NUCLEAR SHIPS GO INTO ACTION

Navy Throwing More Muscle Into Battle

SAIGON (UPI) — The first nuclear powered U. S. Navy ships assigned to the Viet Nam war moved into combat stations off the coast of Viet Nam today.

They were the carrier Enterprise, the largest ship afloat, and the guided-missile frigate Bainbridge.

While the Navy threw more muscle into the ever-growing American might, B52 Strategic bombers from Guam today struck enemy targets in Binh Tuy Province 75 miles north-east of Saigon where U. S., Vietnamese and Australian troops were trying to prevent a vast rice harvest from falling into Viet Cong hands.

The campaign by the "several thousand" allied troops was in the fifth day of a probe, through the Communist-dominated area but there have been no reports of fighting. In the past, villagers in the area have had to turn over their rice to the Viet Cong which lives off the land.

Another nuclear powered submarine has been in the Western Pacific and have visited Japan but the Enterprise and the Bainbridge were the first nuclear-powered ships to join the Viet Nam war effort. They joined other 77 fleet ships already stationed off Viet Nam.

CATCHING UP WITH THE AIR AGE—At least in Cleveland, Ohio, it's not going to be possible in the future to say that it takes longer to get to the airport than to fly to a distant city. The Ohio metropolitan area is soon to mark a first in the nation with direct rapid transit connections between airport and city center. When a four-mile extension of the present system is completed in 1967, Cleveland Hopkins Airport will be only 20 minutes from the heart of downtown. Elsewhere in the world, only Tokyo and Brussels have similar service. Sketch shows airport terminal, only a few steps away from check-in and baggage counters.

Lynda Bird On Acapulco Visit With Hamilton

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — Lynda Byrd Johnson and Hollywood star George Hamilton were a charmed twosome at Acapulco, Mexico, today while her sister Luci and boy friend Patrick J. Nugent spent a farewell weekend at the LBJ ranch.

The White House said that the President's elder daughter, black-haired, brown-eyed Lynda, flew to Acapulco Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeLoach of Austin, Tex., long time friends of the Johnsons.

Informed sources said that Lynda, 21, was invited by Hamilton to spend the holiday weekend with him and several other guests at the plush Mexican resort.

Lynda departed after the Thanksgiving turkey feasting at the ranch. She spent only a few hours on the holiday with Luci, 18, who had flown to Texas with Nugent, 22 of Wakegan, Ill.

Nugent will enter military service on Sunday.

Family Told Just Before Holiday Meal

Hoodlums Kill Father Of 7

NEW YORK (UPI) — The rap on the door came as the Thanksgiving dinner was simmering in the kitchen at Donald Buckley's apartment.

The two Brooklyn detectives at the door noted the festively-set table and the scrubbed faces of Buckley's seven youngsters.

Donald Buckley, 43, a man who held two jobs so his family would have plenty to be thankful for, was dead. He was stabbed to death and robbed by a group of young hoodlums in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section Thursday after finishing work.

The detectives showed Doreen Buckley, 39, two sets of keys which she identified as belonging to her husband. They took her to the morgue while the teen-aged children minded the little ones.

Two dozen Brooklyn detectives skipped their Thanksgiving meals to hunt Buckley's killer. With the aid of neighborhood residents, they had found five suspects by evening.

Daniel Robison, 16, and Ronald Perkins, 17, both of Brooklyn, were booked for homicide. Two 15-year-olds with juvenile delinquency records and one 14-year-old were charged.

Nation Enters Space Age

France Fires Rocket

PARIS (UPI) — France today put its first satellite into orbit. The launching boosted France into the space age along with the United States and Russia.

An official announcement said a three-stage, 18-ton Diamant rocket took aloft and placed into orbit the A-1 space capsule at 2:47 p. m. (9:47 a. m. EST).

The satellite, which was to have been launched on the Algerian desert last Monday, was delayed by sandstorms and technical difficulties. It is an 83.7 pound capsule.

The launching was delayed when trouble developed in the fuel pumping system of the rocket's second stage.

"Do It Yourself" Bread Kits Sold

Breadless Weekend Begins In London

LONDON (UPI) — An estimated 20 million Britons Friday night began a "breadless weekend" that will leave many tables empty of the staple foodstuff.

