

+ WEATHER +

Considerable cloudiness this afternoon with some light drizzle or rain in mountains. Cloudy and colder tonight and Wednesday morning.

The Daily Record

THE RECORD IS FIRST

VOLUME 9

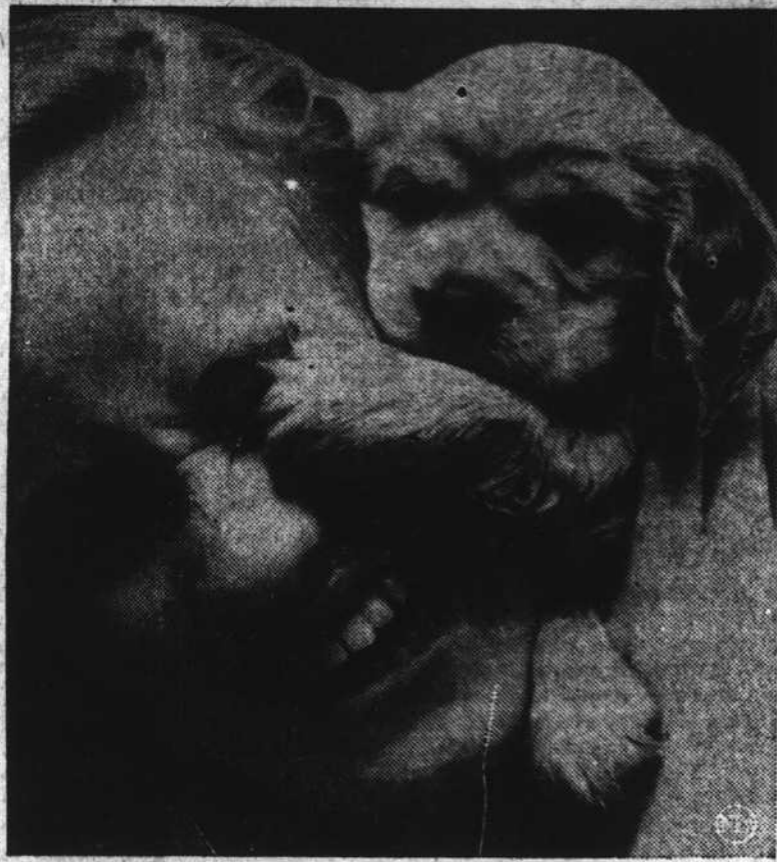

TELEPHONE 3117 — 3118

DUNN, N. C. TUESDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 27, 1959

FIVE CENT PER COPY

NO. 36

REDS LAUNCH ECONOMIC OFFENSIVE

SHE'S REALLY HAPPY—Regardless of that paw in her eye, Diane Williams, 12, of St. Petersburg, Fla., is a happy girl. She cuddles Lucky, given her by a kennel owner after another pet dog she owned was killed by a car.

Racing Charged In Auto Crash

These Little Things

By HOOVER ADAMS

JUST A SMALL OUTFIT—$13-$14 MILLION A YEAR

Daniel R. Toll of Tulsa, Oklahoma, vice president of Engineering Construction Company, was in Dunn today to inspect progress being made on the laying of pipelines for the North Carolina Natural Gas Corporation. His company is laying the pipes for the gas concern.

Toll was telling us something about his company, which also owns oil and gas interests in Cuba, Bolivia and other foreign countries as well as in Midwest and Southwest states.

"Our company," he explained a little apologetically, "is really just a small outfit," pointing out that last year's volume of business was "only about $13 or $14 million."

"And you say your company is just a small outfit?" we asked.

"Oh," he said, "that's nothing in the oil business."

BIRTHDAYS: Today is the birthday of County Attorney J. Robert Young...Yesterday was the birthday of Annette Barefoot, Wade Brannon, Jr. and Raymond L. Cromartie, Jr.

LITTLE NOTES: Dunn High Seniors have picked one of their own members, Tommy Thompson, president of the class, to deliver this year's commencement address.

The Rev. Jack Daniel of Farmville, until recently pastor of Hood Memorial Church, has been invited to deliver the Baccalaureate sermon...Dunn Rotarians will not

(Continued On Page Two)

A pre-arranged race between two teenage youths driving late model cars ended in near disaster late Saturday night, the State Highway Patrol said this morning.

Ronald Cleo Moore, 14, son of Cleo Moore, a Wade storekeeper, faces trial for pre-arranged racing and hit and run driving as a result of the incident.

