These HANDS of MINE

Whether building a life or a skyscraper is involved, a clear understanding of the project is necessary... a plan must be in mind. The man who starts to raise a family without first considering his earning power, cost involved and the necessity for God's help — faces serious difficulty. To correctly raise a building an architect, blueprint and a builder are essential. To properly build a man — prayer, Bible reading, Sunday school and church attendance are good tools to work with. To calculate the pitch a roof must be is easy but without God's help, to determine the worth of a young life is impossible. Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only God can build a man out of a boy. The church, through these firm hands of mine, pictures to humanity the world's greatest designer... Jesus the Christ. World builders could not get along very well without Him. He has never poured a bad foundation, nor laid a sill out of level, nor raised a wall off plumb. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it," Psalms 127:1.
