

Got Idea From TV Show

Teenage Gang Held

LOS ANGELES UPI — Twelve teen-agers suspected of committing 29 burglaries that netted them $5,300 in cash and merchandise said they got the idea from a television show, Temple City sheriff's deputies reported today.

At dinner we will talk about the week's burglaries. We will ride to and from jobs in taxis wherever possible. Members will break up in twos. Each group will pocket own haul. Deputies said members of the gang—all from Temple City High School—admitted burglarizing 19 homes in Temple City, nine in Pasadena and one in San Gabriel. The youths allegedly operated two or three nights a week and told their parents they were going to the library.

The youngsters had: —Drawn up an organizational chart. —Elected leaders. —Opened bank accounts for their profits. —Held weekly dinners to discuss "future business." They also operated under rules that included: —All members must wear turtle neck sweaters, especially to the weekly dinner meetings.

Barry Resting In Jamaica

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater told newsmen today he was enjoying himself and having a good rest at Montego Bay. The senator, earlier reported to be "blistering mad" at persistent efforts of newsmen to interview him, said he was grateful and pleased they were now respecting his privacy. He said he had reservations until Nov. 22 at the Royal Caribbean Hotel and would probably stay the full time in Jamaica because he was "having such a wonderful time." Previously, Goldwater had threatened to cut short his stay because of the attention he was getting from newsmen.

MRS. CARTER BURIED
