

Says Eisenhower Will Stay Neutral

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower expects to maintain public neutrality toward the Republican presidential nomination before and during the GOP national convention, a highly placed Republican said today.

Edmond Massad Receives Honor

Edmond Massad of Benson was installed as chef de gare of Vulture 1617, Johnston County's unit of the 40 & 8, in ceremonies at Clayton Thursday night. The installing officer was Robert Tart of Benson, newly-elected state head of the Legion's fun and service organization.

Nathan Lassiter of Smithfield was installed as chef de train and Sherrill Sorrell of Benson was installed as correspondent and commissar intentent, Massad replaces L. P. Creech of Smithfield as head of the county unit after serving as chef de train last year and previously as correspondent.

Massad makes the third man from Banner Post of Benson to head the county 40 & 8 since the Vulture was established five years ago. Robert Tart and Glenwood Clifton of Meadow previously served in the top post.

reliable informant after stories were broadcast Wednesday that the ex-President would make the nominating speech for Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Scranton said Thursday he knew nothing of the original report, but told newsmen later that Eisenhower had indicated "strong support for me and is sympathetic to my presidential campaign."

It was reported in Republican circles today, however, that Scranton might be placed in nomination by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University and brother of the former President. Milton Eisenhower, who has endorsed Scranton, was given a seat this week in the Maryland delegation to the national convention.

Appears Sure Bet
Assuming neutrality by the former President, Republican professionals appear convinced that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona has virtually won the presidential nomination with the convention still 10 days away.
