HAVANA, Cuba (P) — The Cuban government suspended constitutional guarantees and invoked censorship of the press and radio for a 45-day period early today in its latest move to battle terrorism and revolution.

NAPLES, Italy (P) — An Italian liner arrived here today with 312 more Jews from Egypt, expelled with barely more than the clothes on their backs in the aftermath of the Israeli invasion.

RALEIGH (P) — Representatives of the dairy industry, the State Board of Health and the State Department of Agriculture will study the possibility of allowing dairies to sell multi-vitamin milk. The head of agriculture voted to establish the special committee Monday after hearing conflicting testimony at a public hearing on the question.

RAIFORD, Fla. (P) — Joseph Lester Ezzell, 300-lb. Graham, N. C., insurance salesman, will die in the electric chair next week for the slaying of Jacksonville, Fla., housewife Margaret Baynard. Gov. LeRoy Collins signed a death warrant for Ezzell Monday at Tallahassee but State Prison Superintendent, Dewitt Sinclair will set the actual date and time of the execution.

PHILADELPHIA (P) — Rep. William J. Green was free in $1,000 bail today pending trial in federal court on a charge of accepting a $10,000 bribe from a Hartford, Conn., contractor in connection with construction of the 34-million-dollar Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna, Pa.

RALEIGH (P) — Dr. W. Perry Crouch of Asheville is the new president of the general board of the Baptist State Convention. Crouch, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Asheville, succeeds the Rev. W. G. Bullard of Raleigh, who resigned to accept a pastorate in Baltimore, Md.

RALEIGH (P) — North Carolina railroads have asked the State Utilities Commission for another freight rate increase to avert "irreparable danger."

WILMINGTON (P) — Joseph Howard Cook, 36, under a 10-15 year sentence for attempting to rape an 11 year old girl, entered prison today with a recommendation that he be given a psychiatric examination.

Chamber Awards Coming; Jaycees Want Nominees

Already speculation is beginning about the three important awards to be made when the Chamber of Commerce holds its annual banquet on January 24.

Not only will the senior chamber pick a man and woman of the year, through ballot of a secret committee, but a similar procedure will be used to choose the Jaycees' young man of the year and he will also be presented with this title at the banquet.

Bob Leak said the young man award will go to the person "between the ages of 21 and 36 who has contributed the most to his community in the field of civic service, social service, religion or business or any combination of these fields."

Selection will be made by a committee of which Leak is the non-voting chairman. Nominations can be made by anyone in the community by mailing them to him at Carolina Power and Light Company in Dunn.

The nomination should contain the nominee's name and qualifications. They need not be signed. They should be mailed by Thursday evening, January 17.

Last year's winner was Billy Godwin, successful and active head of Godwin Building Supply Co. and prominent in business and civic affairs. Other winners have been Norman Suttles, now with the radio station in Fayetteville, and Hubert Peay.

INVITING—John Calhoun displays a giant enlargement of the cover of the official 1957 inauguration program, placed on exhibition in Washington. The portraits of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon were executed by famed artist Norman Rockwell.

Dulles Says Ike's Plan Avoids War

WASHINGTON (P) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today there is "very great likelihood" American troops will have to fight in the Middle East unless Congress approves the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution.

But "if this resolution passes," he added, "there is very little likelihood" that U.S. forces would have to go to war in that crisis-ridden region.

Dulles is fighting hard for the President's request for standby military authority in the face of considerable Democratic skepticism. Sen. Henry M. Jackson said the administration thus far has produced "no evidence of any new (Soviet) threat" in the Middle East which would warrant hasty congressional action.

Jackson challenged Dulles' assertion Monday that the danger of Russian domination in the Middle East poses "the most serious threat" to the United States in a decade.

Dulles testified for the second day at a joint meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees.

He estimated at "very much less" than 50-50 the chances of U. S. fighting in the Middle East if Congress approves the President's proposal.

Senator

Bergman gave birth to Rossellini's son in Rome while she was still married to Lindstrom.

Miss Bergman never tried to cover up her conduct or excuse it away.

Just Human Being "One woman's group wrote to me," she said last August, "that I had once been a perfect example for mothers and now I was a horrible example. They saw me in 'Jean of Arc' and thought I was a saint. I'm not. I'm just a human being."

Now she is in for a weekend such as America reserves for its celebrities who have strayed. From the time her plane lands on Saturday until she takes off for Paris again on Sunday, she is in for considerable chaos.

The high point is the Saturday night presentation at Sardi's restaurant, in the heart of the Broadway theatrical district. Winners along with Miss Bergman are actor Kirk Douglas, producer Mike Todd, director John Huston and writer S. J. Pearlman.

On Steve Allen's Show Also invited are a host of other movie and theatrical people now in New York—among them Fredric March, David Wayne, Shelley Gore, Charles Laughton, Carol Baker, Eli Wallach, Kim Hunter, Faye Emerson, Arlene Dahl, Edward G. Robinson, Jeff Chandler, Marlene Dietrich.

NBC's Steve Allen scored something of a coup in his weekly struggle with Ed Sullivan by lining up Miss Bergman—as well as other award winners—for a filmed television interview which he will show the next night.

Sullivan, who has been trying for some time to get Miss Bergman to appear "live" on his show, asked his audience last July whether they would like to see her. Sullivan said this week he got more than 10,000 letters and "they went slightly against her percentage-wise."

Churchmen say it is highly unlikely that any major church group will criticize her during the visit although some individual clergymen may do so. One church-

Seniors Plan Talent Night

Dunn High School is on the lookout for all kinds of talent these days. The seniors will present their annual talent show on January 24 and there is room for many performers.

Butch Fowler, chairman of the event, said that anyone who wants a place on the show, whether they attend high school or not, should contact Miss Ophelia Matthews, principal, or Mrs. Laverne Brown at 3312.

Prizes of seven, five, four and two dollars are to be given to the performers judged to have the best acts. Admission of thirty-five cents and fifty cents will be charged.

Seniors are to have the tickets for the show, and will later use the proceeds to help finance their annual jaunt to Washington, D. C. to see the nation's capitol before saying goodbye to high school life.

Harnett Man Is Facing Trial

Jimmy Hamilton of Route 4, Dunn, in Harnett County, was arrested at the scene of a still Friday morning by ATU officers of Smithfield, Dunn and Fayetteville.

Hearing was waived before U. S. Commissioner Mallie Jackson of Dunn and trial will be in Raleigh sometime in April. Hamilton was freed on $500 bond.

Two 508-gallon sub-marine stills and 70 gallons of non-tax-paid whiskey were found at the still site.

Also seized Friday were four stills in Johnston County and one in Sampson. The Sampson still was a 250-gallon sub-marine type. Johnston stills were as follows: one 70-gallon copper pot still with 200 gallons of mash; one 250-gallon sub-marine pot still; and two 300-gallon sub-marine pot stills with 275 gallons of mash.

No arrests were made at the Johnston and Sampson stills.
