No Arrest In Slaying Of Marshall Girl

Police authorities today continued investigation into the slaying of 22-year-old Mary Marshall, checking out every possible lead, but with no new developments reported.

Police Chief Alton Cobb said early this afternoon that he and Johnston County officers aided by the SBI have been working on a number of angles in the case.

"We get a lot of phone calls and we follow up on every little scrap of information, but most of them have not proven too helpful," reported Dunn's veteran police chief.

Meanwhile this morning, Mrs. E. S. Marshall of Garland, Route 1, mother of the slain girl, came to Dunn to claim her daughter's possessions at a local rooming house.

Chief Cobb said he talked with her only briefly.

"She was still too torn up over the tragedy to talk about it," said the chief. She reportedly broke down once inside the room formerly occupied by her daughter.

Volume Of Credit Service May Double

"The volume of credit service to agriculture by production credit associations may double during the next decade," according to Leland Lee, vice president of the Dunn Production Credit Association, who has just returned from Bal Harbour, Florida, where he attended the 30th Anniversary Production Credit Association Directors' Conference on June 7-9.

Mr. Lee said, "Reports at the conference indicated the application of capital using technology in agriculture and reorganization of farm units are continuing and the short and intermediate term credit needs of farmers will probably double during the next ten years. The PCAs should continue to furnish an increasing share of the credit needs of farmers."

"The 77 production credit associations in Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina have provided approximately $4 billion in credit service to farmer members since organization 30 years ago. The Dunn association has provided $28,217,771.00 to farmers of this area since organization in December 1933," according to Mr. Lee.

Says Rich Boys Backing Him, Preyer Mgr. for Rate Hike

Taylor Says Preyer Is Tool Of Special Interest Groups

PARKTON — District Solicitor Archie Taylor of Lillington, in an address to a rally attended by more than 300 people in Parkton Monday night, declared that Judge Rich Preyer is the tool of the special interest groups and not Dan Moore.

He also charged that Preyer had slandered the good name "of a group of the most outstanding, most public-spirited men in this State for no other reason than the fact that they are supporting Moore for Governor."

"I tell you tonight," he declared to the cheering crowd, "Dan Moore is proud and all the rest of us in his camp are proud, immensely proud to have the backing of such men as Nello Teer, Edwin Jones, Snow Holding and the other great men of North Carolina who are supporting him."

"They are the men," said Taylor, "who have made North Carolina great and who will continue to make our State great. Rich Preyer did everything in his power to get their support but couldn't so now let's sore and calling them names simply because they're behind Dan Moore."

Taylor, a top advisor to Dr. Lake, charged that it was Rich Preyer's own campaign manager who unsuccessfully tried to get the bank interest rate increased to eight per cent and it was Snow Holding of First Citizens Bank who successfully helped defeat such an increase. And now Rich Preyer is even distorting the truth about that.

Taylor, accompanied by City Councilman Bill Johnson of Lillington, drew repeated applause with his speech and assurances that Robeson County will be in the Moore camp when the votes are counted.

"Rich Preyer talks about Holding's support as coming from a big bank president, but actually First Citizens is much smaller than the bigger banking chains supporting rich Rich Preyer."

"What about Pilot Life Insurance Co. and its 258 1/2 million dollars?" asked Taylor. "And what about Jefferson Standard, a $240 million corporation that also owns the State's two largest television stations, and its president, Howard Holderness, a millionaire in his own right who is handling rich Rich Preyer's finances?"

"And what about the $243 million N. C. National Bank, and $140 million Richardson-Merrell Corp., owned largely by Preyer and his family and which just the other day had a fine levied on its officials by the U. S. government for criminally failing to warn the public that one of its drugs could cause blindness? And what about rich Rich Preyer's multi-million dollar - Vick Chemical Co.," continued Taylor.

"WHAT DOES NAACP EXPECT?"

"What do these people expect from rich Rich Preyer?" he asked. Pointing to 26 Negro precincts that gave Preyer 20,569 votes, Lake 301 votes and Moore only 445 votes, Taylor asked: "Wonder if Rich Preyer considers that special interest? What has rich Rich Preyer promised the NAACP and

It Landed Three People In Court

Child Makes Faces At Woman

Because a five-year-old child allegedly made faces at a neighbor, 3 persons landed in Harnett Recorder's Court on charges of assault as a result of the ruckus that followed.

Mrs. Alice Parnell, who lives in Wondertown, between Dunn and Erwin, testified that the daughter of Mrs. Ludie Mae Weaver made faces at her and she didn't like it. So she went to the home of the parent, she said, to ask them to stop the child from pestering her.

It seems Mrs. Parnell came out second best. She said the mother took a stick away from her and hit her several times about the face and head, resulting in a $4 medical bill. Judge Robert B. Morgan ordered Mrs. Weaver to pay it, and reserved judgement for six months on the condition that Mrs. Weaver not assault or molest Mrs. Parnell.

Pat and Cleo Bedsole were also charged with assault stemming from the Weaver - Parnell battle. Joe Parnell is a son of the woman who didn't like to be made faces at. Judge Morgan continued prayer for judgement against both defendants.

In another assault case that had no relation to this one, Mrs. George Bowling of Erwin, Route 1, Pleaded innocent but was found guilty of assaulting Michael Benson, age 8, with a belt on May 1. She was ordered to pay the child's medical bill and not to molest any children for a period of one year. She also paid the court costs.
