beginning of Fall term. He's shown here being welcomed by Dr. Leslie H. Campbell, president of the Harnett Junior Baptist College. Dr. Greer and Dr. Campbell are old friends.

Dunn's Gonna Grow—Quick!

These Little Things

By HOOVER ADAMS

The Town of Dunn is gonna grow — but fast, man, fast! Officials of Dunn Enterprises, Inc., planning the biggest residential development in the history of the town, will appear before Dunn's city council Thursday night and ask that the 178-acre tract of land be brought into the city limits.

Approval is practically a certainty and that means the size of the town in area will be automatically increased by 12 1-2 per cent.

O. W. Godwin, Sr., head of the development group comprised of six of the town's wealthiest men, said today that one home is already being built in the development and that work on laying out the lots, and installing curb, gutter, sewage, water and paving would begin shortly.

The first home being built there by O. W. (Bill) Godwin, Jr. at a cost estimated to run into several hundred thousand dollars.

President Godwin said today that cost of the curb, gutter, sewage, water and paving would run into several hundred thousand dollars.

"I couldn't come within $100,000 of guessing just how much the cost will be," he said, "but it'll be a terrific sum of money."

No lots will be sold until all these improvements have been made.

He pointed out that only sections of the huge tract will be developed at one time.

Mayor Ralph E. Hanna is secretary-treasurer of Dunn Enterprises. Other owners, in addition to President Godwin and his son, are:

Phone Strike Is Underway

NEW YORK (UP) — Western Electric Co., equipment installers in 44 states went on strike today, and long distance telephone operators refused to pass picket lines at many of the nation's major communications centers.

Supervisory telephone company employees began taking over operation of long distance lines shortly after the strike went into effect at 6 a. m. By mid-morning long distance service in most sections of the country was curtailed, and in some cases reduced to emergency calls only.

Ross Named

The Harnett County Board of Commissioners this afternoon appointed Neil McK. Ross of Lillington as solicitor of the county recorder's court to succeed Charles Williams, who resigned. He will serve at the pleasure of the board with the technical title of assistant solicitor but in reality will have the full responsibility of the office. Ross was defeated for the post by Williams in the last primary.

Soldier Stabbed At Nightspot Saturday P. M.

An 18-year-old soldier from an anti-aircraft battalion at Fort Bragg was stabbed Saturday night at the Cedar Grove nightspot between Bule's Creek and Lillington.

Brought to the hospital in Dunn, Private Gerald Jennings, a Negro, caused so much commotion that he was treated and then taken to the Dunn jail-house where he remained until yesterday afternoon.

Jennings, said Policeman Paul Stogsdill, either "doesn't know or won't tell" who delivered a delicate stab in his stomach region.

"He snatched the bandage off when he was raring around down here at the station," said Stogsdill. "The wound was something that a band-aid would almost cover."

Jennings now is faced in Dunn with a charge of public drunkenness but no other arrests have been made in the case. The policeman said that the owner of Cedar Grove, whom he couldn't identify, came to the police station to bond Jennings out but changed his mind.

This man couldn't say who had stabbed Jennings, either, said Stogsdill.

Yesterday afternoon the soldier was released from the jail here and was taken to Fort Bragg on an ambulance from the Dafford funeral home. He was admitted there for treatment and is reportedly in satisfactory condition.

Patrol Trails School Buses

Daredevil drivers, who don't care whose life they're risking, are often in the news.

Today, Highway Patrol Corporal Romie Williamson had a good word for the rank and file of those who use the public highways.

Since school started, Williamson said, Harnett patrolmen have been following school buses to see if drivers were obeying the injunction not to pass.

So far, the patrolmen haven't had to arrest a single driver for going around a stopped school bus.

While the state of North Carolina has recently had three serious accidents involving school buses, said Williamson, nothing like that has happened here.

In fact, there has not been a serious injury to a school bus rider in Harnett in a number of years.

That is more remarkable in view of the many youngsters involved and the great span of miles they traverse.

