

SYRIAN-TURKISH CRISIS IS EASING

BIG-TIME EDITOR VISITOR HERE—Frank F. Bauer, Jr. Copy Editor of the Hartford, Conn., Times, seated at desk, was a visitor in Lillington and Dunn yesterday and today. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wilbourne of Lillington. Mr. Bauer, who holds a key position on one of the outstanding big dailies of the East, is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Wilbourne's sister.

Mrs. Harriet Graham Panto of Springfield, Mass. Well impressed with Harnett, Mr. Bauer is shown here looking over a copy of The Daily Record. With him are Mr. Wilbourne and daughter, Sharon. Mr. and Mrs. Bauer left today for a vacation to Florida. (Daily Record Photo.)

Sen. Sparkman Says South Won't Change

KARACHI, Pakistan (UP)—Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama said today he told people throughout the Far East President Eisenhower has made a major blunder in handling the Little Rock school integration issue.

Sparkman, a Democratic member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the United Press the people of the South are not going to change their habits and traditions regardless of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Asked if this was what he told the colored peoples of Viet Nam, Cambodia, India, Ceylon and Pakistan, Sparkman said it was.

Sparkman said he feels "the original mistake was made by the Supreme Court in 1954 when the court threw all legal precedent to the winds and ordered integration."

The 1952 Democratic vice presidential candidate said the civil rights amendments to the U. S. Constitution were not truly representative of the feelings of the people in the South.

"They're nothing more than amendments pushed through during the Civil War era when the South wasn't even represented in the federal government," the senator said.

Sparkman said the South was making progress on the race issue until the Supreme Court and Eisenhower "stuck their fingers in it."

"Now the entire matter has set us back many years," he said.

WINDBLOWN CANDIDATES — A breeze was stirring, and faint flecks of rain coming down, as these windblown candidates for the title of Homecoming Queen at Erwin High School had their picture snapped. Twice postponed due to flu among the football players, the Homecoming game is now scheduled definitely for tonight. Girls shown here are (back row, from left) Betty Dowd, Barbara McKaskill, Rebecca Fowler and Margaret Deck. In front row are Judy Williams, Hilda Avery and Penny Gail Johnson. (Record Photo.)

King Saud To Mediate The Dispute

LONDON (UP)—The Syrian-Turkish border crisis eased considerably today. Efforts at mediation began.

Soviet-Syrian charges against the United States and Turkey continued, but with less virulence.

Syria, after first denying it, announced through its embassy in Washington that it had accepted an offer by King Saud of Saudi Arabia to mediate the dispute. Saudi Arabia said meetings would begin "in the next two days."

The Syrian army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Afif el Bizri, was reported flying from Damascus to Riyadh, King Saud's political today.

In 1949, Adenauer was elected chancellor by a single vote majority. In 1953, he was re-elected by a vote of 304 against 148.

On the eve of the vote, Adenauer was reported working out final plans for a new two-party coalition government pledged to speed up German rearmament and retail the close ties with the free West. The Christian Democrat coalition partner will be its

To Clear Up Docket

Long Criminal Term Scheduled

Prime Minister Leaves For U. S.

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan departed for the United States tonight for talks with his "old and trusted" friend, President Eisenhower.

The Prime Minister left London aboard the same British Overseas Airways Corp., DC7C that brought Queen Elizabeth II home from her trip to North America about seven hours before.

Macmillan met the Queen's plane, spending a few moments welcoming her home. He met with her later in Buckingham Palace to advise her of the agenda for his talks with Eisenhower.

The Prime Minister referred to his flight to Washington in a speech tonight to the Royal Society of St. George.

"Tonight as soon as I have finished speaking," he said, "I have to leave for North America. I look forward to another meeting."

A three-week-long criminal term of Harnett Superior Court will be held, starting Nov. 4, in an effort to clear up the growing number of cases that have clogged the calendar.

Assistant District Solicitor Glenn Hooper, Jr., Dunn attorney, said that roughly 150 cases are scheduled for trial. He recalls a similar three-week term before he began the practice of law but no such lengthy term has been held in recent years.

It is normal practice in Harnett to have four one week criminal terms a year and one two-week term. The November session would have lasted two weeks if the decision to extend it had not been made.

At least four murder cases are scheduled for trial with W. M. Keene, Carley Cotten, Louise Williams and Margie McNeill all listed for prosecution.

Still on the calendar is a two-year-old charge against Fred Moore, Coats man who was indicted by a grand jury on testimony that he had attempted to

Far West Is Hit By Snow Storm

By UNITED PRESS A snow storm whipped by northerly winds of up to 35 mph swirled across Montana, and weathermen warned the snow will spread as far south as Wyoming today.

The wintry invasion sent readings skidding into the low 20s in parts of Montana during the night, and a two-inch snowfall blanketed Outbank, Mont.

Forecasters predicted continued snow and strong northerly winds today in Montana with heavy snow accumulations likely in the mountain sections.

Snow also was seen for Wyoming and portions of the Dakotas.

To the south, heavy rains soaked the Southern Plains and the lower Mississippi Valley during the night. San Antonio, Tex., was hit by a two-inch deluge in a six-hour period Monday night, and a number of points, including Lawton, Okla.; Waco, Tex., and Alexandria, La., reported more than one-half inch.

