LBJ HITS HARD AT GOLDWATER

Enrollment Of Over 12,000 Expected

Schools To Reopen Tomorrow

Five Negroes To Integrate Dunn Schools

School bells will ring again tomorrow in Harnett as classes are resumed in the county's ten school districts.

Harnett Supt. Glenn Proffitt said today that everything is in readiness and predicted a total enrollment of between 12 and 13,000 students. This is about the same as last year.

For the first time in history, Negroes will integrate Dunn's white schools. None applied for admission in any other district of the county.

Three will be admitted to Dunn High School, two in the 11th grade and one in the 12th grade, Principal A. B. Johnson said today. One will be admitted to the second grade at Magnolia Avenue School and one will enter the sixth grade at Wayne Avenue School.

Indian enrollment at Dunn schools will also be increased from about 30 to 60, resulting from closure of the Maple Grove Indian school here due to lack of sufficient students to keep it operating. Indians have attended local schools for the past three years.

No incidents or disorder of any kind is expected at either of the three Dunn schools to be integrated.

It was disclosed today that three FBI agents were in Dunn on Friday when the five Negro children registered for classes.

They were summoned by the Rev. B. B. Felder, head of the Harnett NAACP and father of three of the children to be admitted. The minister told the FBI he had received a telephone threat and feared there would be trouble.

Questioned by the FBI agents sent here, however, he admitted the phone call was received two or three weeks ago, about the time the case was being aired in Federal Court, and that he had received no other indication of trouble.

Registration of the five Negro children went practically unnoticed, and officials expressed both hope and confidence there would be no difficulty when classes begin.

Students will report at 8:20 Tuesday morning for four hours, to receive books, classroom assignments, etc. The first full day of school will be on Wednesday.

Described As "Giant And Dangerous"

Dora Heads Toward U.S.

MIAMI (UPI) — Giant and dangerous Hurricane Dora moved menacingly toward the U. S. mainland with 100 mile an hour winds today.

The Weather Bureau warned residents of the Georgia and Carolina coasts to keep posted on its movements. "The predicted movement of the hurricane would put the center within less than 300 miles of the south Atlantic coast by late Tuesday with the possibility of gales reaching some sections of the coast between the Carolinas and Florida by Tuesday night," a midday advisory said. Meanwhile, tropical storm Ethel grew to hurricane strength with top winds of 80 m.p.h. Forecasters said earlier predictions that Ethel, trailing in Dora's wake, (Continued on Page 6)

Rioting Occurs At Three Beaches

"An Army Of Hoodlums"

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H. (UPI) — A swiftly mobilized force of several hundred police and National Guardsmen routed "an army of hoodlums" from this seaside resort early today after a night of rioting and destruction.

The "hoodlums," estimated variously at 7,000 to 10,000 ravaged the oceanfront in a frenzied reign of terror that left dozens injured, untold property damage and more than 100 rioters under arrest. The rioting started Sunday night. It ended in the early morning hours after law enforcement officers bashed heads and fired tear gas.

Under the personal supervision of Gov. John W. King, who arrived shortly before midnight still dressed in the tuxedo he was wearing at a Manchester dinner party, police and guardsmen flushed the rioters out of parked cars, back yards and the beach and literally ran them out of town.

Chased Across Line The officers, more than 400 strong at the end, chased the youths down Route 1A leading into Massachusetts clubbing laggards on the backside and arresting any who offered resistance.

None was allowed to drive away. Those in cars were forced to abandon their vehicles and trot out of town on foot with the others.

Massachusetts state police awaited the routed rioters at the state line.

Opens Campaign At Big Labor Rally In Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — President Johnson opened his campaign against Sen. Barry M. Goldwater today by insisting "there is no such thing as a conventional nuclear weapon." The GOP candidate had suggested tactical atomic arms be considered conventional.

Johnson sounded the campaign keynote of "prosperity, justice and peace" in a speech prepared for a Labor Day rally in Detroit's Kennedy Square, traditional launching ground for Democratic election races.

The President hit directly at Goldwater's proposal for the supreme allied commander in Europe to be given authority to order battlefield use of tactical nuclear weapons in case of Soviet attack.

Only the President now has this authority. Without naming his opponent, Johnson said "make no mistake. There is no such thing as a conventional nuclear weapon."

"For 19 peril-filled years no nation has used the atom bomb against another. To do so now is a political decision of the highest order. It would lead us down an un-

Two cars were destroyed by fire over the weekend, according to Howard M. Lee, secretary of the Dunn fire department.

