and that the results of the recent showed that their views were not gubernatorial campaign clearly representative of the views of the people of North Carolina. Sen. Morgan related that Senators Jordan and Ervin and former Gov. Luther Hodges had opposed efforts of the Sanford wing to deny the office to Webb because Webb had signed a petition to allow the name of Gov. George Wallace of Alabama to appear on the ballot in this State. He quoted Hodges as reminding Sanford how he (Sanford) had bolted the sentiment of the North Carolina delegation at Los Angeles in 1960 to support Kennedy and that when a majority of the delegates wanted to turn on Sanford Hodges would not allow it. Morgan, in line to be president pro tem of the Senate, said it was indeed fortunate for the Democratic Party in North Carolina that Dan Moore had won the fight with Sanford, Bennett and Frey.

films followed in the 1930s. During the 30s and 40s, the couple's radio show was a weekly favorite with George feigning madness at Gracie's silliness. In 1942, the couple began playing a married couple on the air.

The comedy team was a hit for 22 years, branching out into television in the 1950s. But in 1958 Gracie announced that she wanted to retire.

"I have wanted to retire for a long time," she said. "After all I made my first stage appearance at the age of four."

Burns agreed that his wife had had enough and it was time to take it easy. He shopped around for a replacement as his wife settled down to being a Beverly Hills housewife, putting around in her garden and taking care of her grandchildren.

She and Burns had two adopted children, Sandra Jean, and Ronald.

Johnson

Johnson gave good-natured self-confident pep talks before the committee and at a breakfast meeting of about 300 state governors and party officials, delegates and campaign workers.

Then he and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, flew to Texas for a weekend of strategy talks on Congress and the campaign at the LBJ Ranch outside of Johnson City, Tex.

Plan Ad Campaign At Friday morning's meetings the word went out that Democrats were planning a hard-hitting advertising offensive, among other things, that would stress the theme that Johnson can best keep the nation out of war.

While Bailey relayed these plans to state party workers, the President himself indicated he would work to win over and keep the support of disillusioned Republicans.

VISIT DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beasley spent the weekend in Havelock visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aurlino.

Dunn Native Named Associate Pastor

Gerald Frix of Raleigh has accepted the position as associate pastor and director of music at the Central Assembly of God Church in Kansas City, Missouri.

He will assume his new duties the first Sunday in September.

A native of Dunn, he is a graduate of Dunn High School and Southeastern Bible College in Lakeland, Fla. He is the son of Mrs. Ruby Frix of here.

Upon his graduation from Bible College, he accepted a position with Stephenson Music Store in Raleigh, where he has been making his home for the past two years.

He is a member of the First Assembly of God Church there and a former member of Glad Tidings Church.

Mrs. Frix is the former Miss Shirley Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Campbell of Dunn. They have one son, Lynn.

They will leave next week for their new home.

TO SPEAK HERE

This Sunday Mr. Frix will be ministering in music and song at Glad Tidings Church here and will also be delivering the evening message.

A cordial invitation has been extended to his many friends to attend the service.
