LBJ CHARGES RED CHINA PLOT

THESE LITTLE THINGS

By Hoover Adams

IT'S A SMALL WORLD, EVEN IN BIG NEW YORK

Mr. and Mrs. John (Red) Lewis of Lewis Studio in Dunn were in New York to attend the International Photographic Exposition held in the mammoth New York Coliseum.

Red reports it was a fascinating exposition, with ten whole acres of photographic equipment on display.

An interesting thing happened on the trip.

Mrs. Lewis and a couple of friends were taking a guided tour of the big town. At the end of the tour, the guide on the bus, a very pleasant fellow who did an excellent job, turned to the crowd and asked, "Where's everybody from?" The first person he pointed to was Mrs. Lewis.

"I'm from Dunn, North Carolina," she replied.

"Well, what do you know," exclaimed the guide. "That's my hometown and my parents live there on West Broad St."

The guide was David Hardison, Jr., whose father operates a barber shop here.

LITTLE NOTES: Two well-known Dunn men were fishing yesterday afternoon in the gravel pit near Bunlevel. One of them didn't have a fishing permit. . . . Soon after they threw their hooks into the water, they heard a rifle shot. . . . The one who didn't have a fishing permit figured it was the game warden and took off running for a mile or so until he caught a ride back to Dunn. . . . Worried for fear his companion had been shot, he called Deputy Sheriff Carson Hall and they went back to the fishing hole to investigate. . . . He found his friend still fishing. He hadn't been shot or wounded, but enjoyed a good laugh over his friend's unnecessary anxiety. . . . Melania Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson and high school columnist for The Daily Record, has been selected as Chief Marshal for Dunn High's graduation. . . . The honor goes to the member of the junior class with the highest scholastic honor. . . . Others are Clifton Alphin, Rebecca Pope and John Thornton, who had the next highest averages. . . . Mrs. Louise Lee, assistant city clerk, advertised in The Daily Record a few days ago that she had lost her little Pekinese dog. . . . Mrs. Reaves phoned Mrs. Lee that she had found her dog and gave Mrs. Lee, her address. Mrs. Lee said today she had been unable to locate that address and asks that Mrs. Reaves phone her again. . . . The Dunn Lions Club netted about $250 on its annual broom sale for benefit of the blind. . . . Lion Jimmy Coats headed the very successful drive. . . . Citizens who don't like Dunn's new fog-horn fire alarm will be relieved of the sound for at least a while. . . . It was struck by lightning the other day.

Lowell Fox, 21, of Dunn, Route 4, was fined $25 in Harnett Recorder's Court at Lillington for violation of prohibition charges.

Fox, was arrested Saturday night by Rural Policeman Carson Hall of Dunn and Sherwood West of Erwin.

Deputy Hall said Fox had stopped at a grill between Dunn and Erwin and they saw him take something out of his car that looked like a bottle of whiskey.

Only one contested case was heard, that of James Ellis Rutledge, soldier of Fort Bragg, charged with no license plates and no liability insurance. ## Says They Won't Succeed In Taking All Asia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson said today the Viet Nam conflict was part of a Chinese Communist drive to take over all of Asia and he pledged: "They shall never succeed."

Johnson discussed the role of Chinese Reds in a White House talk to an audience of editorial cartoonists. His remarks were televised and broadcast to the nation. "Their target is not merely South Viet Nam — it is Asia," he said of the Chinese Communists. "Their objective is not the fulfillment of Vietnamese nationalism. It is to erode and discredit America's ability to help prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia. In this they shall never succeed."

Johnson in his speech renewed his call for unconditional peace talks and emphasized his proposal of a massive Southeast Asian aid program in which he invited Russia to join.

Blames Chinese Reds He blamed the Chinese Reds for blocking peace negotiations.

Johnson said: "We are ready for unconditional discussions. And it would clearly be in the interest of North Viet Nam to come to the conference table. For them, continuation of war without talks means only damage without conquest."

"Communist China apparently desires the war to continue whatever the cost to their allies."

The President said there was greater need than ever for peace talks and the setting up of a aid program because no purely (Continued on Page Six)

Things Quiet For Military

Political Stalemate In DR

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Representatives of the Organization of American States (OAS) tried today to find a way to break the political stalemate in the Dominican Republic. Ricardo Colombo, Argentine chief of the five-man OAS peace mission here, talked Wednesday with rebel Col. Francisco Caamano Demo in an effort to find a basis for negotiation between rival Dominican factions.

At the same time, OAS military representatives visited rebels held prisoner by Maj. Gen. Antonio Imber Barreara's military-civilian junta in the security zone. They had previously visited rebels imprisoned at the San Isidro airbase, east of the city. Imbert's junta was in effective control of most of the country. Caamano's forces, estimated at about 3,000 men, held an isolated portion of Santo Domingo.

GREENVILLE, S. C. (UPI) — A lawyer denied today that the estranged wife of an industrialist master-minded a half-million-dollar theft from her husband, claiming instead it was her money all along.

In the meantime, police said they had no clues to what happened to the $550,000 in cash taken on Easter night last year from a bathroom adjoining the office of John D. Hollingsworth.

The daughter of the wealthy man, Mrs. Mary Jean Farrell, a 19-year-old blond living in Miami, said she would fight extradition to South Carolina to face charges of also taking part in the theft.

A third woman, a 52-year-old missionary for the Associated Reform Presbyterian Church in Mexico also is charged with taking part in the theft.

Mrs. Theo Ducky Kuper, once employed in Hollingsworth's plant and the former manager of a beauty salon owned by Mrs. Hollingsworth, was charged with being an accessory.

"She got $5,000 and a kiss on the cheek" from Mrs. Hollingsworth said J. P. Strom, chief of the State Law Enforcement Division, at a trial earlier this week for a fourth person in the bizarre crime.

He is Jeffrey Bruce Farrell, 21, formerly of Miami, now a clerk in a New York City store.

Farrell's brother is married to Hollingsworth's daughter.

Farrell's testimony before being given a four years' suspended sentence for housebreaking and larceny brought the charges against the daughter, wife and missionary.

Phillip J. Mandina, a Miami attorney who represented Farrell and also represents the daughter, said the money belonged to Mrs. Hollingsworth. (Continued on Page Six)