Each day that classes are in progress, said Williamson, 7,409 school-children will ride the county buses. There are 131 of these buses in operation. They travel a total of 4300 miles daily.

"I think we're doing pretty good," he said. "I hope it keeps up."

Confidential Jurors Prepare For Stay

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jurors in the Confidential magazine libel trial brought their overnight kits and plenty of aspirin to court today in preparation for deliberation.

Judge Herbert V. Walker in calling a weekend recess Friday told the six-man, six-woman jury to be ready to receive the case today. He advised the jurors to pack an overnight bag to include their toothbrushes, toothpaste and a supply of aspirin.

There was a chance that the jury wouldn't be handed the case until Tuesday. Prosecutor William Ritzel was scheduled to make a rebuttal statement this morning, followed by Walker's instructions to the jury.

The instruction called last most of the day. The judge hinted that he wanted the jurors to understand clearly the charges of libel and obscenity brought by the state against the defendants. The charge of conspiracy to commit libel carries a maximum prison sentence of five years and—or a fine up to $5,000.

The only individuals on trial are Fred and Marjorie Meade, operators of an agency which the state charged gathered smut for Confidential. Mrs. Meade is a niece of Confidential Publisher Robert Harrison.

Harrison and several others on his payroll also were named in a grand jury indictment. They have successfully fought extradition.

FLAMBOYANT—Horn-blowers like Johnny Godwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Godwin had something to get puffed up about on Friday night as Dunn beat Hamlet 20-13 (see Sports Page). Bright uniforms and instruments graced the band which entertained at half-time and kept pulses thumping with some rhythmic numbers throughout the game. (Daily Record Photo by Ted Crall.)

Sold Himself, Prosperity And Western Alliances

Adenauer's Victory Was Overwhelming

BONN (UP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer sold himself, prosperity and the Western alliance to voters to win an unprecedented third term in a sweeping election victory.

His Christian Democrats again won an almost unbelievable absolute majority in Parliament in a contest against 12 other parties.

The victory was so overwhelming that only Germany's proportional representation electoral system gave the Socialists, his main opposition, more than a small voice in the Bundestag.

Why did the Christian Democrats win so decisively? Much of the credit is given to the 81-year-old Chancellor himself.

In two terms totaling eight years in office Adenauer has become to Germans the symbol of the reconstruction of Germany form the ruins of defeat.

No Time Limit

He has become so identified with the young democracy that Germans and foreigners alike ask, "what will happen when Der Alte goes?"

Much of Adenauer's appeal is the fact that he himself has no thought of "going." "Why place a limit on the mercy of God?" he says when references are made to the possibility that he might live to be more than 90.

This firm belief that he has been chosen to guide Germany on what he considers the path of righteousness has filtered down to Germans on all levels.

Many consider him stern, austere, unyielding, but they share

Will Confer With Constituents

Lennon Coming Here Thursday

Congressman Alton A. Lennon will arrive in Dunn Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and spend the entire day here listening to the advice and problems of his constituents in this area.

As a forerunner to his visit, he sent the word that he is especially anxious to see as many farmers as possible to discuss with them the tobacco program, cotton acreage or any other agricultural problem they may have.

In fact, a good part of his day will be spent following sales on the Dunn Tobacco Market and conferring with farmers at local warehouses.

To Attend Sales Representative Lennon will be at the Big-4 Warehouse for the

Delayed By Fog, Plunges Into Swamp

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., (UP)—A fog-delayed Northeast airliner with 24 persons aboard including homeward-bound vacationists plunged into a swamp last night.

At least 10 persons, including the pilot and co-pilot were killed and 14 others were injured when the Boston - to - New York plane slammed into the tree-lined bog near Municipal Airport.

Dead are:

Charles A. Chase of Vineyard Haven, Mass., en route to New York.

The pilot, Captain Vincent L. Pitts, 35, Wellesley, Mass.

Co-pilot, Roger Sweetland, 31, Arlington, Mass.

