Tackling Long Superior Court Criminal Term

Presiding Judge George Fountain and assistant solicitor Gleen Hooper, Jr., today began the tedious job of tackling a three-week term of Superior Court which has over 160 cases calendared for trial.

The Tarboro jurist is in Lillington to preside over the first week. This is considered the "extra week" and Judge Hoyle Sink will be here, starting next Monday, to preside over two weeks of regular term.

One divorce was granted this morning on grounds of two-year separation. It went to Mary B. Dorsey from Thomas J. Dorsey.

The first case called for trial was that of three Negroes charged with operating a liquor still. They were James Thomas Cameron, James Alvis Peterson, and Leon Jackson. All three tendered pleas of guilty. Cameron drew 9 months on the roads, suspended on payment of $25 and costs. Peterson, who admitted illegal possession and manufacture, denied ownership of the still; he received six months suspended on payment of $150 and costs. Jackson received the same sentence as Peterson.

As court recessed at noon, a contested driving drunk case was in progress. The defendant was Willie Lee Dixon. He is pleading not guilty.

White House Studies Muttnik Trip To Moon, Space Platform Draw Closer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today that this government is studying Russia's rocket advances "very carefully."

The statement came as congressional and scientific leaders voiced new fears that Russia, already first into space with a satellite and a living animal, may be piling up an unbeatable lead in war missiles.

Two congressional inquiries into the administration's handling of the crucial rocketed missile race with Russia opened today.

The White House, which said Sunday Russia's half-ton Sputnik came as "no surprise" to President Eisenhower, added this comment today:

"The executive branch is analyzing this very carefully, both as to what it means in terms of rocketry and, also, as to its scientific significance."

No Special Session
The President held a series of personal and telephone conferences Sunday with members of his staff and what the White House described as "several scientific and national security advisers." As a proposal by Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney D-Wy., that the President call a special session of Congress on the missile-satellite (Continued On Page Two)

Trip To Moon, Space Platform Draw Closer

MOSCOW (UP)—The official Communist organ Pravda said today Russian scientists were planning to use anthropoid apes as the next passengers for space vehicles as a result of their successful launching of Sputnik II.

Observers in Moscow already had reported a Soviet space platform and rockets to the moon the next most likely steps of Soviet science now that the second earth satellite is orbiting around the earth with a live dog aboard as the first space traveler.

And Soviet scientists already were indicating they might try to bring back to earth safely the Eskimo Husky dog that was shot into space early Sunday in Russia's second earth satellite in a month.

Today Pravda gave indications of bigger things to come when it said scientists were planning to send apes into space since the animals and their reactions would be much closer to man in preparation for future manned flights to the moon.

In recent months Soviet scientists indicated they hoped for manned flight to the moon by 1960. Preliminary investigations with living animals would be necessary before man himself can penetrate space for the first time.

Thousands To Arrive Thursday

Shriners' Heads Whirling As Big Day Draws Nearer

These Little Things

By HOOVER ADAMS

COURT DRAMA UNFOLDING; ED AND HIS 32 GIRLS

A three-weeks criminal term of Harnett Superior Court opened this morning with cases involving just about every crime in the book slated for trial... There are 10 murder cases, about a dozen cases of assault with intent to kill, 34 cases of driving drunk, 18 cases involving larceny; 13 cases of violating the prohibition law; nine forgery cases; and a variety of others ranging from public drunkenness to fornication and adultery... One case that won't be tried is that of Dorothy Long, the Detroit Negro who met Edsel Hestlip at choir practice, became his mistress and then allegedly aided him in plotting and carrying out the (Continued on Page Two)

The problem in the arrival here Thursday of from three to four thousand Shriners will be how to keep your eye on them all.

Bursting with energy and so remote from other things that they barely have time to worry about Sputnik or Muttnik or the queer behavior of the stock market, Dunn's Shriners are daily working up new twists for the big celebration here.

ROYAL COLOR GUARD

It can now be revealed—preferably with a blast from royal trumpets—that the same color guard which served Her Royal Majesty Queen Elizabeth at Jamestown will be part of the big Shrine parade.

That parade will start down Broad Street at 11:30 and it will mean a holiday for, among others, all Dunn schoolkids who are to be let out for the rest of the day.

Shrine President Paul L. Strickland, local automobile dealer, is the vortex of the powerful energy center which is now working up plans for the Cold Sands Ceremonial.

He has considered it a tribute (Continued On Page Two)

Police Nab 16 Drivers Via Whammy

Dunn police, who use the Whammy whenever time is available, snared 16 speeders in the month of October by checking with their mechanical time clock.

This was reported on the monthly summary of police activities submitted to City Manager A. B. Uzzle, Jr., by Police Chief Alton Cobb.

Cobb found that liquor was involved in 33 percent of the arrests made in October. That may sound high but it actually marks a come-down from the usual figure. Liquor frequently figures in as many as half of the arrests.

Twenty persons were arrested for drunkenness on the streets, seven for driving drunk, one for non-support, six for stop sign violations, six for disorderly conduct, six for no operator's license, one for interfering with an officer, four for careless and reckless driving, and four for larceny. Total number of arrests in October was 81.

COUNCIL TOPICS—Only minor matters have been suggested for discussion at the regular Thursday night meeting of the Dunn City Council. City Manager A. B. Uzzle, Jr., reported today that so far "it doesn't appear there'll be much to talk about." Agenda items include the tax collector's report, discuss of water and sewer installations in the Lakeside Village real estate development; a tax refund request on property owned by Bob and Sam Baer, Dr. C. E. Roberts and James Snipes.

PAVING WEATHER—Kline Paving Co., scheduled to start last week on some street-repairs, has to delay because of interference from the weather. Now they are planning to start Wednesday on paving for Harnett, By, Park, Wayne and South Gen. Lee Avenues.

MARRIAGE WOES—Bess Myerson, TV actress who was "Miss America of 1945," and her husband, Allen Wayne, were all smiles when they were pictured above on their wedding day in Dec. 1946. But everything is not rosy now. Wayne, a salesman, was arrested by New York police, after Miss Myerson charged that he invaded her bedroom in their New York apartment, ripped her pajamas off and attempted to choke her. The couple were recently reconciled after a long estrangement.

King Owes Crown To Buggy Era

Halloween royalty — or least one of the Kings—at the Lillington school Halloween carnival owes his crown to the interest in the horse and buggy era.

Selection of a King and Queen for both the elementary and high schools is one of the carnival's biggest features. Popularity is the basis for the selection and each vote costs one penny.

Joe Hudson, handsome senior, with dark eyes and an easy smile, as the King chosen from the high school candidates. He was the first to admit that his enterprising classmate, Ruth Sexton, had a money making idea when she brought, with school permission, her father's fine saddle horses and carts to the school a day before the carnival. Ponies also were borrowed from Roger Mann.

Pupils, long wheeled to school daily on buses or private automobiles, looked with longing eyes on a pony ride. For ten cents they realized their ambition, and Miss (Continued on Page Two)