The cause is a 48-hour strike for more pay by 10,000 bakers in London, its surrounding counties and parts of Western England and the Midlands, including the major city of Manchester.

Some housewives tried to beat the strike by getting up before dawn and waiting in subfreezing temperatures at small independent bakers unaffected by the strike.

But shops in the strike area served by members of the Wholesale and Multiple Bakers' Federation, which normally bakes three out of every four British loaves, were sold out of bread because the walk-out by their employees began Thursday. They will not get any more bread until Monday.

Many of the shops with bread person or restricted sales to regular customers.

Some stores double their prices from one shilling (14 cents) to two shillings (28 cents).

The bread lines were less quarrelsome than Thursday when police were called to a number of shops to control crowds. Bakers said the shoppers had become more realistic about doing without bread.

Sales of flour and yeast for home baking rocketed.

One store chain in Nottingham, the town of Robin Hood fame, sent its trucks out selling do-it-yourself breadmaking kits consisting of three-pound bags of flour packets of yeast and instructions, all for two shillings and four pence (33 cents).

44,807 At Houston Event

Billy Graham Raps Broken Homes Trend

HOUSTON (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham's Thanksgiving message drew 44,807 persons to the air-conditioned confines of the Harris County domed stadium Thursday night.

The evangelist blamed the "breaking up of American home life" for increasing rates of divorce and juvenile crime.

Graham said the broken home, not the racial crisis, is the greatest social problem facing America today.

Graham made a plea for liberal contributions from those attending the crusade. He said his "Crusade for Christ" still needs about $120,000 to meet local debts. The Baptist evangelist said none of the contributions would go to members of his staff, all of whom are paid salaries from crusade headquarters.

Graham said the Houston Sports Association was charging the crusade $12,500 for each day of the 10-day crusade. The HSA has a lease on the domed stadium.

of the apostolic palace was the first reported at the Vatican in years. The theft was discovered this morning.

Although Vatican library sources said the two ancient literary manuscripts were "priceless" they put a value on the stolen relics as ranging from 200 to 300 million lire or up to $500,000.

The most valuable was an original work of Francesco Petrarca's "Canzoniere," the outstanding work of the 14th century poet. Much of it was in Petrarca's own handwriting and included important notes. "Canzoniere" includes a number of sonnets, madrigals and ballads.

The second manuscript was series of poems by Torquato Tasso, the 16th century Roman poet who wrote "Jerusalem Liberated" among other things.

The other subjects stolen were a replica of a crown of St. Stephan, the Hungarian saint and a national object belonging to Queen Isabella Morena. Morena was the president of Ecuador who was assassinated at the end of the last century. The box and its contents had been sent to the late Pope Leo XIII.

Three Klansmen Facing Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Three Ku Klux Klansmen stand trial Monday in federal court here for conspiring to violate the civil rights of a U. S. citizen in an outgrowth of the slaying of Mrs. Viola Luizzo.

Collie Leroy Wilkins - already found innocent of murder charges - William Eaton and Eugene Thomas will be defended by Arthur Hanes, a former mayor of Birmingham and one-time FBI agent.

U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr., will hear the case.

Hanes, who successfully defended Wilkins last month in Hayneville on charges of murdering Mrs. Luizzo, called the federal indictment "ridiculous and fantastic." He said he was unsure of his defense because "the indictment is extremely vague. No one is mentioned in it and it doesn't say whose civil rights my clients were supposed to have violated."

Mrs. Luizzo, a white housewife from Detroit, was shot to death in her car March 26 while shuttling civil rights workers following the Selma to Montgomery "freedom march."

Ike's Recovery Is Satisfactory

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, heartened by a Thanksgiving Day family reunion, continued his recovery Friday from two heart attacks.

The last medical report issued by doctors at Walter Reed Army Medical Center Thursday said Eisenhower was making "satisfactory progress" in regaining his health from the mild heart attacks suffered Nov. 9-10 at Augusta, Ga.

Doctors said in a statement the general got up for a short time Thanksgiving morning and was in good spirits.

The hospital, apparently in accordance with the family's wishes, did not report who was present in Eisenhower's top-floor suite at Walter Reed for the holiday dinner. Presumably, his wife Mamie was at his side along with his son, John, daughter-in-law Barbara and possibly his three grandchildren.
