Four Liens Total $174,820.80 Largest Filed In Harnett

Uncle Sam Slaps Heavy Tax Liens On Iveys And Bob Lee

The United States government today filed federal distillery tax liens totaling $174,820.80 against three residents of the Dunn area who have figured prominently in the bootleg liquor industry in recent years.

Mrs. Inez Harrington, longtime Harnett Register of Deeds, said the liens were the largest liquor tax liens ever filed by the government in Harnett.

Two liens totaling $87,410.40 were filed against Marion Lee (Bill) Ivey of Dunn, Route 2, who just a few days ago began serving a three-year prison sentence for manufacturing non tax-paid whiskey.

One lien was for $54,492.67 and the other was for $32,917.73.

The government filed a lien against Ivey's uncle, Alton Ivey of Salemburg, for $32,917.73 — the same amount as one of the liens against his nephew, Bill.

A lien for $54,492.67 was filed against Robert D. (Bob) Lee of Benson, Route 2. This lien is also in the same amount as one of the liens against Bill Ivey. This would indicate that Bill Ivey allegedly was engaged in an operation with each of the men.

Details Not Listed

The government tax liens, which take priority over any and all subsequent judgments or actions against property, did not list any details except the fact that those amounts of money are now owed the U. S. Government in distillery taxes. When the government files a lien, no trial is necessary. It is equivalent to a judgement awarded by the court. Both the Iveys and Lee are regarded as big operators.

Officials said they assumed the government liens resulted from liquor-making charges against the trio.

Under the process used, a sample of the bootleg whiskey is sent to a government laboratory to determine proof of the liquor involved. The size of the distillery and the length of its operation are all used to compute the tax liability of the defendants.

Rival Leaders

Meeting For A Settlement

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Rebel navy leaders ordered warships back to base today as government troops mopped up die-hard stragglers winding up Argentina's latest military crisis.

The submarine establishment at Mar del Plata and its surrounding shore installations surrendered without firing a shot and navy rebel chieftain Adm. Eladio Vazquez ordered the battle fleet to return to moorings at Puerto Belgrano.

Vazquez order apparently averted an all-out attack on Puerto Belgrano by a mass of government forces moving toward the port 300 miles south of Buenos Aires.

A motorized engineers group which rebelled at Bariloche surrendered under threat of attack. The capture of Mar del Plata found the base deserted. Most of its troops apparently fled to sea.

At least 25 men had been killed and 50 others wounded in two days of scattered resistance by rebel diehards. Most of the fighting was limited to air strafing and bombing. There was little hand combat.

Child Is Born To Prisoners

RALEIGH (UPI) — An illegitimate child has been born to two state prisoners assigned to the governor's mansion, it was revealed in Domestic Relations Court. The case, heard Wednesday, involved Rosalee McIntyre, and Milton Lane, both Negroes, who were assigned to duty at the Executive Mansion.

Lane, now on parole, agreed to pay $5 a week to support the child. The mother, now in the state women's prison, said the two had sexual relations following a Christmas party at the mansion in 1961.

Domestic Relations Court Judge Mason P. Thomas Jr. said he left the case open for two years in order not to interfere with Lane's parole.

Declares Major Improvements Up To Citizens

John G. Thomas, News Director of WCKB, said today he would be a candidate for Mayor of Dunn in the April 23 Primary.

He said he had reached the decision for two reasons.

1. He wished to be Mayor of Dunn.

2. He believed it was time that Dunn "got out of a rut" in its elections, insofar as the Mayor's race is concerned.

He mentioned neither the current Mayor nor former Mayor George Franklin Blalock by name in his statement about his candidacy.

"In fact he emphasized that 'this is not a personality issue. Neither shall I point to the past. That is done with.'"

"It is the future I am concerned with," he said "in this decision to run for Mayor."

Thomas pledged his support of good government and a brighter future for Dunn but pointed to the fact that the real answer to Dunn's future is not in the hands of elected officials, but in the hands of the people in Dunn.

Mr. Thomas' Statement His full statement is as follows: "I shall be a candidate for Mayor of Dunn in the April 23, 1963 Primary.

"I have reached this decision mainly for two reasons.

"(1) - I want to be Mayor of Dunn.

"(2) - I believe it is time that Dunn get out of a rut in its elections in the race for Mayor.

"As for wishing to be Mayor of the town they live in, most men usually eye this honor with hope.

Deplors Lack of Interest

"But it is the second reason I have given that is my prime motif for running. Like some Democratic-loving people of today I am getting tired of that fact that not more persons are interested in government. And when the time comes when a community such as Dunn apparently comes to the point where it gets into a rut as to those running for office, no matter how good the men who have held the job, may be, it is time that additional interest, no matter how small, be injected into local government.

"I believe I can carry out the post of Mayor of Dunn. But I shall leave that to the voters of Dunn at the polls. Whatever their answer is on April 23 it shall not change my mind or attitude toward Dunn or its citizens. I love the town and love them.

"Insofar as I am concerned this is not a personality issue. Neither shall I point to the past. That is done with.

Sees Bright Future

"It is the future I am concerned with in this decision to run for Mayor. Dunn can have a bright future. And I shall work toward making it so.

"Frankly, it would be foolish for me, or anyone else, to say that I shall see to it that Dunn gets more industry, that it expands its recreation program, its park facilities...that it gets a new city hall...an expansion at the Betsy Johnson Memorial Hospital...a lower or higher, tax rate...a better paid police and fire department...a greater growth in the next two
