Council Given Budget Figures For Next Year

Dunn's city council Thursday night received the preliminary budget for the 1964-1965 fiscal year from City Manager Archie Uzzle and disposed of a number of other business matters.

The new budget about the same as that for this year calls for expenditures of about a half million dollars. Tax valuations have not yet been received from the county. It will be up to the council to review the budget requests of the various departments and cut or increase the items as it sees fit.

Mayor George Franklin Blalock and the council deferred action on signing a city hall contract with architect George Jernigan, Jr. of Wilmington until it can be checked by City Attorney Max Mc-Leod. The contract calls for a fee of eight per cent plus extra charges for additional service, etc. It is the extra charges portion the council ordered checked.

The board ordered gates erected street behind Patio Grill; about the center of the block, and to make dead and streets of Godwin make dead end streets of Godwin and Duke at Magnolia because of speed and traffic problems in those residential areas.

" A request for location of a house trailer was denied, curb and gutter requests approved and other minor items disposed of.

For Dunn's City Hall Bids On Lots About Half Of

Purchase Price Dunn's historic old city went on the auction block here Friday morning and the high bid of $40,000 was made by Belk's Department Store.

Two vacant lots owned by the town were also auctioned off but brought only about half the amount the town paid tfor them several years ago.

The 100x140 foot lot beside Modern Laundry n oN. Clinton Ave. was bid in b Hugh Willie Tart, local business man, at $5,000. The 200x140 foot lot behind the laundry was bid in by Herman Strickland, owner of the laundry, at $7.500.

These two lots, which connect in L _ shape had been bought by the Town of Dunn in 1956 for possible use as a city hall. The Town paid $20,000 plus $2,500 interest for the two.

The city council recently selected the old George Pope property instead for a city hall and all three pieces of property were put up for sale today to secure money for construction of the new structure.

Known as "the municipal building," the present city hall has a colorful past. It has served the town during the years as an Opera House, motion picture theater, for indoor circuses, carnivals, etc. and is now used as a city courtroom .It has been condemned as unsafe for at least 15 years or
