Campbell Fund-Raisers To Report

Senator Morgan To Speak

Community fund-drive leaders of six Harnett County towns will converge on Campbell College Saturday morning for a report to the college and the people on the current drive for Campbell College.

In a meeting at 10 a. m. in the Trustees Room on the college campus, the first composite report on the campaign in Harnett will be recorded by local radio stations for broadcast later Saturday, which drive leaders have set as Campbell College day in the county.

Morgan to Speak
Presiding at the event will be W. L. Corbin of Dunn, member of Campbell's statewide Million Dollar Cabinet and general chairman of the Harnett County effort. Principal speaker will be Senator Robert Morgan, President Leslie H. Campbell will voice the appreciation of the college for the fine response the county has already made in Campbell's effort to retire capital debt on its science and library buildings before it stands review for regional accreditation as a senior college.

Judge Commits Him For Safety

Boy, 11, Is Menace

MEMPHIS (UPI) — A juvenile court judge declared an 11-year-old boy a public menace Friday and asked that he be confined "before somebody kills him."

It was the first time in two years on the bench that Judge Kenneth Turner had asked the Department of Corrections to commit a child under 12.

The boy has a record of 17 arrests for burglary, prowling, truancy and turning in false fire alarms, Turner said.

Register's Probation Revoked

Dunn Man Ordered To Serve Sentence

Harvey C. Register, about 40, well-known Dunn resident, has been ordered to serve two years of a federal prison sentence given him in 1962 for violation of U. S. liquor laws.

U. S. District Judge Algernon L. Butler, at a hearing held in his chambers at Clinton, ruled that Register had violated terms of his probation and ordered him to serve term.

At the time of his conviction Register was given three years in federal prison, suspended for five years, fined $750 and ordered to remain on probation for five years.

The government offered evidence to connect Register with the ownership and operation of six whiskey stills and also charged that he had been engaged in selling fruit jars and sugar at his store knowing the jars and sugar were to be used in the manufacture of bootleg whiskey to defraud the government of taxes.

Missing Beauty Returns Home

Miss Arkansas Is Unhappy

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (UPI) — Blonde beauty Rhonda Oglesby, who resigned as Miss Arkansas last week and disappeared, said today she was very unhappy and needed to get away.

She returned home late Thursday night and her father, Horace Oglesby, issued a handwritten statement from her. She was not available for questioning.

The statement started off with an apology for the way in which she left — she sent telegrams to the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the Miss Arkansas pageant, and to her parents from Memphis saying she would not be living in Arkansas any more.

Until Monday even her parents did not know where she was.

"I thought at one time nothing could make me happier than being Miss Arkansas for a year," she said. "I considered it a challenge and an honor and I still do. Maybe I was trying too hard to live up to an idea that existed only in my mind.

"I'm not really sure of all the reasons why she left. I just know that I was very unhappy and needed desperately to get away."

She said the only person she knew to turn to was Lee Carter, a boyfriend from Pine Bluff she had dated, and she convinced him she wanted to leave. She said they left the University of Arkansas and went to Washington so she could join the Peace Corps.

"I discovered it's not a simple process and takes several months, so I returned home to discuss my future plans with my parents," she said.

Will Attempt To Perform Ten Orbital Changes

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (UPI) — America's power packed Titan-3C military space launcher raced into an overcast sky today carrying two satellites on the first leg of a record attempt to perform 10 orbital changes.

The triple-barreled rocket, key to the U. S. soldier-in-space effort, was making its second and toughest test flight — a trial to show it can perform the cosmic acrobatics future space ships might need.

The Air Force booster was launched at 12:25 p.m. EST 1:28 EDT with an awesome display of force and fury that makes it the free world's most powerful. In three years, it will utilize its might to orbit manned space stations.