The first fire occurred at 7:25 Saturday night when a 1957 Buick was stalled on the ACL Railroad tracks north of Dunn where Cleveland Street crosses the tracks. Lee said the carburetor employed and set the car afire.

Clarence McLean, an employee of John A. McKay Mfg. Co. is owner of the vehicle. Insurance covered the loss.

Twenty men answered the alarm.

DODGE BURNS The brakes on a 1961 Dodge caused the fire which destroyed the vehicle on I-95 Sunday about 12:30 p.m. Dr. Theodore G. Boughan of Brideport, Conn., is the owner of the car.

The car was valued at $1100. Lee said five men answered the car while eight remained at the station.

Erwin Woman Caught In Liquor Raid

Pauline Tart Facing Court

Mrs. Pauline Tart, well-known South Erwin business woman, was arrested in a raid conducted by county, Federal and local ABC officers Saturday night and charged with possession of whiskey for the purpose of sale.

Deputy Sheriff Clarence Moore said Mrs. Tart, caught red-handed as she ran to pour out the whiskey, readily admitted she had been selling beer and whiskey over the counter at her cafe and dance hall.

Mrs. Tart is already under Federal probation for violation of Federal tobacco marketing laws.

The raid took her by surprise. Sheriff Wade Stewart, Deputies Moore, Lemuel Gregory, and Buck Griffin went to the front door and Art Bryant, head of the Dunn ATU office, and Woodrow Herring, Dunn ABC officer, went to the back door.

"LET ME THROW IT OUT" Moore said when Mrs. Tart saw them she grabbed up part of the whiskey and ran to the back door to pour it out.

She spotted Bryant and Herring, both wearing civilian clothing at the back door, thought they were two customers coming to buy a drink, and told them: "Let me throw this out quick; the law is after me."

The two officers quickly relieved her of the bottles.

Deputy Moore said a search of the premises turned up a quantity of liquor, with bootleg and tax-paid, in Mrs. Tart's bedroom and in the cafe.

Beer was found in the dance hall and cafe. Sale of beer is illegal in Duke Township.

Deputy Moore said Mrs. Tart had been bootlegging for some time, and that several previous raids were made but no liquor or beer was found in the earlier raids. During a recent court trial at Lillington, three soldiers signed sworn affidavits they had bought liquor from her.

"Everybody has been criticizing her."

us and wanting to know why we didn't catch Pauline Tart," said the officer. "What they didn't know is that we've been trying to catch her all the time."

Trial of the case is set for Thursday in county recorder's court.

The officer said a Dunn woman was found lying on a cot "passed out drunk" in the cafe. Since she was on private property, however, no charges were brought against her.

Gambling Raid Turns Up Beer

Pool Room Raided; Ted Gray Indicted

County police raided Ted Gray's pool room in East Erwin early Sunday morning and charged the well-known Erwin man with possession of beer for sale.

The raid was made by Deputies Clarence Moore and Lemuel Gregory, who had received reports that Gray was operating poker games at the pool room. A number of cars were parked about the place.

Moore said the door and windows were covered and they couldn't see inside, but could hear the rattling of money on the poker table.

"Let me in," called Gregory to Gray.

"Who is it?" asked Gray. "This is Wimpy," replied Gregory, thinking quickly and picking a name out of the air.

Plans Being Made For Polio Clinics

First mass feedings in an all out program to eradicate polio from Harnett County, by providing its 50,000 residents with the new oral vaccine will begin on September 27 was announced by the Harnett County Medical Association.

The vaccine to be used will be the new three - in - one vaccine which is taken by mouth and which provides maximum personal protection in two feedings spaced approximately eight weeks apart.

According to Dr. W. H. Lilly, chief coordinator progress in combating Infantile Paralysis or Polymyolitis has been very dramatic but "a single case in our community is too much." The vaccine to be used is the newest development in this field and represents a blend of the strains specific against the three types of polio. According to Dr. Lilly it is now possible to practically eliminate polio entirely from Harnett.

The Harnett Medical Society in cooperation with the Harnett Public Health officials have purchased 35,000 doses of the new Trivalent ORIMUNE Vaccine which will be administered through feeding stations. It is expected that a donation of 50 cents a dose will be requested to defray the cost of the vaccine, but Dr. Lilly said that no person would be denied the vaccine because of his or her inability to pay. Dr. Lilly noted that "for 50 cents it is now possible to get insurance against
