NEW ASSAULT ON FOREIGN AID

Morse Warns Against Any Gag Attempt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foreign aid critics renewed their attacks on the Senate's embattled aid bill today, despite threats of possible stern tactics to speed action on the long-delayed measure.

The Senate moved into its third week of debate on the bill to authorize another year of military, economic and technical assistance abroad. Already slashed to about $3.7 billion, the Senate bill is now only $240 million more than the House voted and almost $800 million less than President Kennedy asked.

Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., leader of the opposition, said he planned further attempts to cut the bill and attach restrictive amendments. He also warned against any attempt to gag debate through time limitations or tabling motions.

But Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., apparently was firm in his announced determination to invoke the "sudden death" tabling device if the bill's opponents kept up their delaying tactics with long discussion of countless amendments.

Dirksen declared his intention to try to force the Senate recessed for the Veterans Day weekend but said he would be willing to try to work out a compromise with Morse.

A motion to table — and thus kill — is not debatable and forces an immediate showdown vote on (Continued on Page Six)

First Load of Hogs Being Shipped Today

Dunn Packers Begin Operation

Dunn Meat Packers' new $800,000 plant went into operation here Tuesday on a limited scale and approximately 300 hogs were slaughtered the first day.

General Manager Lewis Peggs reported that operations went smoothly and the first truck load of 225 dressed carcasses left late today for delivery to the Epstein-Salnick Brokerage Co. in Passaic, New Jersey.

Eugene Huggins, who heads the provisions department of the firm, said Epstein-Salnick is serving as selling agents for the huge Dunn plant.

When the plant goes into full production, Manager Peggs said, a total of 1,000 hogs will be bought processed and shipped daily to the northern markets.

U. S. Approved Just before the slaughtering began, Dr. A. K. Spencer, Jr., Inspector-in-Charge for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Meat Inspection Division in this area, presented to former Mayor Ralph (Continued on Page Six)

Melvin Franklin Jackson's Funeral To Be Wed. At 3

Man Hangs Self In Jail

Melvin Franklin Jackson, 29, a mechanic of Route 5, Dunn, was found hanging in his cell at Dunn City Jail at 7:45 p. m. Monday night. He was found by the night desk man.

Jackson, who was six feet three inches tall and weighed 318 pounds, took his belt and looped it around his neck and a bar on top of his cell. He then jumped, breaking his neck.

Policeman J. L. Jackson and fireman John E. Norris tried to revive the prisoner without success. Dr. W. W. Stanfield pronounced him dead. Harnett County Coroner W. A. Warren of Erwin ruled the death a suicide and said that no inquest would be held.

Jackson had been jailed at 4:15 p. m. by Policeman Donald Nor-

dan. Jackson had five bad check warrants against him. On the way to jail, he snatched the keys from the police car and ran. Nordan pursued him on foot and caught him one block away and then charged him with resisting arrest. Jackson had been jailed about six times in the last two years on various minor charges.

Police Chief Alton Cobb expressed deep regret at the incident. He said Policeman Jackson had checked on the prisoners about 15 minutes earlier.

The only other prisoner in jail at the time was a Negro in another section.

Chief Cobb said it was the first such incident to occur here since he came to Dunn. Jackson was a native of Sampson County, son of Melvin Jackson and the late Hazel West Jackson. He was an automobile mechanic.

Funeral services will be Wednesday afternoon at 3 p. m. from the Shady Grove Free Will Baptist Church with the Rev. Walter Reynolds, pastor, and Rev. C. W. Kirby and Rev. James Seamster officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

In addition to his father he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gladys E. Jackson; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jackson of Route 2, Roseboro.

The body will remain at Crossmartie Funeral Home until one hour prior to the service.

State Baptists Open Sessions

Dr. Perry Crouch Elected Tells Baptists: Quit Bickering

WILMINGTON (UPI) — Dr. W. Perry Crouch, 56, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Asheville, today was elected general secretary-treasurer of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention.

Crouch succeeds Dr. Douglas M. Branch, who was killed in a car-truck collision near Ahooskie Feb. 1. The office of general secretary-treasurer has been held in an acting capacity by Claude F. Gaddy of Raleigh, retired executive secretary of the Council on Christian Education, the coordinating body for the denomination's seven colleges in North Carolina.

Crouch, a graduate of Lenoir Rhyne College, was nominated Oct. 14 by a committee of the general board of the denomination by a vote of 66-7.

Crouch served rural churches in Texas and Oklahoma before going to Calvary Baptist Church in Morganton in 1941.

He was secretary of Christian Education for the Baptist State Convention for five years, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fayetteville and then went to Asheville in 1944.

Crouch told the Convention that he pledged his very best to help move the denomination forward but he said "we have had too much bickering among ourselves."

He said "we have been too suspicious of one another. We have been too ready to accuse each other of disloyalty and unworthy motives. We are hindering the cause of Christ by such action."

"Baptists should always be ready to discuss every issue thoroughly, vote their honest convictions, and then cooperate with the majority vote. We should avoid group pressures and any unfair tactics that would destroy our democratic process."

Wants Food Tax Used For Schools

GREENSBORO (UPI) — State Sen. Charles W. Strong suggested Monday night that state taxes levied in the name of education be placed in a special school budget and spent exclusively on education.

"Today, the budget director can switch funds from one part of the General Fund to another," said Strong, a potential GOP gubernatorial candidate. "I believe that school dollars should go for school purposes only."

Strong, who indicated he was against a proposed $100 million school bond issue, also suggested raising the salaries of North Carolina teachers to the national average, year-round instruction and a greater emphasis on business, accounting and the trades.

Aycock Refuses To Answer Questions On Reds

Sen. Whitley Praises Speaker Law; Blasts Aycock's Actions

State Senator Adam Whitley of Smithfield, Route 1, reiterated his "100 per cent support" of the law banning Communist and Fifth Amendment speakers from use of State facilities and warned that continued criticism of the law by UNC officials could result in the election of only those trustees and university officials willing to carry out legislative policy.

Whitley, who has served in every session of the legislature since 1949, is a veteran of World War I, a former commander of Smithfield's Legion post and a former Vice Commander of the State post.

What They Think!

By Russell Bassford Record Photographer

Today's Question

What do you think of the so-called gag-law which bans Communists from speaking at state-supported schools?

Carson Hall

Rural Policeman

"They should be banned from the entire country, not just the speaker's platform."

Mrs. Chip Jones

Teacher

"It's a good law and should be adopted by other states. As long as they are not permitted to speak there, one can't get the idea that our state government shares their opinion."

Henry D. Hood

Local Businessman

"If you like to hear communists speak, go to ussia. In this country democracy should be taught first."
