Little Things

State Senator, Judge Morgan was still receiving congratulations weeks later. . . . Anyway, both of the Robert B. Morgans have two things very much in common—both are good Democrats and both are real vote-getters. . . . Somebody was wondering just what would happen if the two prominent Democratic leaders should ever decide to run against each other for the same office. . . . In that case, the ballot would almost have to carry their picture as well as their name.

BIRTHDAYS: Today is the birthday of B. A. Lingle, Dr. Casper C. Warren (who is presiding over the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Kansas City), Ellen Dalrymple, Worth M. Pope and John Brinkley.

THINGAMAJIGS: The big Dunn warehouse of Akron Irrigation is a busy, hustling place these days. . . . Manager Glenn Cox reports the company has already received more than a half million dollars worth of irrigation equipment here already and most of it has already been shipped out, with other carloads arriving daily. . . . It's keeping Glenn so busy that Mrs. Cox says she feels almost like a widow.

Glenn is a smart, hard-working fellow and he's doing a good job. . . . Hank Gurrin is feeling good again after a stay at Mary Elizabeth Hospital in Raleigh. . . . In case you're planning a trip to New York, Jimmy (The Schmon) Duranite is back at Monte Proser's Copacabana. . . . He's one of the best night club performers we've ever seen; draws a packed house every night, no matter where he is.

Johnnie Wilbourne and Avanelle are getting ready to take off for a vacation in Nassau. . . . Commenting on the new movie, "Rosanna" starring sexy Italian siren Rossana Podesta, The New York Times says: "If Marilyn Monroe is the girl most likely to thaw out Alaska, the Antarctic Chamber of Commerce ought to seek out Rossanna Podesta." . . . The World Telegram says the pix is "Primitive Passion" and the New York Post sums it up as simply "Stark, sexy, torrid." . . . Must be sompin'. . . . And The New York Daily News reports that Ava Gardner's new movie, having its grand premiere at the Music Hall is "a fine spectacle new!" . . . How could any movie starring the Goddess of Love be anything but spectacular! . . . To balance the New York premiere of Gina Lollobrigida in Trapeze, the Capitol Theatre bought a double-page spread in Sunday's New York Times with a picture of Gina—all sprawled out—that's almost life-size. . . . Just the advertising space taken up by Gina's body alone in the Times cost the theatre over $4,200. . . . With Rosanna, Ava, Gina and Jayne Mansfield all in New York, how does anybody expect to keep us country boys down on the farm? . . . No wonder the farm population is decreasing—they're following country girls like Ava to the big town. . . . Incidentally, one of Dunn's young married women looks enough like Ava Gardner—at times—to be her twin, particularly in petal pushers or blue jeans. . . . She's the mother of two children, too. . . . In fact, with the right clothes and a little instruction on pose she'd probably look even better than Ava and she has a lot more talent. . . . Curtis Amos, manager of Leder Brothers, is one of the best-dressed men in town. . . . He's a walking advertisement for men's clothing. . . . George Lafontaine is offering everybody a free wash job at the Mobil Service Center on the Fayetteville highway Wednesday. . . . All you have to do to get your car greased and the oil changed—the washing is thrown in free. . . . A real bargain. . . . Dunn's Gospel Tabernacle is establishing a mission. . . . That's a very progressive church and Rev. Bane Underwood is on the ball.

McLamb, of the Auto Seat Co. near Erwin, where they allegedly broke a window pane. They were ordered to pay $2.50 each to replace the pane. . . . Dannie McNeill was acquitted of charges of non-support.

Charges of assault and larceny against Josephine Judd were dismissed. . . . Rowland Cole, Lillington, Route 2 pled guilty to two charges of non-support of an illegitimate child. He was sentenced to a year on the roads, suspended on payment of $10 weekly for the child's support.

SPEEDER FINED — James Felton Godwin, 33, of Dunn, was one of seven defendants judged guilty of speeding and assessed with court costs at a recent session of Smithfield Recorder's Court.

Nude Models In Fight Over Posing Fees

LONDON (P) — A chilly-war broke out today among the nudes who pose for London's artists colony. A demand for money split them into two equally unclothed camps. The rival parties were barely on speaking terms.

The nudes' trade union, the Artists' Models Assn., was formed last year to fight for higher pay for the country's 500 nude models. Most of its members were young. The older models—some over 50—objected to increased fees. They said a raise would mean fewer jobs for them because more younger girls would be attracted to modelling.

Fees were raised yesterday to five shillings threepence (73 cents an hour.) But today the battle broke out again between the two factions when the older models threatened to secede.

Late today, however, association Secretary Cecile Dormon, 55, said the older models had given in and accepted the new rates. "The trouble is they are jealous of the younger girls," she said.