Another teenager, Lawrence L. Hayes, 18, South Stewart St., Raeford, also is charged with pre-arranged racing.

According to the investigating patrolman, J. L. Wilson, Moore and Hayes were attempting to "find out which car would go the fastest."

They drove side by side along the old Dunn Road north of Godwin at high rate of speed, Wilson said. Hayes pulled ahead of Moore and then attempted to make a right turn from the left side of the road.

Wilson said Moore's car struck the Hayes auto, swerved off the road.

(Continued On Page Two)

Hopped-Up Slayers Are Sought

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police screened Broadway's garish jazz hangouts today for the couple that knifed to death the assistant manager of Birdland and stopped at the checkroom for their coats on the way out.

The slain man, Zachariah (Irving) Levy, 36, will be buried today at Paramus, N.J. Police were working on the theory that his slaying was a case of vengeance and mistaken identity by assailants who were "hopped up" on narcotics.

Levy tangled with a burly, sandy-haired man in his early 40's and a younger pony-tailed, red-haired companion near a service bar in the famous jazz joint at

(Continued On Page Six)

Will Name Man, Woman, Young Man of Year

Top Chamber Event Thursday

The best-kept secret in town is the slate of winners in the annual selection here of a Man, Woman and Young Man of the Year.

On Thursday night, the news will be out for good. The committee which labors on this matter traditionally reveals its choices during the annual banquet of the Dunn Chamber of Commerce.

Ticket sales have reportedly moved briskly this year, with a number of local clubs planning to attend in blocs, but those who want to attend can still obtain tickets ($2 per person) at the Chamber office.

Instead of an outside speaker, some local crystal-gazing will form a major part of the program on Thursday night.

Broadcaster John Thomas will m. c. all events and call on Chamber committee heads to take three or four minutes each and present "a look into the future."

They will diagram some of the goals they hope to achieve during the forthcoming year.

Thomas said that this part of the program will be staged to (Continued On Page Two)

MEDICAL SOCIETY HEADS — Dr. Bruce Blackmon (left) of Buie's Creek took office recently as president of the Harnett County Medical Society. Vice-president is Dr. D. C. Woodall of Erwin. The local society has voted unanimously to approve an upcoming bill that would make the Salk vaccine mandatory for children before they reach school-age.

Funeral Set For Johnson

Warner Cleveland Johnson, 71, of Lillington, Route 1, died at 4:30 p.m. Monday in Betsy Johnson Memorial Hospital at Dunn.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, 3 p.m. at Nellie's Creek Baptist Church near Angier. The body will lie in state from 2-3 p.m.

The body will remain at the Hatcher-Skinner & Drew Funeral Home in Dunn until taken to the church.

The Rev. Jack Holt, pastor, the Rev. Charles B. Howard and the Rev. G. Scott Turner will officiate. Burial will be in the Nellie's Creek Church cemetery. The body will lie in state for one hour prior to the services.

Active pallbearers will be W. A. Johnson, Findley Chambers, John T. Johnson, Lewis Johnson, Hector Green and Tommy Johnson.

Honorary pallbearers will be Nathan M. Johnson, Sr., Dr. Bruce Blackmon, Dr. Leslie H. Campbell, Bob Harvey, Mr. Laughintot, Joel G. Layton, Jr., J. E. Womble, John Spears, Charlie Upchurch.

Mr. Johnson was the son of Archie and Annie Johnson of a family long prominent in the affairs of Harnett County.

Johnson was a native and lifelong resident of Harnett County and was a farmer by occupation. He belonged to Nellie's Creek Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Minnie Matthews Johnson; four sons—Berles C. Johnson, county tax supervisor; Corlis M. Johnson and Caswell Johnson, all of Lillington, Route 1; and Ellis C. Johnson of Fayetteville. Four surviving daughters are Mrs. Lee Beal of Route 1, Lillington; Mrs. Cad Upchurch of Dunn; Mrs. Jarvis H. Langdon of Fayetteville and Mrs. John H. McPhaul of Fayetteville; fifteen grandchildren and two brothers—A. G. Johnson and Rex Johnson, both of Route 1, Lillington. Three sisters — Mrs. E. V. Greene of Route 1, Lillington; Mrs. Fanny Harrington of Buie's Creek; and Mrs. W. L. Chambers of Buie's Creek.

