NEW YORK (AP) — A bronze bust of Woodrow Wilson, the 32nd person so honored, was placed in the Hall of Fame yesterday.

MOREHEAD CITY (AP) — More than 2,000 shrimp boats began operations in North Carolina waters at the opening of the 1956 shrimping season at midnight last night.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved $5,300,000 in new funds for the Tennessee Valley Authority — the smallest annual appropriation in TVA's history.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved $1,378,000 requested by President Eisenhower for the Southeastern Power Administration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee has called for stiffer laws against "wanton, depraved, nauseating, despicable" pornography sold by modern "smut peddlers." Pornography, the subcommittee said in a report, has mushroomed into a 500 million dollar a year racket which is contributing to an "appalling" rise in youthful perversion and sex crimes.

LONDON (AP) — London police carried guns for the first time in 30 years today to guard government officials against threatened attacks by agents from Cyprus agitating for union of their country with Greece.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower sipped pink fruit punch on the White House lawn Monday with 811 hospitalized servicemen and veterans. The annual presidential garden party for hospitalized servicemen and veterans was held on the famed south lawn in muggy summer heat.

GREENSBORO (AP) — Funeral services will be held here at 3 p.m. today for Bernard Milton Cone, a pioneer founder of North Carolina's mighty textile industry. Cone died Monday morning at the age of 81.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A recent agreement to distribute federal power from Georgia's Clark Hill dam has been cited by Rep. Raper Jonas (R-NC) as a "flat contradiction" of criticism of Eisenhower administration power policies by a Democratic House subcommittee.

ELKIN, N. C. (AP) — The bitter crossfire between Rep. Thurmond Chatham (D-NC) and the leaders of the Rockingham County chapter of the Patriots of North Carolina flared again today. Political observers in the 5th District predicted the squabble will not be resolved until the voters go to the ballot box Saturday in the Democratic primary.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) yesterday put a damper on a proposed caucus of Southern delegates to the Democratic convention to unify Dixie Democrats on a civil rights plank. Johnson said the pre-convention caucus might hurt "the Southern cause" and urged all Dixie delegates to attend the convention "with an open mind."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States imported more goods in the first quarter of this year than in any quarter of any previous year. The Census Bureau reported the new record is $3,220,500,000. The old record — $3,080,900,000 — was set in the closing quarter of last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today received a House-passed bill calling for tighter government controls over excess tobacco planting.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cotton textiles, cotton yarns and spinable waste will also receive the benefits of the export program for raw cotton set in motion by the Agriculture Department last February.

WAKE FOREST (AP) — Some 320 students were graduated yesterday at Wake Forest College's final commencement exercise on its 122-year-old campus here. It marked the beginning of the move to Winston-Salem.

LONDON (AP) — Underground flames roared uncontrolled today through an unused subway junction that housed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communications center during World War II. Firemen used coal mine tactics to fight the blaze which broke out in the tunnel network 150 feet underground last night.

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Police said today a 5-year-old boy admitted using his mother's cigarette lighter to set a fire which destroyed a radio station's transmitter and two small buildings.

DETROIT (AP) — Chances that Detroit, the site of a bloody race riot in 1943, once again is "sitting on a powder keg of racial unrest" were denied yesterday by Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins. "We believe there is no justification for these charges," Piggins told the city's community relations commission.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Five Union Pacific Railroad workers insisted today they don't want a union "crammed down our throats" despite the Supreme Court's ruling against their anti-union shop plea. The union shop principle is wrong, they said, and they will fight it again if they have to.

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY AT KWAJALEIN (AP) — Atomic officials disclosed today that the air-dropped hydrogen bomb lived up to its advance billing as a radioactively "sanitary" weapon. Reports throughout the Marshall Islands showed "no increase in background radiation" as a result of Monday's explosion.

LONDON (AP) — Britain speculated today that Queen Elizabeth may be invited to visit the Soviet Union. The speculation was touched off by an exchange of good will messages between the queen and President Kliment Voroshilov of Russia.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — French authorities have held a series of top secret meetings in Cairo with Algerian nationalists in an effort to end the Algerian rebellion, unimpeachable sources said today.

THURMOND'S VIEWS — U. S. Senator J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who ran for President of the United States on the State's Rights ticket, a few years ago, regards Adlai Stevenson as the only one of the top three contenders for the Democratic nomination acceptable to the South. That's what he told us Sunday afternoon down at Myrtle Beach. The influential Southern leader was at Myrtle Beach to address the State convention of South Carolina Jaycees and we ran into him in the lobby of the Ocean Forrest Hotel. He talked freely of the coming convention but most of his remarks, of course, were off the record. He says the South would go along with Stevenson but turns thumbs down on Kefauver and Harriman. "What would happen," we asked him, "if Harriman or Kefauver should win the nomination?" He outlined three alternatives: 1. For each southern state to ignore both the Democratic and Republican nominees and vote for a favorite State senator. 2. Formation of a third party, which he said could develop very rapidly if the wrong man is nominated at Chicago, and 3. Vote for President Eisenhower.

