

+ WEATHER +

Partly cloudy, somewhat warmer most sections this tonight and Saturday. Scattered thundershowers likely in west and central portions Saturday.

The Daily Record

VOLUME 10 TELEPHONE 3117 — 3118 DUNN, N. C. MONDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 23, 1960 FIVE CENTS PER COPY NO. 121

SEAWELL TO TERRY: PUT UP OR SHUT UP

TOURS HARNETT — Harnett Coroner R. L. Pate, Sr., (left) greeted John Larkins as the noted old pro, now running for the state's top job, tackled all comers—friend and foe alike—on a hard-talking tour of this county. (Record Photo by Ted Crail.)

Governor Candidate Tours Harnett

Larkins Critical Of Lake

By TED CRAIL
John Larkins has a face like pie crust—about the same color and with a kind of rough formed-under-heat texture.
That's not throwing off on him because the most notable of American politicians had the same craggy sort of face, fashioned for strength and not for beauty.
Campaigning through Harnett County this morning, he kept his hand-shaking arm extended in front of him like the cow-catcher on a slightly old-fashioned but high-powered train.
A squat Lillington man called to Larkins, "Ol' Sanford sure is cryin' ain't he?"
Larkins just winked at that. He was a little hard to draw out on individual criticisms of the other three running for the governorship. He said this was kind of a family-fuss they were all having and when the primary is over he expects everybody, like good Democrats, to work together.
But he did have something to say about Dr. I. Beverly Lake.
Dr. Lake, he said, claims he wrote the act which governs school assignments in North Carolina.
"Well, it was written in the attorney general's office and just which lawyer did it I wouldn't know. But even so, the idea was not his. It was done on the recommendation of the Pearsall committee."
He said that Dr. Lake, far from having a more effective approach to the school question than the other candidates, has made a proposition which would upset the balance.
"He would have the state adopt

Condemnation Bill Still Not Voted On

Whether new homes here should be required to include special mechanical garbage grinders is still being debated in the city council.
The proposed measure, along with a condemnation ordinance, was slated for a vote last Thursday night but councilmen continued the actual vote until later.
Action on the garbage disposals has been pending for some months now. Theory of its proponents is that city garbage collectors won't have to handle so much "wet garbage." The disposals would be required, at least at first, only in new construction.
Councilman B. A. Bracey was absent at the latest meeting of the board. The condemnation ordinance was put back for discussion when all board members will be present. The city has invited comment from townspeople on this ordinance, the text of which can be examined at city hall.
Mayor George Franklin Blalock told the commissioners Thursday night that there has been no further word from the county about joint city-county planning since a joint session many weeks ago.
Board member Bill Bryan proposed that the city check its policy on requiring a $200 fee for sending the fire department to an out-of-town fire. His proposal was pre-empted by the burning of a car belonging to high school coach Guy Wilson, a Dunn resident who happened to be outside town when his car caught fire and burned. City attorney Howard Godwin will determine whether the car, as personal property of an actual resident, would be subject to the same fee as other rural fires.

TERRY SANFORD ADDRESSES HARNETT RALLY

Terry Says Weather:

Too Hot For Runoff

Gubernatorial candidate Terry Sanford told a throng of cheering supporters late Saturday that, "The past three days of campaigning has convinced me that it's going to be too hot to fool with a second primary. We've got to wrap it up this time and I believe you can help me do it."
The crowd roared its approval of victory in the first primary and (Continued On Page Two)

Witnesses for Jones in Florida

Dynamiting Trial Delayed By Defense

The bus dynamiting trial of Enoch Jones has been delayed until the next term of Harnett Superior Court as the result of a defense motion.
Dunn attorney D. K. Stewart, who will represent Jones in the New Year's Eve dynamiting case, told Judge William Y. Bickett that two witnesses, important to the defense, were in Florida and could not testify at this session.
Stewart identified the witnesses as Dan McCausley and his wife, Sarah. He did not say how their testimony would bear on the evidence to be presented. Jones was bound over for grand jury action from Recorder's Court in Dunn.
State-wide attention was directed to the dynamiting which involved a school bus used to transport Indian youngsters from this county to East Carolina Indian school, where there are high school facilities. The dynamiting was widely interpreted as precipitated by rows between school officials and Indian parents.
Since his release under bond in the dynamiting, Jones has been arrested again by Cumberland County authorities. He is charged with the stabbing of Willford Strickland, a youth rumored by one of the witnesses on whom the prosecution planned to rely in the prosecution case. Jones, arrested for assault, claimed that Strickland cut himself during an argument.

