Hospital Location Not Too Important, Quit Bickering

By JOHN G. THOMAS
What difference does it make as to where the proposed $2,070,000 Dunn hospital is located as long as it isn't located on the city dump? We are getting slightly tired of hearing about this.
It is about the same as the comments we've heard in recent years as to the fact that only a few men are involved in industry in Dunn and that only they make money out of it.
In the case of this last comment it seems to us that the reason for the situation, if it is true, is that only a few persons up to the time the packing plant came here, would put up the money for industry in Dunn that benefited not only those few but everyone. So why should-

Baker's Secretary Denies Wrongdoing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Trim, attractive Carole Tyler, Bobby Baker's girl Friday, today defied the Senate committee investigating her former boss and pleaded for public understanding.

Appearing at a nationally-televised hearing, Miss Tyler, a former Tennessee beauty queen, refused to answer questions on the constitutional grounds that the senators were invading her privacy and that any answers might tend to incriminate her.

In a statement she was allowed to read, the 24-year-old brown-haired beauty said the sole purpose of the hearing "seems to be bring down upon me and others the violence of public reaction because of my alleged past associations."

At another point, the poised, chic witness firmly told the senators: "I deny I am guilty of any legal or moral wrongdoing, but I am availing myself of this constitutional privilege in view of my reasonable apprehension of even unwarranted prosecution."

Refuses to Answer
She gave her name as Nancy Carole Tyler. But she declined to give her address. An earlier witness has said she is living at a $28,000 Washington town house purchased by Baker, who listed her as a cousin on the application form.

From that point on, Miss Tyler refused on her two constitutional claims to respond to a series of questions asked by committee counsel L. P. McClendon.

After the 46-minute session, McClendon said it was possible that Miss Tyler would be cited for contempt of Congress by the committee. A similar threat hangs over the head of Baker.

Concluding the statement, Miss Tyler said: "I pray that the public will keep an open mind regarding me in order to insure that no further irreparable injury results to my reputation."

When committee members investigating the financial ventures of Baker, the former senate Democratic secretary, pressed her with questions, she "declined to answer" on grounds of privacy in-

Reduction Goes Into Effect By Next Week

The sweeping election — year tax reduction — biggest in U. S. history — for individuals and corporations was whisked to the White House where Johnson was expected to sign it quickly, possibly by late afternoon.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 89, showed further "definite improvement" today in his battle against a kidney ailment and a respiratory infection that has kept him in bed for four days.

"He is still having some respiratory difficulty due to this pulmonary infection," the bulletin said. "This latter seems to be responding to therapy. He is alert and taking nourishment by mouth."

In Wreck That Killed Husband, Son

Mrs. Capps Given $12,500

After deliberating for nearly two hours, a jury in Harnett Superior Court Tuesday returned a verdict awarding damages totaling $12,500 to Mrs. Gladys Capps of Dunn for personal injuries received in an accident that killed her husband and son on Dec. 16, 1962 between Erwin and Bunnlevel.

The verdict was returned against the estate of her dead husband, Demery Capps, who was killed in the crash along with their son, Bobby Leon.
Alexander Smith of Bunnlevel, Route 1, was also a defendant in the suit but Judge W. H. S. Bur-gwyn non-suited the case against him on motion of his attorneys, Archie Taylor of Lillington and the law firm of Teague, Johnson and Patterson of Raleigh.

Permanent Injuries
Mrs. Capps testified and also offered other witnesses to show she was badly injured in the wreck when the vehicle operated by her husband collided with a car driven by Smith. At an earlier term of court, she was awarded $10,000 in the death of her son but the court set aside that verdict and retrial of that suit is now pending.
Dunn attorney Robert C. Bryan, representing the woman, argued to the jury that Capps was driving at an excessive rate of speed when he lost control of the vehicle, which ran off the road, then ran back onto the road into the path of the Smith car and collided headon.
Attorneys Max McLeod of Dunn and the law firm of Quillen, Ruff and Worth of Fayetteville argued that Capps was not at fault, that a (Continued On Page Six)

But this is neither here nor there. Just so the land is suitable for such a hospital and just so it doesn't cost too much - certainly it would be all right if it was given free - it doesn't seem to us to matter where it might go.

The question of where it should or should not go seems to us a question of jealousy and greed and selfishness.

Whether the hospital is to the east, west, north or south of the business district should not matter, just so it isn't too far away from the center of things and the (Continued on Page Six)