He expressed the hope that neither of these alternatives would be necessary. His first choice for the Democratic nomination is Governor Frank Lausche of Ohio (and we agree with him wholeheartedly on that). His second choice would be Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas or possibly Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri. The way they play politics in South Carolina fascinates us and we had been wanting to meet Thurmond for a long time. He's a very impressive and delightful fellow. (And he also has a very beautiful and very young wife — she's in her early 20s). Thurmond is the only man in history ever elected to the U. S. Senate on a write-in ballot, and he's opposed for re-election. It was one of the most pleasant interviews we've had in a long time. Incidentally, those South Carolina Jaycees are on the ball. To boost attendance at their convention, they gave away a big Cadillac. It was won by a fellow named Harold Black of Anderson, S. C.

THINGAMAJIGS: Little David Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. George (Jo Jo) Williams, is a chip off the old block. On Saturday, David rode in the Caryle caravan and told the congressman, "I'm sure going to vote for you when I get old enough." He only has about 15 more years to go. One of Alton Lennon's heaviest financial backers is Louis Baer, prominent Dunn merchant, and a mighty good man for any candidate to have on his side. Mr. Baer is the sort of fellow who, when he believes in a cause, doesn't just give lip-service. He's usually the first to haul out his big fat checkbook. And he not only gives generously with the long green, he puts in plenty of hard personal work. Right now, in addition to campaigning night and day for Lennon, Mr. Baer is busy building a camp for local Girl Scouts. He's building a big camp and donating it to the local Girl troops. It's located on one of his many farms out on Dunn, Route 4 in a very beautiful site. And he's such a modest fellow that when we suggested a big front-page story on the camp he shook his head and said, "Nothing doing."

Dunn needs about 100 Louis Baers. And then we'd grow faster than Charlotte.

FABULOUS GROWTH — Speaking of Myrtle Beach, it becomes more fabulous with the arrival of each new vacation season. We drove around the popular resort Saturday afternoon and were amazed at the growth it has known in just one year. Literally millions of dollars have been spent in new construction since last summer. It has always been disappointing to us that our own North Carolina beaches have failed to keep pace with Myrtle Beach. Actually, there is no comparison between Myrtle and Wrightsville, Carolina, Morehead or any of the other "bar Heel" resorts. Myrtle Beach is growing more like Miami Beach every year with more, bigger, better, more elaborate swankier, and pushier hotels and other more modernistic facilities. Wrightsville Beach, for instance, has only a few fairly good eating places — nothing extra at that — and none of them can touch Myrtle Beach's swank Pink House, one of the finest eating places on the entire East Coast, the White Heron or the more exclusive Dunes Club. A new Howard Johnson Restaurant is now open there. Most of the new motels at Myrtle Beach now have private swimming pools with TV, and Myrtle offers such other advantages as a day nursery for children, beautiful golf driving ranges, riding clubs, dancing schools and wild animal zoo, a legitimate theatre with performances by the nation's top actors each weekend, beautiful casinos and many other advantages we can't begin to name. Willie Moff was among those from Dunn at Myrtle Beach for the weekend. It was his first visit there and Willie frankly admitted he was simply amazed to find such a resort so close to Dunn. (It's only about 25 miles further than Wrightsville). There's no kind of service, no type of recreation and no type of pleasure that can't be had at Myrtle, no matter what your tastes might be. We hate to admit these facts because we're loyal to our home state and we like Wrightsville very much, but it's true. Myrtle also has more of a big-city cosmopolitan atmosphere and visitors are treated royally.

VISITED HERE Margaret Strickland of High Point visited Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Strickland here over the weekend.

GLENFIELD, Iowa (AP) — Burglars, thinking of their own comfort, first rolled a supermarket safe into the meat cooler and then robbed it of $800.

DETROIT (AP) — New appeals for federal aid to Michigan's unemployed were promised today in the wake of additional layoffs by the auto industry. But there were two indications the government was already taking steps to ease the situation.

here today, approved the plan. Final action is subject to a stockholders' vote.

400 STORES IN EIGHT STATES Addition of the Ketner-Milner stores will increase the Winn-Dixie organization to approximately 400 stores in eight states with annual sales approximating $450,000,000.

Ketner-Milner operates eight supermarkets in the Piedmont under the name of Ketners. There are two each in Salisbury, Albemarle, and Lexington and one each in Kannapolis and Mooresville.

The firm operates 18 Piggy Wiggly stores: seven in Raleigh, four in Durham, and one each in Cary, Smithfield, Dunn, Goldsboro, and Wilson.

