DAINGEROUS GAME
AUSTIN, Tex. UPI— Southern Pacific Railroad officials are disturbed because some local boys insist on playing "matador" — using speeding locomotives for bulls.
The game is to see who can remain the longest on the tracks, jeering at the engineer as the train bears down on them. Last one to jump is the winner. The railroad complained to police Wednesday.

Reason For That Beard Benson Minister Appears In Play

The Rev. Lloyd Kay, a Presbyterian minister in Benson, is cast in the male lead of Creon in Antigone, the premier production of the Thompson Theatre at N. C. State.
He is a native of Miami, Fla., and has appeared with the Raleigh Little Theatre in "Wonderful Town" and "Lilliom" and has done a variety of roles in high school and college, including such plays as "Romeo and Juliet," "Hello, Out There," "Life With Father," "The Heiress," "Theatre of the Soul," and "The Last Lesson of Pantalone."

Mr. Kay sees the character of Creon as a sympathetic one, even though Creon is the cause of Antigone's martyrdom and feels that the character is practical and realistic as opposed to the idealism of Antigone.
Antigone will be performed in the Thompson Theatre November 1-21. Tickets may be obtained through the Thompson Theatre or the Erdahl-Cloyd Union at N. C. State.

COLEMAN GETS HONOR
MONTREAL (UPI) — Fullback Lovell Coleman of the Calgary Stampeders who led ball carriers with 1,629 yards rushing last season, was named player of the year in the Canadian Football League today. Coleman is a 26-year-old former star for Western Michigan.
AMHERST ON TOP
NEW YORK (UPI) — Amherst, which completed its season last Saturday with a 20-7 victory over Williams to run its record to 8-0, was ranked No. 2 today in the race for the eighth Lambert Cup, emblematic of Eastern small college football supremacy. Temple and Bucknell were tied for second place and Wagner was fourth.