ELECTED EASILY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Mayor Paul Egan of Aurora, Ill., appealing to the state Legislature to make his police and fire department obey him, said: "I was elected mayor because anybody could get elected — and anybody was."

Beverly's Mother Turns To Spiritual

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mrs. Florence Adland said today she wants to become a spiritual counselor dedicated to helping young girls in trouble.
"I believe," she said, "that so many young girls called juvenile delinquents need understanding and love—not punishment."
Mrs. Adland's daughter, Beverly Adland, is scheduled to be released from juvenile hall today where she has been held since April 9 for lack of parental supervision.
She was committed there the day bit actor William Stanciu, 21, died from a bullet wound he accidentally incurred during a nude romp with Beverly through her bedroom struggling for a gun. (Continued On Page Two)

Accused of Raping Negro Girl

Youths Facing Grand Jury As New Court Term Opens

A one-week criminal term of Harnett Superior Court began in Lillington this morning with not a single accused murder on the docket but a candidate for governor or right on the spot.
Judge William Y. Bickett will preside over what may be a relatively quiet session. Despite the lack of impending murder trials (a rare lack, indeed, for the court), some serious cases were slated for grand jury action.
Two local youths — Alvin Eldon Page of Erwin and Jimmie Hodges of Dunn — are charged by a young Negro housewife, Eunice Hines of Dunn, with raping her at Horseshoe Bend after forcing her into a car.

Gubernatorial candidate John Larkins was at the courthouse as court took up this morning and (Continued On Page Five)

Hawaiian Islands Hard Hit

Tidal Waves Kill Nine

HONOLULU (UPI) — A series of tidal waves triggered by Chilean earthquakes smashed into the Hawaiian Islands today, killing at least nine persons and causing untold injuries and widespread destruction.
Tidal waves also struck California, beaching boats and damaging waterfront facilities from San Diego to San Francisco. No injuries were reported on the mainland.

The waves were generated by disastrous earthquakes which rocked Chile during the weekend, killing at least 205 persons and injuring another 1,000. The destructive force of the quakes, rocking the Chilean coast from Concepcion to Ancud, was compounded by torrential rains and 30-foot tidal waves.

Hardest hit in the Hawaiian Islands was the port city of Hilo on the "big island" of Hawaii. (Continued on Page Five)

TERRY, FRIENDS AND MR. DEMOCRAT — Tom Davis of Pink Hill brought "Mr. Democrat," his Democratic donkey to the Terry Sanford rally Saturday. Mr. Democrat rides in a swanky trailer decorated with signs urging Democrats to vote for Sanford and the trailer is pulled by a new Cadillac. Candidate Sanford and his supporters, of course, like the idea very much. Pictured with Mr. Democrat are Harnett Democratic Chairman Myres Tighman, left, D. W. W. Stanfield, center, his county manager, and Candidate Sanford. (Daily Record Photo.)

These Little Things

By HOOVER ADAMS
LITTLE NOTES ABOUT PEOPLE, POLITICS, ETC.
Judge Malcolm Seawell's campaign for governor entered the final week today a little quieter than usual.
In fact, his campaign manager in Harnett, Attorney Bobby Bryan of Dunn, was plum speechless — couldn't say a word in his behalf. And can't until a few days after the votes are counted Saturday night.
It's doctor's orders. The energetic young Dunn lawyer was stricken with a throat ailment and doctors have advised him not to utter one single word for at least 10 days.
But Bobby can still pass out cards and is hoping to get his voice back in time for the second primary.

ABOVE LAKE — Somebody right in the middle of the beautiful lake which adjoins the pasture planted a big Terry Sanford sign on King Roberts ranch where the Sanford rally was held Saturday afternoon.
Terry spotted the sign rising and (Continued on Page Five)

Delta Jet Crashes On Take Off

Plane Crash In Atlanta Kills 4

ATLANTA (UPI) — A swept-wing Delta Air Lines Convair 880 jetliner crashed and burned on a training flight takeoff on an Atlanta Airport runway today, apparently killing the four crewmen aboard.
A Delta official said the plane was destroyed by fire at the end of a runway and "there's not a chance that any of the four crewmen got out."

There were no other persons aboard.
An explosion occurred at the instant the plane crashed. It burst into flames and was obscured in clouds of thick, black smoke. Crash crews with fire equipment raced (Continued on Page Five)