Allan Melhado, Nantucket and 57 Park Ave., New York, an investment banker.

Mr. M. K. Schles, 675 Madison Ave., New York City.

David L. Chapman, 12 E. 88th St., New York City.

Russell D. Bell, 70, of 4625 Grand Blvd., Montreal, a banker.

Three women's bodies, believed to be:

Mrs. Bradshaw Britton Ave. Elmhurst, L. I.

Mrs. Eccles, Elmhurst, L. I., traveling with Mrs. Bradshaw.

Mrs. Mary Brownell, James town, R. I.

Plane Didn't Burn

The radar-less twin-engine DC3 split wide open like a broken egg. But the death toll was held down by the fact the wreckage did not burn.

Rescuers walked or rode single file over a narrow, winding dirt road, only open access to the swamp, and spread ladders end on end over the bog to gain footing in carrying out the dead, dying and injured.

Floodlights pierced the clammy fog, silhouetting the broken wreckage. It was suspended in trees with the right side of the tall six feet off the ground. The left wing and left tail were sheared off. The left underside was ripped open. The nose was partly buried in mud 50 feet away.

The silver airliner, flight 285, had taken off from Boston's Logan Airport at 5:50 p.m. e. d. t. and had stopped at Hyannis on Cape Cod, and the vacation islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard. The plane was to make a call at New Bedford's Municipal Airport before continuing on to La Guardia Field, New York.

Will Resume Before Union Election

New Hearings For Hoffa

WASHINGTON (UP) — Chairman John L. McClellan said today the Senate rackets committee plans new hearings on the activities of James R. Hoffa before Hoffa seeks the Teamster presidency at the union's convention Sept. 30.

The Arkansas Democrat "tentatively" set next Tuesday—Sept. 24—as the date for starting the new hearings.

The announcement was a partial rejection of Hoffa's request that he not be asked to appear before the committee between Sept. 18 and Oct. 10 when he will be occupied with convention business.

In scheduling the hearings during that period, McClellan said Hoffa will be "invited" to attend them.

Point of "No Memory" Barring a change in plans, he added, Hoffa will not be compelled to attend under the committee subpoena served on him at the conclusion of his prior committee appearance.

At that time McClellan read a 48-point list of "conflicts of interest" against Hoffa and then dismissed the Mideast teamster boss complaining that Hoffa had reached the point of "no memory."

McClellan announced the resumption of hearings after a closed-door meeting with chief committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy. Kennedy recently supervised what he called a "productive" inquiry by committee investigators in Hoffa's home grounds in Detroit.

Necessary to Proceed

McClellan told newsmen: "While the investigation will continue—it is not concluded—sufficient information has been obtained that, as chairman, I feel it is necessary to proceed with further hearings."

He said next Tuesday's date is tentative because he has not had time to consult with other committee members. He predicted that the hearings would last three or four days and feature testimony of 10 to 15 witnesses.

Explaining that Hoffa will not be compelled to attend before the union convention unless future developments require his presence, McClellan commented: "Don't make any mistake. Mr. Hoffa will be called later."

Dunn Merchants Asked To Meet

Important matters will be discussed at a meeting of Dunn merchants tomorrow morning, said David Pope, Pope, president of the Retail Merchants Association, called on all members to be at the Stewart Theatre at 10 a.m.

Annual Editor Wins DAR Award

Jeanne Godwin, a twin who teams up with her sister to do some fancy things on the basketball court, has been named the winner of the DAR's Good Citizen award.

The editor of this year's annual at the high school, she has been active in many extracurricular activities at Dunn High School, was "Student of the Month" as a junior and a delegate to Girl's State.

As the DAR's Good Citizen, she becomes eligible to compete in the state contest for a bond or cash scholarship. The state winner will be entered in the national competition.

When Jeanne graduates, the Corneli Harnett chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will present her with a cup. Qualities considered in choosing here were dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Godwin of 907 North Orange Ave., Jeanne belongs to Hood Memorial Christian Church where she is interested in Christian Youth
