TAX CUT PROMISES BIG DIVIDENDS

Final Approval Of Tax Bill Seems Assured

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury said today that the tax-cut bill holds promise of fatter dividend checks for corporation stockholders and the extra payments could easily total $1.5 billion a year. It made the statement in a report designed to convince members of Congress that every stockholder would wind up with "higher after-tax income" even though tougher tax treatment would be imposed on dividend income of big stockholders. The far-ranging tax bill would cut taxes of individuals and corporations by $11 billion in two annual steps. It passed the House on a 271-155 roll call nine days ago and is pending now before the Senate Finance Committee. Although ultimate approval seems assured, the small-like pace at which the Finance Committee began moving Thursday increased doubts that the administration would succeed in pushing it to final passage this year. After a two-hour session, the committee adjourned until Monday its pre-hearing briefings on the measure. In discussing the bill's impact on stockholders, the Treasury sought to put a rough price tag on the stockholder benefits that could flow from reducing the corporation income tax rate. The 52 per cent rate would be cut to 50 per cent in 1964 and to 48 per cent on earnings in 1965 and thereafter. The Treasury said this amounts to an 8.3 per cent boost in the after-tax income of corporations.

Forced To See Man Every Night

Says Christine Blackmailed

LONDON (UPI) — A witness testified today that call girl Christine Keeler was being blackmailed at the height of the scandal over her intimacies with former War Minister John Profumo. Robin Drury, Christine's former business manager, said she had told him she couldn't leave town because she had to pay a visit each evening to someone who was "more or less blackmailing her." Drury, a Canadian, also said she told him three persons had committed perjury as witnesses at the trial of Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon who was sentenced to three years in prison on charges of assaulting the 21-year-old redhead.

The Gordon conviction later was quashed by the court of appeal and Miss Keeler and three co-defendants are being given a hearing on charges of perjury and conspiracy in what the prosecution contends was the framing of Gordon to get him out of the way. Drury told of a long tape recording Miss Keeler made when they were assembling material for the sale of her life story to newspapers in the blaze of notoriety that followed Profumo's resignation. The memoirs were sold for $64,000.

Magistrate John Aubrey-Fletcher refused to allow the tape itself to be admitted in evidence but he said Drury could refresh his memory from a transcript. The Canadian said Miss Keeler refused to go to the country town of Maidenhead where he wanted to have her memoirs transcribed. "She told me," he said, "that someone was more or less blackmailing her and she had to see him every evening at her flat."

He said Miss Keeler named the alleged blackmailer as "Fenton." One of the co-defendants in the present hearing is Rudolph Trullo Fenton, 39, a bearded West Indian chauffeur.

The prosecution charges that one aspect of the conspiracy against Gordon, a discarded lover, was concealment of the fact that Fenton and another West Indian, Clarence Camacho, had been present during the alleged assault on the night of April 17-18.

Miss Keeler summoned police to her apartment the night of April 17-18 and asked for Gordon's arrest for attacking her.

Drury, who was replaced as Miss Keeler's manager before she hit the big money, said: "When I asked why she said that Lucky had hit her, she said he had been pestering her for about 18 months and this was a good way of getting him off her back."

The hearing was adjourned until October 28 after the magistrate had ruled that the tape recording was to remain in police custody although the defense could have access to it.

CHRISTINE GOES TO COURT—AGAIN—London play girl Christine Keeler, her companion unidentified, arrives at Magistrate's Court in London. In a preliminary hearing, charges were made that she committed perjury and conspiracy in testifying at the trial of a one-time lover.
