Angier Quartet Proves Popular

Four Angier students of the Neill's Creek community are fast becoming well known for their singing abilities.

The girls' quartet, known as the "Neill's Creek Girl's Quartet" or the "Angierettes," consists of a high school senior, Gail Mangum, and three juniors, Brenda Hughes, Kay Butts and Joan Smith.

The girls began singing together five years ago at the Neill's Creek Baptist Church. Their past performances include appearances at the Angier Glee Club Concert, Little River Baptist Associational meeting, Raleigh Fireman's Auxiliary, Lillington P-T-A, Lillington Methodist Church, Eastern Star in Lillington, Angier Baptist, Harmony and Pleasant Union Churches.

The girls are coached and accompanied by Mrs. Loyde Smith. Future engagements include the FGA rally to be held Nov. 10, 1965 at the University of North Carolina and the Angier Glee Club's Christmas and spring concerts directed by Howard Mathews.

November 27, at 1 p. m. the Angierettes will appear on the Jimmy Burnes Show over channel 6-TV in Wilmington. Tonight the Angierettes will be featured at the P.T.A. meeting beginning at 8 p. m. in the Angier school auditorium.

Holiday Rites At Lillington

The community Thanksgiving service will be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 25, 7:30 at the Lillington Methodist Church. The message will be delivered by Rev. Frank Grill, pastor of the church. Special music will be provided by the host church.

The Thanksgiving service is held each year with the place of meeting, as well as the preacher, handled on a rotating basis. The service this year was scheduled to be held at the Baptist Church but due to recent remodeling of the Methodist Church, the ministerial association felt that the community would like to meet there and worship together this year.

A free-will offering is taken at the service, with the undesignated portion of it equally divided among the children's homes of the respective churches.

Survives Brooklyn Bridge Jump

Leaps From Bridge, Gets Only Bruise

NEW YORK (UPI) — A penniless, jobless Texan did a Steve Brodie off the Brooklyn Bridge early today, diving 167 feet into the black waters. He had only a slight bruise on his back to show for it.

The would-be suicide, Marvin Holliman of Fort Worth, Tex., was fished from the water by police and placed under psychiatric observation at Bellevue Hospital.

Physicians said he was in excellent physical condition.

He was one of the few, including Steve Brodie, who have jumped from the bridge during its 81-year history and survived.

"He's off.... he's alive.... he's swimming," shouted an excited police official on the police radio as Holliman made a perfect one and a half gainer dive into the East River from the middle of the bridge and came up swimming.

Holliman hit the water hands first with a big splash, his arms stretched out to break the fall. He swam to a garbage barge about 100 feet away and was hauled out by three patrolmen who threw him a rope from the pier.

"I guess I'm like Johnny Weissmuller," Holliman told his rescuers, referring to the former swimming and diving champion who was an early Tarzan in movies.

However, Holliman's sister, Marva, 17, said in Houston that her brother had never been an exceptional athlete and was "just an average swimmer and diver."

Baptist Men Hold Meeting

The Baptist Brotherhood of Little River Association held an annual associational meeting at Pleasant Memory Church on Monday evening with Alton Stephenson of Erwin presiding.

Rev. Gerald Riggs of North Clinton Ave. Church in Dunn prayed the opening prayer, followed by special music from the Young People's Choir of the same church. Johnny Norris sang "I'm Satisfied With Jesus."

Guest speaker of the evening was Al Long of Durham. The theme of his most inspirational talk was the "Importance of Getting on the Master's Team"

Around 100 men of 20 churches attended the meeting.

PRAYER SERVICE

The business men's prayer meeting will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. in the conference room of Home Saving & Loan. It is open to the public.