Col. Joyner Resigns As Highway Chief

RALEIGH (UP)—Col. W. T. Joyner of Raleigh today resigned from the State Highway Commission because of physical strain.

Joyner has been chairman of the newly reorganized State Highway Commission since his appointment in July. The chairman of the 14-member highway body.

EVANGELIST HERE — Rev. Jack Hudson (left) of Beaufort, S. C., will be at Hood Memorial Christian Church through Friday. With him here is the pastor of the church, Rev. Jack Daniell. (Record Photo.)

Says Clayton's Death Suicide

Coats Farmer Dies Yesterday From .22 Bullet In Brain

has called "probable suicide" the incident which took the life of Clarence Thomas Clayton, 44, a farmer of Angier, Route 2.

His body was found in a wooded. He had six children, four of whom were dead half an hour or more when discovered, the coroner stated. He had six children, four of whom were living at home.

Pate said that a bullet from a

Byrd Released In Death Of His First Cousin

William Ernest Byrd, 18-year-old Negro youth held in the fatal shooting of his first cousin, Roy Dixon Jacobs, was set free yesterday after two nights and a day in custody.

Coroner R. L. Pate, Sr., said a hearing, not an inquest, was conducted yesterday morning and on

Seven County Leaders Will Tour County

Harnett Places Of Interest Will Be Visited On Oct. 30

By LOIS BYRD Record Staff Writer

Places of interest in Harnett County, which will be visited by leaders of the Capital Area Development Association on Wednesday, Oct. 30, were announced today by John W. Spears, vice president of the development group.

Community leaders from a seven county area will inspect the new Lillington filter plant, built near the Cape Fear River by the Town of Lillington at a cost of around $150,000; the Becker County Sand and Gravel plant, a few miles South of Lillington; Lillington Roller Mills, makers of flour and feed; C. R. Meadows farm notable for its Angus cattle, on Prison Camp Road, east of Lillington; Erwin Mills at Erwin, county's largest textile plant; Wellons Candy Company, Dunn, rapidly developing into a national concern; and Campbell Junior College at Buie's Creek, the county's only college.

To Show What's New

The tour is designed to show what's new in industry and farm practices. It will begin at 2 p. m., from the county seat. Chartered buses will transport visitors from Granville, Warren, Vance, Franklin, Wake, Johnston, as well as a large group of Harnett County people.

Supper will be served at Leaflet Presbyterian Church, Southwest of Lillington. This church recently completed a handsome educational building and has an adjoining manse, typical of many fine rural church plants in Harnett County.

Fun And Free Gifts For Everybody

Comet Rice Quiz At Muse's Thurs.

A state-wide broadcast of The Comet Rice Quiz will be recorded Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Muse Super Market in Dunn.

Jim Reid, popular WPTF commentator and one of the best known radio personalities in the State, will be at Locke Muse's big food center to interview housewives of this area on the popular program.

The program will be taped Thursday afternoon and the actual broadcast will be heard over WPTF Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Housewives appearing on the program will receive an assortment of Comet Rice products.

Free Gifts For All

There will be a free gift for every person who attend.

Jim Reid, who conducts this program each week for WPTF, is well known in Dunn and has many friends here. He has served as master of ceremonies at the last

JIM REID

Young Pastor In Revival Through Fri.

A twenty-four-year-old minister from Beaufort, S. C., with a booming evangelical voice, launched a week-long revival here last night at Dunn's Hood Memorial Christian Church.

Rev. Jack Hudson spoke last night on "A Noble Boast" ("We Preach Christ Crucified") and tonight will talk on "This Business of Being Christian."

The revival is conducted nightly at 7:45 in the church on Cumberland Street at the intersection of Highway 301.

With him to Dunn came his wife, Geraldine, and his seven-month old son, Robert. He just completed a week of evangelism at Belvedere, S. C. He is pastor of the First Christian Church in Beaufort.

Rev. Hudson studied for the ministry at Johnson Bible College in Kimberlin Heights, Tenn.

His final sermon will be delivered Friday.

District Lawyers Hold Annual Meet here

Judge Williams Proposes Intermediate State Court

By LOIS BYRD Record Staff Writer

Judge Clawson Williams of Sanford, resident judge of the Eleventh Judicial District, recommended to members of the district bar association Friday night in Dunn that a new intermediate court, if set up between the present Superior and State Supreme Courts, would serve a useful purpose.

Judge Williams suggested that such a new, middle court, patterned somewhat after the federal judiciary, would tend to screen important cases for the State Supreme Court. This would leave the state's highest court free, Judge Williams said, to decide constitutional matters with long range legal effects. The middle court could make final decision in other suits where no constitutional or unusual legal point was involved.

Lawyers from Harnett, Lee and Johnston Counties met for a dinner, held in Johnston's Restaurant. New officers were elected and a talk by Robert H. Dye, veteran Fayetteville attorney, featured the meeting.

Dye, who has practiced law 55 years, drew on personal recollections of his long service in his profession to cite colorful cases and personalities in the Cumberland County courts.

Williams Presides

Larry F. Wood, Smithfield was elected president to succeed I. R. Williams of Dunn, who presided. Other new officers are Harold Gavin of Sanford, vice-president;

JUDGE WILLIAMS