MARBLE SCULPTURE BEGAN WITH FIGURE OF CHRIST

The sculpture of marble is a highly skilled, delicate task. Because of the unknown properties of heat and volcanic action far below the earth's surface during marble formation, it's exact characteristics are something of a gamble. Anywhere there might have been a soft or irregular spot which would have had to be chiseled out and filled like a tooth. This would not be too bad if it happened on an inconspicuous part, but if it came on a face, the entire work would be ruined. The marble used in Devotional Gardens was hand-carved of best quality clear white Ravaccione statuary marble. It is quarried from the mountains high above Carrara, Italy. This marble is beautifully clear and fine-grained, and these qualities have made it the favorite medium of sculptors since classical times. It was from this district that blocks were quarried for the masterpieces of Canova, Leonardo de Vinci and Michelangelo.

Another attractive feature will be the Devotional Gardens Tower, a handsome and impressive structure created from split marble. The Chimes Tower will send forth over loud-speakers into every area of the Gardens the most beautiful music in keeping with the dignity of the surroundings.

Of particular interest will be a gorgeous lake with live ducks and other features. This will be added at a later date as construction progresses.

In its entirety, Devotional Gardens will be beautiful, artistic, a perpetual, lasting, enduring symbolic tribute to unselfish love. It will combine the talents of expert artists, sculptors, architects, horticulturists and engineers. A large part of the area is set aside for spacious walks, shrubbery, floral arrangements, artistic and architectural features.

MEMORIALS OF ENDURING BEAUTY AND DISTINCTION
The "Good Shepherd" memorial, one of the most famous of all, was quarried in the mountains of Italy of the finest and most beautiful clear Ravaccione marble. It was hand-carved under the personal supervision of the renowned marble artist, Bernhard Zuckerman. The Christus Sculpture stands majestically eight feet, 6 inches high in Devotional Gardens. It is a sight of real beauty and has attracted many visitors and tourists.

The "Finding of Moses" memorial was constructed of finest marble and the scene from the Bible depicts the finding of the baby Moses in a basket with Pharaoh's daughter. It stands life-size in a ceramic tile pool and an artificial water overflow adds to its beauty and impressiveness.
