Lillington ABC Vote Aug. 26

Board's Action In Calling Vote Unanimous

Lillington's city council Tuesday night set Monday, August 26th as the date for an election to decide whether or not the county seat of Harnett will open an ABC store under the legal control system. Commissioner Alex J. White, a leader in the movement for a state, presented a petition signed by 20 per cent of Lillington's electorate — five per cent more than required by law — and then made the motion that an election be called.

Mayor John Aaron Senter, who presided, is one of the county's leading foes to the ABC system, but did not have to vote since the board's action was unanimous. Authority for Lillington to hold an election was granted by the recent General Assembly, which approved a bill introduced by Senator Robert Morgan and approved by State Rep. Dr. H. D. Mabe after they were requested to secure the legislation by citizens of the town. CITES RIGHTS OF CITIZENS Far more than the required 15 per cent of the qualified registered voters had signed the petition seeking an election. Opponents later signed petitions asking that a vote not be held. Harnett's representations felt, however, that citizens should have (Continued on Page 6)

Raps Jernigan, Friday, Sanford Others

Judge Raps Red Defenders

Dunn city Judge Woodrow Hill today took sharp issue with local attorney Mack M. Jernigan "and all the others" who are opposed to the law acted by the recent legislature which bars Communists and Fifth Amendment pleaders from speaking at State - owned colleges and universities. "I don't see how any American citizen could possibly be opposed to such a law," declared Judge Hill. "I have nothing personal against Mr. Jernigan, but I am opposed to Communists and all their sympathizers, whoever they might be." Jernigan said recently that he served with UNC President William Friday that the law banning the Communists was not necessary. Jernigan is a trustee of the university.

body else who subscribes to that philosophy would go with me to Griffon, Route 1 to visit my cousin, Roland Grant," said Hill. "I would show them a man sitting there with two fingers and both his legs gone shot off by the Communists in the Korean War." "I'm also thinking," continued Judge Hill, "of all the American boys who lost their lives at the hands of the Communists and didn't come home at all. Judge Hill said he wanted to commend the legislature for "rendering real service to their State and country by passing a law that should have been on the books years ago." "I have no patience with college presidents, trustees, the Governor of the State or anybody else who is willing to turn their backs on the veterans and service men and their loved ones to take the side of the Communists. They can stress up their feeble alibi and excuses all they please, but that what they're doing. "When it comes to choosing sides and taking a stand between what they call 'academic freedom' and what's going for America and our country, then I shall proudly stand up every time on the side of good, old-fashioned, patriotic Americanism and I have no apology for doing so." Judge Hill said he hasn't found or even heard of another person in Harnett County who is opposed to the law. Everybody I have talked with — and I see scores of people every day — is heartily in approval of what the legislature did."

Declares Job Discrimination Must Be Ended

RALEIGH (UPI) — North Carolina is going to end any racial discrimination which might exist in state jobs, Gov. Terry Sanford said here today at a meeting of the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council. "We are just going to have to open up jobs for all people on the basis of ability and training, and promotions on the basis of performance," Sanford said. "I believe this should be done, can be done and will be done by North Carolina people because it is right morally and because economically we cannot afford to do otherwise." He said discrimination in state jobs is both unconstitutional and undemocratic. "The governor said he hopes private employers would continue to examine their employment practices and would join with other citizens of good — will in wiping away the last remnants of economic discrimination. "In North Carolina, we will do this, not in some degree because it is forced by law, but in full and fair degree because it is the proper and decent thing to do," he said.

Sanford also urged Negro leaders to get across the message that jobs are being opened up and that it was important for young people to take advantage of all training to earn the qualifications which would fit them for these jobs. Dr. James T. Taylor, Durham Negro who Sanford named vice chairman of the bi-racial organization in January, discussed Negro experiences in job placement. "Many applications by Negroes have been filed recently for state jobs such as parole board and the state patrol," Taylor said. "We should insist that our youth have experience and skill to qualify for jobs when they apply." Taylor also urged Negro members of the council to encourage Negro youth to take full advantage of their education opportunities and technical training.

Mayor Names Human Relations Group

Stewart Heads Committee

Dunn Mayor George Franklin Blalock today appointed D. K. Stewart, prominent local attorney and political leader, to serve as chairman of the Human Relations Committee to help work out the town's racial problems. The mayor also announced the appointment of five other white citizens and four Negro leaders to serve on the committee with Stewart. In making the announcement, he said he was proud to secure the services of each and expressed confidence the committee would be able to reach a satisfactory solution. Named to the committee with Stewart were five white civic and religious leaders, former mayor Ralph E. Hanna, Ellis Barbour, Louis Baer, W. H. (Bill) Twyford, Sr. and the Rev. Thomas Freeman, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Negro leaders named were Rev. E. B. Felder, president of the Dunn NAACP chapter; Harry Satterwhite, Mrs. C. B. Codrington and Walter Dafford. All eight members of the committee are widely-known leaders in their respective fields here. Last week, the Rev. Mr. Felder issued a statement saying the NAACP was well pleased with the progress being made here and that there would be no picketing. Yesterday, however, he issued another statement saying that progress was lagging and that the group now reserves the right to halt its ban on picketing.
