ATLANTIC CITY — Democratic leaders maneuvered today to short circuit further squabbling over Southern convention seats and give Lyndon B. Johnson his moment of glory by acclamation.

DANIELSVILLE, Ga. — Three Ku Klux Klansmen were indicted by a grand jury in Danielsville, Ga., Tuesday on charges of murdering Negro educator Lemuel Penn and a Philadelphia, Miss., coroner's jury reported it was unable to determine how three civil rights workers there were killed.

Debutantes Feted At Desert Bridge

Elaine Purdie and Ann Adair, debutantes of the season, were honored with desert bridge last Thursday afternoon. Hostesses for the event were Misses Linda Lynch, Susan Warren and Anne Herring.

On arrival, the honorees were presented with the traditional red and white corsage.

The guests were directed to the porch of the Lynch home where they autographed the stools given to the deb to be used while waiting for their presentation at the deb ball.

Before bridge lemon tarts, mixed nuts, and iced tea were enjoyed. Following the game, Mary Tighman and Debby Mixon received prizes for high and low respectively.

Guests attending were Mary Tighman, Bobbie Woodall, Debby Mixon, Sara Hadley, Carolyn Hardee, Linda Hardee and Jane Andrews.

These Little Things

Committee ought to reimburse the Democrats for the entire cost of their convention, because it is doing more to win votes for Senator Goldwater than anything else."

THINGAMAJIGS: The Beatles' first movie is still drawing big crowds at the Dunn Theater

GOP gubernatorial candidate Bob Gavin of Sanford will appear with Jim Gardner, candidate for Congress, at a big rally and feed at the Benson Armory on Sept. 11

The next day, Gavin will visit Dunn's Four County Fair Mrs. Charlotte Dawson, hard-working owner of Community Grocery Center, passed out yesterday at the store and is in Betsy Johnson Memorial Hospital Gov. Sanford has cited Fayetteville city school Supt. Reid Ross as "a Distinguished Citizen" for his role in the Crusade for Education

The popular Lillington native, brother of Harnett Democratic Chairman Nell Ross, formerly headed Harnett's school system Senator Volt Gilmore writes from Atlantic City that Harnett Sen. Bob Morgan was among Senators introduced by Lt. Gov. nominee Bob Scott at the Ike Bell breakfast for Tar Heels in the convention city yesterday morning

Also introduced along with him was Sen. Gilmore (though he was too modest to say so in his card) and U. S. Senators Jordan, Ervin, Smathers, Pastore and Johnston

"We have 300 rootin'-tootin'-in Tar Heels here," reported Sen. Gilmore. Meanwhile, Dunn's Section Lee phoned this a. m. to report that the new issue of Newsweek predicts both the Carolinas will go for Goldwater

Willard Mixon, our new county commissioner, reports last night's mental health meeting was "very fruitful" County Auditor Herbert Carson, in town today, reported with fatherly pride that all is in readiness for his pretty daughter's wedding Paul Perry reports a fine vacation at the beach

"Was supposed to stay a week," says the popular Dunn business man, "but had to cut it short after two days."

LITTLE NOTES: Dunn's annual Four-County Fair, sponsored by the American Legion, will run for two extra days this year. It will open on Saturday, September 22 and run through the entire following week

Legionnaire Alvis Carver said today that the popular Endy Brothers Shows have been booked for the midway. "It's the largest midway ever to play here," said Mr. Carver, pointing out that it is coming to Dunn directly from the Maryland State Fair

District Solicitor Archie Taylor of Lillington, vacationing at the beach last week, reports that he only caught five fish the whole time. "But," added the popular prosecutor, and with no little pride "one of them weighed 44 pounds."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sandlin and Bob also spent last week at the beach. And the Abe Elmore's were touring the country (Dan Moore) country of Western Carolina.

Tractor & Truck Co. The next term of criminal court convenes in Lillington next Monday.

On the jury were Mangum Butler, William Barfield, Leslie Giles, James Adams, Eddie Draughon and Webb Reiber.

Nine Children

Four others who were not petitioners in the lawsuit have also asked transfer. They are: Edward Springale, 4th grade; Robert Gant Thompson, 10th grade; Mural Robertson, 9th grade; and Edgar Allen Poe, 12th grade.

Supt. Proffitt said there is some question as to whether the school board has a legal right to consider applications of the four not included in the court suit.

He said Senator Robert B. Morgan, chief counsel to the board who is now at the Democratic National Convention, had advised the board they should not consider the latter four

Sen. Morgan also advised the board, tentatively, that he interpreted Judge Butler's order as meaning that only parents of those children who filed suit would be eligible to apply since the deadline has already passed.

MEETING SLATED

Chairman Bob Baggett and other members of the Harnett Board of Education met on Friday night to consider the applications, but action had to be postponed due to the fact that a copy of Judge Butler's order had not been received at that time. Mr. Proffitt said Sen. Morgan and the board members felt they needed the exact wording of Judge Butler's order before they could take action

The board meeting was apparently postponed to court but Judge Butler ruled that the school board must go ahead and act on the transfer requests pending disposition of the case in the higher court.

Supt. Proffitt said the board would meet to take action early next week.

Verdict

ver's side of the car was not damaged, except for a few "wrinkles," but glass was shattered on the right side and Dr. Doffermeyer testified injuries on Matthews' body showed he had been cut by glass. One witness also testified Upchurch had welts on his hands when pulled out of the wreckage, indicating he had tightly gripped the steering wheel.

It took jurors only about 30-40 minutes to return its verdict. Judge Albert Cowper presided at the trial. Franklin Dupree, Jr. of Raleigh defended Upchurch for the insurance company.
