U. S. EMBASSY AIDE FOUND SLAIN

Blonde Secretary Collapses During Quiz

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Lt. Col. Hulen Dorris Stogner, assistant U. S. embassy military attache, was found fatally shot in his bed Wednesday night in a slaying that baffled authorities.

Reliable sources said a Congolese chauffeur at the embassy, arrested about midnight as a suspect, was expected to be released soon after questioning about the death of Stogner, 39, whose wife and six children live in El Paso, Tex.

Congolese and Nigerian United Nations police were searching for Stogner's all-night house guard, who either was not on duty at the swank Park Hembeise home or had fled after the shooting.

In El Paso, Mrs. Stogner did not give way to grief over the death of her Army husband. Instead, the former Army nurse stayed at the bedside of her 6-year-old daughter, who became ill and developed a high fever when she was told that her father was dead.

Stogner left his family last July for a year's duty in the Congo, shortly after he was promoted to lieutenant colonel.

Police said Elizabeth Tryng, a 22-year-old blonde embassy secretary from Washington D. C., found Stogner lying on his bed at 10:20 p. m., shot through the back (Continued On Page Seven)

Baby Died From "Filtth, Starvation"

Harnett Coroner R. L. (Bob) Pate signed a warrant Thursday charging 23-year-old Evelyn Monds with "neglect resulting in death" of her infant son.

Rozalie Monds, two and a half months old Negro baby, was pronounced dead on arrival at Betsy Johnson Memorial Hospital last Friday night from what two doctors diagnosed as death "from filth and starvation."

Coroner Pate took the action after conferences with City Solicitor Howard G. Godwin. The coroner said the charge could be changed to manslaughter, if the evidence justifies.

The baby weighed seven pounds at birth and less than six at the time of death.

The mother said the baby had been ill since Monday and that a doctor prescribed medicine that day, but she had no money to buy it.

Coroner Pate said the woman told her she received a welfare check for support of her three other children but when this one was born out of wedlock the welfare payments were cut off.

Mother Is Charged In Death Of Infant

James Earl Taylor, about 36, pleaded not guilty to seven different charges this morning in Dunn Recorder's Court but trial of the case was postponed until tonight at 7 o'clock.

His lawyers, W. A. (Bill) Taylor and D. K. Stewart, were engaged in court trials elsewhere and one of the raiding officers, Rural Policeman Carson Hall, was unable to be present.

Taylor and his wife, the former Ruby Tart, were arrested on January 7 with 27 pints of whiskey, allegedly for the purpose of sale. Mrs. Tart has a long record of bootlegging charges here.

It was reported that she still is in jail. The case has been postponed several times.

Taylor, who married the former Ruby Tart sometime ago, is charged with public drunkenness on July 9, driving drunk and negligent on Aug. 15; worthless check on Aug. 15; and possession on Jan. 9.

He admitted giving the check for $984.64 to Purdie Bros. Wholesale Inc. and said he is now paying it off.

Judge Woodrow Hill ordered Taylor held under $1,000 bond for tonight's trial.

"Burlington operates some 40 different divisions and the management of each is responsible for deciding on rates appropriate for that particular segment of the industry."

The Burlington chain has about 140 plants with more than 65,000 workers.

Diet Control Is Important

51% Of Local Deaths Caused By Heart Disease

NEW YORK — Heart disease is causing 51.2 percent of all deaths among residents of Harnett County, according to official government figures.

The report is made by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in its latest annual summary of vital statistics covering all sections of the country. The findings are especially pertinent at this time because of National Heart Month.

The problems posed by heart disease are proving hard to solve. In some directions, however, definite progress has been made, with the result that complete or partial cures can now be effected in cases that were once considered hopeless.

Advances of this sort have been noted in heart surgery, in the development of new drugs to prevent or dissolve blood clots, in methods of limiting the damage caused by strokes and in the treatment of rheumatic heart cases. But, despite all the achievements, there is much to be accomplished before there can be any real cut in the heart toll.

The 51.2 percent mortality among Harnett County residents was somewhat lower than the average in the rest of the United States, 54.9 percent. It was also below the South Atlantic States average of 52.9 percent.

Evidence of a striking relationship between the amount of cholesterol and other animal fats in the blood stream and the incidence of heart disease has been accumulating in recent years.

The American Heart Association, in fact, has strongly urged that vegetable oils be substituted in the diet for animal fats as a precaution against heart disease.

The importance attached to diet control is indicated by the fact that the government's National Heart Institute has in the planning stage a 50,000-man experiment to test it out.

Over a period of five years, that number of volunteers would live on specific diets, half of them eating fat-free foods and the others their normal foods.

The current vital statistics report shows, in the case of Harnett County, a total of 388 deaths of local residents in 1959, of which 199 were caused by heart conditions.

Coronary heart disease, with 135 victims, was the chief offender locally.

End Of Trail For Hoodlum

CHICAGO (UPI) — "They won't be seeing Crazy Tony for a long, long time," the detective said.

For more than a year police had sought Crazy Tony — Job David Gonzales, 19, a swaggering, under-sized, duck-tailed hoodlum who liked to light his cigars with $10 bills and, once boasted, "I'll take a lot of cops with me when I go."

The 5-foot, 6-inch, 135-pound Gonzales was wanted for questioning about 50 robberies and the April 5, 1961 holdup - slaying of Michael Perfecki, 69.