The Ketner stores will continue under that name, and the Milner stores will continue under the Piggy Wiggly name. "We are extremely pleased to announce that we are joining Winn-Dixie," said the announcement by Ketner and Milner. "Our thousands of customers will benefit because of increased operating economies which will be possible."

"We want to emphasize that this move will mean no changes in our personnel, and we look forward to having every one of our more than 600 employees remain with us. We can assure our people that employment with the larger organization will mean better opportunities for advancement."

They said the organization will continue to use the Ketner and Milner warehouses in Salisbury and Raleigh and added that it plans to build a larger distribution center to take care of planned expansion and future growth in the North Carolina area.

Previously announced plans for additional stores will be carried forward without delay, it was said. A new store was opened in Wilson last month and a site for another has been selected in Concord, with construction to be started at an early date.

Immediate plans call also for opening new stores in Raleigh and Durham as soon as suitable sites can be found. Long-range plans contemplate additional stores in several communities east of Raleigh and in other Piedmont cities.

Ketner-Milner Company was formed recently through a merger of two Salisbury firms—Ketner's, Inc. and Excel Grocery Company, Inc., a wholesale grocery owned by the Ketner interests—with Milner Stores Company, Inc., of Raleigh. The Ketner and Milner companies date from the early 1920's.

signed an affidavit for Crum setting forth her claim.

Will Make Last Appeal Crum said he will make a last appeal to Welles — now doing TV shows in California — early in the week, and will turn to the California courts if Welles snubs him, as in the past.

The lawyer said he would seek a contempt citation against the actor, if necessary.

Arnold Grant, Welles' counsel, snapped back at Crum's statements. "This is ridiculous," said Grant. "If she had ever asked for $50 a week from my client, she would have received it. If she is so concerned over the support of the child, we'll be happy to take over full support — if she will surrender Rebecca."

"The only time I ever heard from Crum was when he thanked me for going to White Plains to oppose any moves to have Rita in custody of the child. We know of no indebtedness. Welles doesn't owe her a nickel."

Will Try

peace, domestic tranquility and the best interest and general welfare of all citizens. To encourage and promote friendly racial relations and racial peace and good will.

"To promote the value of maintaining the existing social structure in North Carolina in which two distinct races heretofore have lived as separate groups, and the value of educating the different races in separate schools."

"To promote loyalty to the traditions of the State and to appeal to all loyal and patriotic citizens for their wholehearted support in maintaining the integrity of those traditions."

"To promote the right of the State of North Carolina to regulate its own internal affairs in the manner it believes to be most conducive to the happiness and welfare of its citizens."

"To cooperate with and support our State and local civil authorities, agencies and committees, including State and local school boards and officials, to the extent that they are favorable to the objects and purposes herein set forth."

Angier

$50.00 in currency will be presented each Saturday at 4 o'clock to the individual holding the lucky ticket. The tickets will be provided during the week by the Angier merchants.

All friends of Angier are invited to attend all of these festive Saturdays. W. M. Langdon, Chairman of the events, sincerely hopes that they will join with the merchants and other members of the new Angier Chamber of Commerce in accepting the hospitality that will be offered.

On Saturday, May 26, the $50 in currency should not be claimed that $50 will be added to the $50 to be presented June 2. If no one claims the currency during the first three weeks $200 will be presented the fourth and final Saturday.

good men for manslaughter. They were good men who either took to many drinks and drove, or ignored highway safety rules. The result was somebody got killed.

"Just because a car can go 100 miles an hour that is no reason for a driver to see what he can get out of it. Just because there is whiskey to drink is no reason a man has to drink it and drive. He might even stay home and drink all he wants."

Anita (Continued from Page One) Florence is a traditionally strong Roman Catholic city and its residents were cool to the idea of the marriage between Miss Ekberg and the divorced Steel. One extra reason for the last-minute switch was understood to be the fact that La Pira faces a tough struggle against the Communist opposition in next Sunday's Italian local elections.

der that he "be in good graces of the national Democratic party." "I don't know what the governor's future political ambitions may be, or who is giving him his counsel on this disturbing issue, Sawyer told the pro-segregationist group. "But everything possible was done to try to keep any candidate from coming out on the race question, following the dictates of the national Democratic party."

"I do not believe the great majority of North Carolina Negroes are demanding such a great price for them to keep voting Democratic," Sawyer said.

Campaigns (Continued from Page One) against forced racial mixing" until he realized he had his foot in a bear trap."

Cooley, in a "non-political" speech to a high school graduating class at Rocky Mount, warned against the "ravings and rantings of the demagogue, whether in the pulpit or on the platform." Cooley earlier in the campaign had described Debnam as a "demagogue."

Rep. Thurmond D. Chatham (D-NC) under fire from the pro-segregationist Patriots of North Carolina Inc. for his refusal to sign the manifesto, accused certain Patriots' leaders of "preaching rabble-rousing, passion and prejudice."
