margaret, he broke a string of hearts in Europe. At one time he was reported altar-bound with the Countess of Jersey, nee Virginia Cherrill, the former Hollywood actress. As well as being rated a ace correspondent, Daniel has the Beau Brummell dress habits of a man assigned to St. James Court.
