Company Gets Injunction To Stop Violence

The governor's office in Raleigh today reportedly promised to send state highway patrolmen to the strike-bound Wellons Candy Co. here.

John Horne, owner of the company, said he had asked for and received the promise of additional patrolmen after pickets this morning smashed the windows in a bus carrying workers to the plant.

Only one man was injured by the flying glass. A number were examined for possible injuries at Betsy Johnson Hospital.

The bus came from the downtown area and had made its way almost to the company entrance, when pickets blocked the path. No arrests were reported.

About 180 of the company's 250 workers went on strike on Monday for higher wages and better working conditions.

Carver Says Commies Should Pay For Legislative Session

Legion Observes Veterans Day

State American Legion Commander J. Alvin Carver, at a Veterans Day dinner observance here Wednesday night, suggested that the bill for the cost of next week's special session of the General Assembly be sent to the Communist Party for payment.

"I understand it is going to cost about $11,000 a day and I think they ought to pay it," Carver said.

He suggested to State Rep. Carson Gregory who was present that Gregory introduce a bill to let the Communists pay for the session.

Rep. Gregory, who spoke earlier, said the only amendment he favored to the bill was one giving citizens the right to vote on keeping the law.

He said Governor Moore had called him Wednesday urging him to support the amendment proposed by the Study Commission. He said he understands the Governor is making similar calls to other legislators.

Gregory said he told Moore that at least 90 per cent of the people in Harnett support the law. Carver predicted that legislation that he intends to keep onators who vote to retain the law in its present form will be rejected in next spring's primaries.

Groundbreaking Next Thursday

City Hall Rites

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Dunn's new City Hall will be held next Thursday at 2 o'clock at the site at the corner of North Magnolia Ave. and East Broad Street.

Plans for the event were announced today by Mayor Bill Marshburn, who emphasized that the public of this entire area is cordially invited to attend.

City officials, the architect, the contractors and others identified with the project are also expected.

The mayor said the ceremony would be very simple. In a letter sent out today announcing the event, he said, "It is a highly significant event in the life of our community."

It will cost approximately $300,000.

Stewardship Month At First Baptist

The First Baptist Church of Dunn will spend the next four weeks largely in stewardship education, information and challenge designed to increase individual giving to the church and meeting the budget for the coming year.

"The Now" is the theme of the financial campaign. The Rev. Tom Freeman in announcing the month-long emphasis on finances, pointed out that stewardship has improved at the church for the past three years but that members are not giving anywhere near what they could and should do.

The average member of the church gave $56.85 during the past year, but should have given $142.50 according to figures in a special stewardship news letter mailed to the members.

Services both morning and evening Nov. 14, 21, 28th and Dec. 5th will be devoted to increasing the church's finances.

The pastor stressed that the stewardship program is not just a way to raise money for the church, adding, "The supreme objective is the dedication of self, the consecration of life with all its powers and abilities. This must rightly come first, and when it does, we do not find it unpleasant to give a tenth of our income to our God."

Following is a list of the various committees, headed by John F. Strickland, general chairman of the Forward Program:

Budget Planning Committee: Emmett Aldredge, Chm.; Curtis B. Ennis, Max McLeod, J. I. Thomas, W. Earl Jones, Mrs. Emma Ann Ruark, Mrs. Sam Ausley, Mrs. Grover Mitchell.

Senator Byrd Gives Up Seat

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — U. S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who earned a reputation as the watchdog of the nation's purse-strings, has resigned to make way for a younger man — possible his son.

Byrd, 78, powerful chairman of the Senate Finance Committee quit his post one week after state elections and thus assured his successor who will be appointed by Virginia's Democratic governor at least one year in the office before a special election next November.

He cited pains of arthritis as a main reason for his decision, and said he found himself tiring during lengthy committee meetings. Byrd, in a fashion as conservative as his renowned views on taxes and spending, announced his resignation in a letter to Gov. Albertis Harrison.

The resignation became effective upon receipt of the letter Wednesday night, and Harrison read it to a news conference today.

White House Friends Say

LBJ Persuades Luci To Postpone Wedding

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has talked his daughter Luci Baines and her boyfriend Pat Nugent into postponing their engagement plans.

White House friends said the President's 18-year-old daughter Luci and Nugent of Waukegan, Ill. were given some paternal advice during a first family conference at the LBJ ranch two weekends ago.

Nugent plans to go into the service on Nov. 28. If he goes into the Air Reserves, it would be only a six-month stint.

The President's powers of persuasion apparently prevailed, although the young couple were far from happy with the lack of parental consent for a nuptial announcement.

Johnson is said to feel Luci is still too young. He also wants her to get her degree at Georgetown.

Mrs. Snipes Thanks Firms Distributive Ed Week Is Observed

This week, National DECA Week, is being observed in more than 2,000 cities where Distributive Education is taught in the public school system.

In Dunn, as elsewhere, the local Chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, or DECA, is closely associated with the instructional program. This student-directed activity is an effective part of the learning and training process in developing future leaders for marketing and distribution. Principal A. B. Johnson has officially proclaimed the week.

Through research projects and recognition events, the activities of the local DECA Chapter bring into sharper focus the various instructional parts of the DE program taught in our local high school.

Five Divorces Granted

George R. Carroll Jr. of Lillington, assistant vice president of the Southern National Bank, has been named county key banker for Harnett County.

Carroll's appointment was announced by Clyde L. Stutts of Shelby, president of the North Carolina Bankers Assn.

Carroll's assignment for the year includes the role of agricultural spokesman in the county for the bankers association.

A native of Columbus County, Carroll has been in local banking service for 10 years.

Mrs. Carroll is the former Ann Lanier of Kiplins. They have two children, Jeffrey and Kathy.

Life would be easier if teenagers obeyed their parents' rules as rigidly as they obey those of their favorite sport.

Harnett Committee Meets In Angier

These words "Your job is to select areas within the county which satisfy all requirements for an airport. Let me stress the fact that we are not selecting specific sites, merely general areas wherein air operations may be carried on. Bear in mind the future development of the county and the users whom the airport will serve."

The airport committee was sanctioned by the County Commissioners on November 1st and placed under the Harnett Agricultural Development Commission.

In a further statement Mr. Johnson called upon all committee members to publicize the airport committee objectives and to accept every opportunity to point out the advantages of an airport.

Individuals and groups from many areas of the county have expressed themselves as favoring an airport which will serve the entire county. The next meeting of the committee will be held in Coats on November 29.

Amendment Foes Can Be Heard

Scott Tries To Limit Session

RALEIGH (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Robert Scott said today leaders of the legislature plan to make an early attempt to confine next week's special session to the one issue: the speaker ban law.

Scott and House Speaker Pat Taylor also issued a joint statement advising that individuals or organizations who want to be heard on the speaker ban issue should notify them by Sunday, Nov. 14.

"In order to conserve time and expense, we are hopeful that testimony can be confined to the absolute minimum," the joint statement said.

"Public hearings held by the study commission were given wide publicity and all view points were thoroughly discussed. However, any organization or person desiring to be heard will be given an opportunity to do so provided we are notified by Nov. 14."

Scott said the two houses of the legislature probably will be organized into committees of the whole.

"This is what we hope to do. It would have to be with the approval of the two bodies," he said.

Scott said he is hopeful the session will be confined to the one issue.

"If we allow other items to be introduced, then you simply open the floodgates and we could well be here until Thanksgiving or later."
