

Burton's Hamlet Coming To Dunn

Richard Burton in "Hamlet" one of the greatest attractions in the history of the New York stage, will be presented here by Warner Bros. direct from Broadway in the fall at the Stewart Theatre for four performances only, through the revolutionary new electronic-optical process of Theatrofilm, it was announced today by James Yates, the Theatre's manager and

R. E. Heffner, Warner Bros. branch manager in Charlotte, N. C.

The four performances will take place on two successive days. There will be two matinees and two evening performances, with the exact dates and times to be announced shortly. There will be no other performances thereafter.

Tickets will be sold in advance for the four performances. Seats will not be reserved but the number of tickets to be sold for each performance will not exceed the capacity of the theatre, thereby guaranteeing a seat to each ticket holder.

One thousand theatres throughout the United States and Canada will present Burton's once-in-a-lifetime interpretation of "Hamlet" on the same two days.

"Hamlet" is now being presented on the stage of the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre in New York. This engagement will end on August 8. There will be no "road" tour; instead, Burton's "Hamlet" will be brought to audiences from coast to coast in Theatrofilm.

The new electronic-optical process makes it possible for audiences everywhere to see an outstanding Broadway production exactly as it is performed on the New York stage. The Theatrofilm "Hamlet" combines the dramatic excitement of the stage technique, with the big-screen effect of motion pictures.

Starring with Burton in "Hamlet" are Hume Cronyn, Alfred Drake, Eileen Herlie, William Redfield, George Rose and George Voskovec. The production, staged by John Gielgud, has been acclaimed on Broadway by critics and public alike, with many calling Burton the greatest "Hamlet" of all time.

Alexander H. Cohen, who brought Burton's "Hamlet" to Broadway, is serving as executive producer of the Theatrofilm, which is being directed by William Collier and produced by William Sargent and Alfred W. Crown, the chief officers of Electronivision Productions, Inc., developers of the Theatrofilm process.

Barbers Trim

we should get in and fight, or get out."

Clyde W. Hice, head of the barber shop in the Queen Charlotte Hotel, 237 W. Trade St., was "surprised that so many of my customers are for Goldwater, with business being as good as it is.

"They say Mr. Johnson is moving too fast on integration," said Mr. Hice, 64, of 3436 Craig Ave.

Although many of the barbers avoid arguments with their customers, one who doesn't is Glenn B. Morgan, 42, of 3005 Hudson St. He runs the Shop, 506 S. Tryon St.

"I talk politics a lot and have arguments with my customers," said Mr. Morgan.

"They say—they won't vote for him. Civil rights is their big objection. Most of them just want a change back to conservatism."

A good reason for being cautious was expressed by a barber who withheld his identity.

"Sure, most of our customers favor Goldwater," he said. "Me? I'm a Democrat. But my boss man over there is a Republican. So I mind my own business."

Slaying

Stewart replied that he was on his way and Brown said he started back inside and heard a shotgun blast go off. He looked around and saw McDougald lying face down with the back of his head blasted off.

The witness told Coroner Warren and Sheriff Wade Stewart he saw Stewart with a shotgun earlier in the night.

Warren said an inquest would be held when investigation is completed.

Dunn Soldier

the time SP5 Hyson started to administer the mouth to mouth exercise. In trying to open the injured man's mouth, both Miss Webb and Hyson had their fingers bitten in an attempt to apply pressure.

Resumed Breathing

After finally getting the victims mouth open, the life saving steps were administered. With about six to eight minutes of mouth to mouth breathing, the patient began normal breathing on his own and regained consciousness.

Both injured men were taken to Womack Army Hospital and treated. PFC McFeeley was released following treatment of the cut on his hand while SP4 Crouse was admitted for further treatment his condition reported as being good.

Trooper N. O. Dickens, of the N. C. Highway Patrol, arrived at the accident shortly after the life saving precautions were started. He stated he was no medical authority but believed if this treatment had not been applied Crouse would have died.

SP5 Hyson is a graduate of the Army Medical Corpsman School at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. Prior to coming to the Army he was a male nurse at St. Frances Hospital, in Hartford, Conn.

Family Needs

"but I can't pay them without a job." He said that four of them would be willing to do any kind of work that would give them a home.

"We're not begging," he said. "We'll do any kind of work or anything else." He said he is willing to work despite the fact doctors have advised him to go easy.

Active in Pope's Chapel Church here, Mr. Dunn said, "I can assure you of one thing. Whatever we are able to earn, the first 10 per cent will go to the Lord. I try not to leave him out of anything."
