"If all the members of all the committees make their calls, we will have reached every individual and every firm in Dunn. That is all we need to do. I am convinced that if we give Dunn citizens the opportunity to contribute, they will support the United Fund 100 per cent."

Chairmen for the General Solicitation Committee are Billy Pearsall and Marshall Early. Chapter Plan heads are last year's president and campaign chairmen, Frank Belote and Robert Bryan. The Junior Woman's Club, under Mrs. David Pope and Mrs. Clarence Roberts will conduct the residential solicitation.

Agencies in the United Fund this year are the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, American Red Cross, Dunn Free Will Baptist Orphanage, Falcon Orphanage, Salvation Army, Dunn Recreation Commission, Florence Crittenden Home, Children's Home Society, W.A.I.F., U.S.O., United Medical Research Foundation of North Carolina, North Carolina Association for Mental Health, American Social Hygiene Association, National ov-

THINGAMAJIGS: Seven Dunn businessmen and playboys, extraordinary (pardon, fellows, that slipped) saw the Washington Redskins play the New York Giants last weekend in the nation's capitol. They were: Hubert Peay, Paul Perry, Willie Biggs, Ed Byette, Harold Jernigan, Derwood Godwin, and Woody Myers. A big old time, of course, was had by all seven stages. Speaking of playboys, you can give your favorite playboy a lifetime subscription to Playboy Magazine as a Christmas gift for only $150. Not only that, if he happens to live in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Dallas or Miami, the magazine will send a curvey playmate in person to deliver the gift. Those who live elsewhere will receive a personal phone call and greeting from Playgirl Janet Pilgrim to announce the gift. The most appropriate statement we've seen about the State Fair yet was by Frank Jeter, Jr., who wrote in The Fayetteville Observer: "The State Fair is full of people. The Rev. Leslie C. Tucker of Dunn's First Presbyterian Church is a proud new papa. Which also makes Capt. I. R. Williams a proud new grandpa! And where are the cigars?"

BIRTHDAYS: Today is the birthday of Betty Sue Russell, Jackie Johnson Bissette, Jan Dykema, Robert M. Jernigan, Mrs. J. P. Lee, Stephenie Rose McLeod, Mrs. Busbee Pope, William A. Taylor, Jr., R. D. New Pontiacs Selling Good

Nation-wide acceptance of the new 1959 Pontiac was evidenced today as Pontiac dealers reported sales, and confirmed orders of over 20,500 cars during the first three days of sales, according to S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

It is on display at Strickland Motor Co. in Dunn. Knudsen termed the early customer response "unprecedented in our history" as nationwide reports by Pontiac dealers listed 2,561 on-the-spot sales and over 18,000 orders on hand.

"Customer reaction to our new line substantiates confidence that 1959 will be a year of opportunity for Pontiac," Knudsen said. "Customer reaction to our new line substantiates confidence that strike. Dealers report enthusiastic acceptance of Pontiac styling and great interest in Pontiac's revolutionary Wide Track."

A husky young man hesitated in the open door of the church asking, "Pastor, may I see you?" He was in deep emotional distress.

Behind the closed door of the pastor's study his secret came out. In stammered sentences and with angry tears in his eyes, he told how an older man had taken unfair advantage of him causing great financial loss. Burdened with a feeling of injustice and mistreatment he had left home to go to the office of the man and assault him, perhaps kill him. A second thought changed his plan and he came to the pastor's study. He placed his small gun on the pastor's desk. After a conference of half an hour he agreed that physical violence would not settle anything but would unsettle everything. He had decided even to return good for evil. He asked the pastor to keep the gun. Less than six months later the older man died. The young man called his pastor, "I am so thankful I did not follow my first impulse."

The teachings of Jesus not only encourage non-violence, they insist on forgiveness of enemies. Many startling words were spoken by the Master in the Sermon on the Mount, but none more so than, "I say unto you, Love your enemies" (Matthew 5:44). All agree, "This is a beautiful idea," but wonder, "Is it possible to attain?" Human nature rebels against the thought of loving one's enemies. Man's inclination is to return evil for evil, and to return hate for hate.

Can we really love our enemies? The answer is found in the attitude of God toward his enemies; he loves them but he does not aid them in their evil works. The Creator makes the sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sends the rain on the just and unjust. In love of enemies, close affection may be absent, but a desire for their welfare and highest good is present. God has good will for all men.

When a president of the United States was asked to help the son of one of his political enemies he said, "I would seek no sweeter revenge over my enemies than to do them favors."

To obey the commandment, "Love your enemies," releases the heart from the chains of hatred, and gives freedom and peace of mind.

To learn how to do this, seek the help of a Baptist pastor and the fellowship that may be found in a Baptist church.

Terry Warns Watch Dick

DANBURY — Former State Senator Terry Sanford of Fayetteville today warned that Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is "a man who needs watching."

Describing Nixon as "the lonesome Rhodes of politics," speaking to a Stokes County Young Democratic Rally, Sanford compared him with the fabulous but ruthless character portrayed by Alf Griffith in "A Face in the Crowd" who stormed his way to the top, finally to be exposed, discovered and discredited by the public in spite of clever publicity gimmicks.

"Nixon's similarity is frightening," Sanford asserted. "He and his 'handlers' use the same kind of publicity tricks calculated to gain popular appeal at the moment."

"But," Sanford continued, "I believe the American people are fast getting on to 'Tricky Dicky' Nixon, who vacillates back and forth on nearly every issue."

He said it is generally conceded that Nixon has "locked up" the Republican Party's nomination, "while even now his 'handlers,' reportedly are moving to 'disassociate' him from the fading and failing Eisenhower administration and the man whose cloak-tales he clutched to reach the pishion he now holds."

The speaker outlined a "positive program if progress" for the Democratic Party in North Carolina with emphasis upon public education, supported by improvement of farming opportunities and greater industrial development in firmly established North Carolina as "The Land of Opportunity."

Miss Juanita Butler and Mrs. W. L. West visited Mrs. Paul Hudson and Mrs. Lib Brinkley Thursday evening.

Mrs. A. W. Weeks spent several days in Garner last week visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Garner.

Little Betty Warren and brother, George, of Clinton were the guests of their grandmother, Mrs. John C. Warren, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Westbrook are spending a few days in Western North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren were guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warren, in Weldon on Wednesday. They were accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. R. C. Warren, who has been spending sometime with her son, Mr. Robert Warren.

Mrs. J. A. Coley, Sr., of St. Pauls is spending sometime with her daughter, Mrs. Bowden Warren, and Mr. Warren.

Mrs. Ralph Britt and daughter, Cindy, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Jackson, in Erwin Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Emerson Warren is a patient at Sampson Memorial hospital in Clinton.

Mrs. John Ellis Warren and son, John E., spent the weekend in Asheville with her relatives.
