Seeing Movie Proves Costly

At least one Campbell College student knows that the price of shirking homework can come high. Junior English major Gene Anderson yielded recently to the temptation to disregard his for a trip to Raleigh to watch Richard Burton playing in the movie "Becket." When he returned to his parking place, he discovered that his car had been stolen; and several days later Raleigh police notified him that it had been found in a city dump. Anderson itemizes as total cost of the movie two new tires, two gasoline credit cards, one broken window, one fur-lined jacket, one pair of glasses, one elephant-leather wallet, and $43.89 in cash. "The movie was good," Anderson says, "but I should have stayed on campus and read that book."

Stockholders Give Conditional OK Merger Of Gas Companies Near

Merger of two eastern North Carolina natural gas firms has been approved subject to two conditions. President Volney H. Kyle Jr. of North Carolina Natural Gas Corp. said today. The consent of the first mortgage bondholders and approval of the Securities Exchange Commission becomes final. Stockholders of the N. C. gas company, with headquarters in Fayetteville, voted their conditional approval of an earlier proposal by the company's board of directors to merge its operations with Tidewater Natural Gas Co. The stockholders elected Willard P. Baldwin vice president of the Tidewater division of N. C. Natural Gas. Other officers were re-elected: Kyle, president; William G. Hill, vice president, sales; Donald W. McCoy, secretary; Howard L. Ford, treasurer. Stockholders of the latter utility firm had given sanction to the same proposal at their annual meeting in Wilmington Monday, Nov. 30. The State Utilities Commission in Raleigh on Monday announced its approval of the impending merger order.

Considerations involved in the transaction included the issuance of up to 252,256 shares of NCGC common stock to be converted from Tidewater stock, and the assumption of Tidewater's $4.5 million long-term indebtedness. The negotiations join together under the management of North Carolina Natural Gas Corp., the surviving member, transmission and distribution systems furnishing natural gas to 31 urban communities in south-central and eastern North Carolina. Five cities in the eastern part of the state - Fayetteville, Wilmington, Kinston, New Bern and Washington - where Tidewater Natural Gas previously operated - will now comprise the Tidewater Natural Gas Division of N. C. Natural Gas Corp. NCGC, which transmits the gas via a 600-mile pipeline from a take-off point on Transcontinental Gas Pipeline's main artery near Mooresville, also distributes the fuel in 22 central and eastern Tarheel communities. They include Albemarle, Norwood, Wadesboro, Rockingham, Hamlet, Aberdeen, Red Springs, Southern Pines, Raeford, Laurin-