(Continued On Page Two)

Millions Proposed For Depressed Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thirty-nine Senators from both parties tossed a new challenge at President Eisenhower's economy campaign today by calling for a 375-million-dollar program of aid to depressed areas.

The measure is patterned closely after one the President vetoed as too costly last August. It contrasted with the administration's request for 55 million dollars next year to help areas hard hit by unemployment.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), who planned to introduce the bill on behalf of 32 Democratic and 6 Republican co-sponsors, denied that it would be inflationary. He maintained that "dollars spent to promote production by otherwise idle or inefficiently employed resources... would in fact be anti-inflationary."

(Continued On Page Two)

Veto Election Issue — Eisenhower's veto was a big issue in many distressed areas in last year's congressional election campaign. Democratic leaders have made it clear they intend to push similar legislation through Congress again this year.

Douglas, in a statement prepared for introduction of the bill, told the Senate the legislation would:

—Establish a 100-million-dollar revolving fund for federal low-interest 30-year loans for industrial projects in industrial redevelopment areas.

—Set up another 100-million-dollar revolving fund for similar loans for industrial projects in rural redevelopment areas.

Cites Chronic Unemployment — Provide still another revolving (Continued On Page Two)

Dunn's Alfred Blalock Meets One

Lady Rebels Part Of Cuban Scenery

Dunn's Alfred Blalock, who chose to sit it out in Cuba rather than evacuate, obviously isn't in dutch with the new regime.

In photos received here, he can be seen posing familiarly with the proudly bearded rebels whose swift ascension to power was accomplished earlier this month.

Blalock pointed out that in one photo, the gun-toting rebel beside him is a lady from the Sierra Maestre. There were 2000 rebels in this camp, he noted. Half a dozen appear in the photograph with him.

left for Key West while the rioting and other offshoots of the final Rebel thrust were still taking place in Havana.

But the wealthy former lumberman from Dunn decided he had nothing to fear, stuck to his Cuban home.

(Continued On Page Two)

Designed To Overtake USA Before 1970

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev launched the Soviet Union today on an historic economic offensive he said would win "millions to socialism, and vanquish the forces of war."

Khrushchev was buoyant and jovial as he put forth his tax-free seven-year plan before a cheering Communist Party congress and said it was aimed at ending the cold war by making Russia supreme over the capitalist world.

With it he put an implied doctrine that neither hot war nor cold war is inevitable in the face of growing Communist economic power, and a plan that will increase Soviet production 80 per cent by 1965.

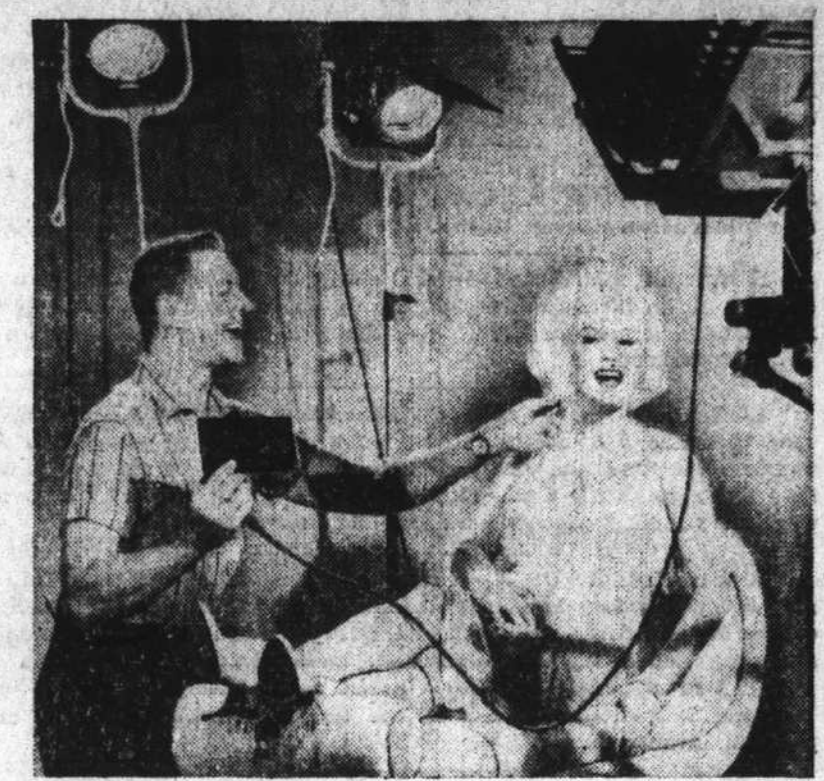

"The seven-year plan is a decisive stage in the economic competition of socialism and capitalism," he said. "This plan will greatly influence the entire international situation and prove a new triumph of Marxism-Leninism."