The Titan was first headed toward a low, looping orbit at (Continued On Page 8)

Two Rotarians Are Recognized

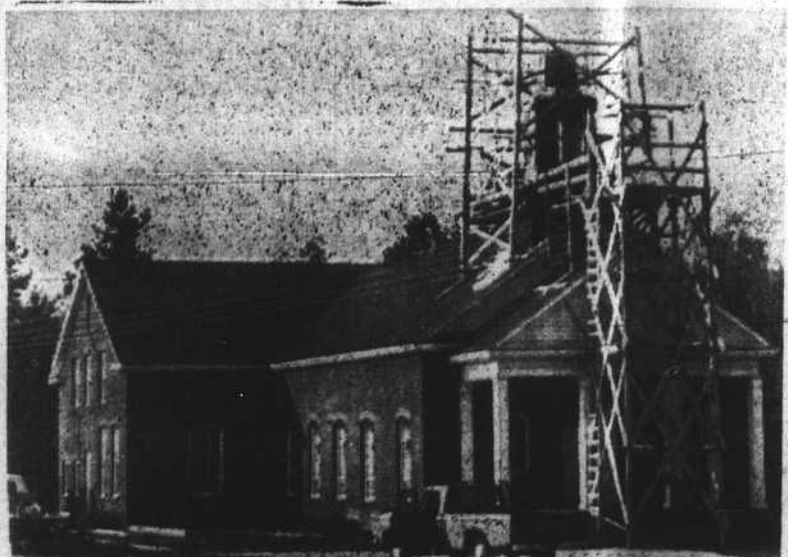

Two Dunn Rotarians received gifts at Tuesday's meeting for their outstanding programs during the quarter.

Mother Loses Lawsuit To Regain Land

Jury Rules Kennedy Deed Valid

A jury in Harnett Superior Court yesterday ruled against Mrs. Marie Conrad Kennedy in an unusual lawsuit brought against her granddaughter and son-in-law. Pat and Barbara Price Fore, in an attempt to set aside a deed for property she assigned to them.

Mrs. Kennedy claimed she had signed the deed while under severe emotional strain caused by the illness and death of her brother, Watson A. Campbell of Cameron, Route 2. She also contended undue influence and pressure had been exerted by the granddaughter and her husband.

Judge Leo Carr instructed jurors to answer two questions: 1. Was Mrs. Kennedy mentally competent at the time she signed the deed? 2. Was undue pressure used to influence her to sign the deed.

After about an hour's deliberation, jurors ruled that Mrs. Kennedy was competent and that no pressure had been exerted on her. The claim alleges that through undue influence and fraud the plaintiff was taken advantage of and in her weakened physical and mental condition and contrary to her will and desire, the defendants caused her to affix her signature to a paper purporting to be a deed conveying her property to a will.

At the first trial, which lasted four days at a previous court the case was non-suited at the conclusion of the state's presentation of evidence, pertained to a former will Mrs. Kennedy had made to the defendants. The new trial is to break a deed later given the Fores when the plaintiff claims she was induced to give a deed instead of the will by the Fores, so it could not be as easily broken as a will.

The case opened Monday and Mrs. Kennedy was on the stand a day and a half.

Attorneys Bryan and Wilson represent the Fores and Senator Robert Morgan represents Mrs. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy testified that in order to induce her to sign the deed the defendants said they would provide care for the plaintiff in her old age, pay her the sum of $300 per acre per year for rent during her lifetime and provide a decent burial for her.

The land conveyed by the deed to the Fores is of the value of $7,000 and is located in Barbecue Township. The plaintiff asks that the purported deed be set aside and declared null and void and the cost of this action be taxed against the defendants. Mrs. Fore is the granddaughter of Mrs. Kennedy.

Most French Girls Don't Sleep Nude, They Say

PARIS (UPI) — If she's French, she probably doesn't sleep nude. She likes to wear something frilly at night.

So says a survey made by the afternoon paper France Soir published Wednesday in the wake of reports that German lingerie makers are up in arms because Gretchen doesn't wear anything in bed.

German nightwear makers are complaining because, they say, the average German woman's outlay on nightclothes has dropped from the equivalent of $5.60 in 1963 to only $3.30 in 1964.

Not so in France, says France Soir.

Here only one girl out of 15 sleeps nude. And those who cover up come out wholeheartedly in favor of the traditional nightgown rather than mannish pajamas.

In the land which produced the perfume which used to be Marilyn Monroe's only bed time garb, French women spent a total of $33.8 million on night gowns last year, France Soir said.

They only spent $12.8 million on pajamas, according to the paper.

France Soir theorized that the girls do it for sex appeal here. "The nightgown is their favorite because of its femininity," the survey said.