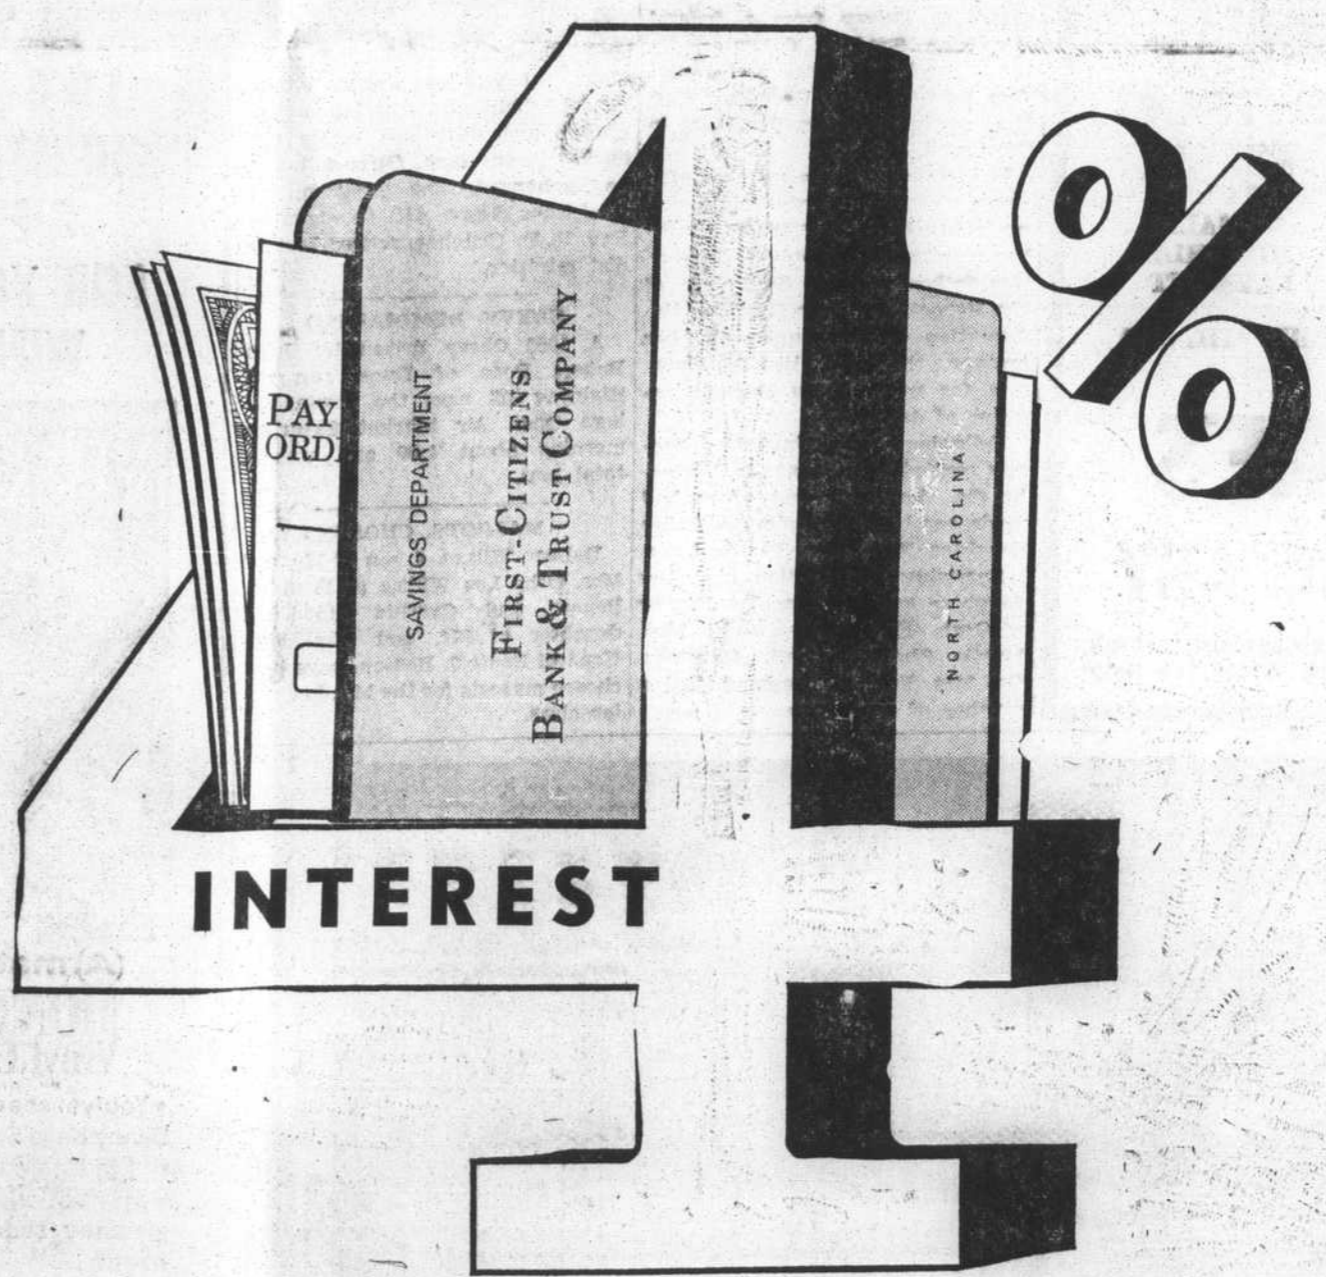

In Slums of Bombay Million Greet Pope

BOMBAY, India (UP) - Pope Paul VI took his pilgrimage of peace and charity through the streets of Bombay today to the deafening cheers of more than a million Indians. In sweltering 80-degree weather, his red shoe splattered with the mud of the city's slums, the pontiff visited in rapid-fire order a church, an orphanage, two schools and a hospital. He was visibly tired from the grueling pace of the heavy schedule. The Pope has described himself as "an apostle on the move."

"We come to you as a messenger of Jesus and His teachings," the Pope said in one of several speeches along the way. "We shall never cease to pray that God almighty and our Lord Jesus may pour down upon the rulers and people of this noble nation an abundance of divine blessings, especially the high gift of peace, in justice and brotherly love." The pontiff's prayer was particularly significant in this overpopulated nation where poverty, starvation and disease are a way of life for thousands. The Pope saw some of that poverty close-up today. The utility concern also furnishes the fuel to four other cities: Monroe, Wilson, Rocky Mount and Greenville, which operate municipal distribution systems of their own. According to figures of the State Utilities Commission, Tidewater showed a net loss of $55,000, a smaller loss than for previous years, and N. C. Natural Gas showed a net income of $59,000 for the year ending December 31, 1963.