"Our successes in the fulfillment of the plan will attract to the side of socialism millions of adherents," he said. "They will lead to the strengthening of the forces of peace and the weakening of the forces of war."

Taxes to End — As a token of the Communist system's rising strength, he said, the direct taxes on the people will be abolished in the "near future." He then called for an 80 per cent increase in overall production to bring Russia abreast of the West.

The smiling, wisecracking Khrushchev mentioned that Russia had rockets and intercontinental ballistic missiles, but his aims appeared to be to convince the world the Russians and communism would win out by replacing military force with economic power.

The immense scope of the plan — higher industrial production, (Continued On Page Two)

IN THE SPOTLIGHT — Photographer Bob Collins (Bob Cummings) shows enthusiasm over his assignment to make glamor photos of Mamie Van Doren, guest star in "Bob Meets Van Doren" on "The Bob Cummings Show" Tuesday, Feb. 3 on the NBC-TV Network.

Mack McCoy Held for Murder

Man Hit With Chair Dies Monday Night

Last night at 10:25 a 38-year-old Coats Negro, Adam Oats, finally met death after lingering since Sunday.

This morning Harnett County authorities charged Mack McCoy, Oats' housemate, with murder. They had been holding McCoy in a cell at the county jail since Sunday under a temporary charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

The deadly weapon was a chair. McCoy is accused of bringing it down on Oats' head so forcibly that it has now taken his life.

Harnett Chief Deputy B. E. Sturgill said he broke the news to McCoy this morning that Oats had died and that he would be charged with murder.

"He didn't have anything to say about it," said Sturgill.

The officer said he does not know the circumstances that led up to the fatal assault. Pending an (Continued On Page Two)

Newton Grove Man Loses Left Leg

3 Stills, 1 Man Taken In Sampson

Six officers, one of the largest still raiding groups ever employed, found three stills and one man charged as a bootlegger over the weekend.

Just before daybreak Friday Deputies Worth Lockerman, J. E. Warren, Gordon Smith and Graham Butler, accompanied by ABC Officer Ira Hatch and Constable Hugh Lee, sneaked up on a two-still outfit in Plain View township. It was ready for operation, but nobody was around.

The officers destroyed a 600-gallon and 200-gallon still, 1,000 gallons of mash, a condenser, cap, and copper kettle.

Next the posse went to Newton Grove township and found a recently operated 250-gallon outfit, together with a half gallon of "sugar head."

The arrest came when the deputies went to the home of Rob Hill, 80, Negro of South River township near Garland, armed with a search warrant. They found 72 cans of beer, four pints (Continued On Page Six)

Big String Of Car Thefts Admitted By Erwin Youth

are from Erwin, said Harnett Chief Deputy B. E. Sturgill.

BY THIS MORNING, when he was taken to Fayetteville for his first hearing on a grand larceny charge, Sills had counted up the number of cars he had lifted.

Policeman Paul Stogsdill of Dunn, who took him to the Fayetteville court, said the youth declared there were 14 lifted in which he was directly involved.

"Apparently there were others taken that he had no part in," said Stogsdill.

The officers are not entirely satisfied with Sills' statement because they feel he is enjoying his (Continued On Page Two)

Jet Drive-In Has One Are Special Deputies A Good Idea?

A few weeks before his Jet Drive-In was opened, Thomas Dupree, Sr., leaned out of a car window and told what he was trying to build out there.

He said he felt like the youngsters of the community were entitled to a nice place where they could dance and have fun and where a few rough ones wouldn't spoil it for everybody.

Sometime later on the date isn't quite clear—an effort was made to have the Harnett County board of commissioners appoint a special officer who would keep order there.

The commissioners declined to take this action but Mrs. Inez Harrington, who records the meetings, recalls that the person who spoke for the Drive-In on that occasion told her he would "get somebody and pay him himself."

Present Sheriff Wade Stewart said his predecessor, Claude Moore, first appointed John Smith to act as a "special deputy" for the Jet drive-in. Sheriff Stewart said he continued this appointment. Officials of Dunn Recorder's Court say that Smith has identified himself, when examined in the witness chair, as a former Raleigh policeman.

(Continued On Page Two)