N. Y. Telegram Backs Federal Law To Put End to Lynching

New York, Sept. 26.—In an editorial commenting upon the recently announced southern commission for the study of lynching, the New York Telegram backs up the position taken by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that a federal law will be needed to end the crime. The editorial says in part;

"But, however successful this investigating group may be in uncovering the causes and fixing the blame for this barbarous system; it can hardly do more in the end than reveal the dire need for federal legislation and enforcement as one part of the solution.

"If the administration in Washington carries out its platform pledge to help the Negro if it will insist on enforcement of a federal anti-lynching law.

"Once before such a bill has passed the House only to be killed by a Senate minority filibuster. Now Cole Blease and some Southern Senators in that filibuster have been repudiated by the voters. So the administration should not have great difficulty in passing such a law if it acts with vigor and determination."

The N. A. A. C. P. attorneys are now at work upon the draft of a federal anti-lynching law to be introduced in House and Senate at the next session of Congress.

There are other vanished landmarks which have their place in the book of memory. The Astor house oyster bar where you sat on stools and men opened oysters faster than you could eat them. Montags, where you found artists and newspaper men drinking coffee and indulging in deep argument; Martini; the Hoffman house; old Delmonico's, The Brevard, the Lafayette, Faunces tavern and a few of the other old-time places still stand, but Healy's and Reinenwebers are things of the past, and so is Cap Churchills.

Churchills was a great place for morning newspaper men. Herbert Bayard Swone and I used to stop there regularly on our way uptown, usually about three o'clock in the morning, for ham and eggs and a bit of gossip. Cap Churchills was a great follower of the track and used to lay his bets on a horse for straight and show. A bet on a horse to finish first or third is still called by his name.

Then there was the famous Jacks, where you could find Rex Beach, Fred Stone and T. A. Dorgan, better known as Tad. That was the place where the trained waiters could be depended upon to throw out an entire college football team, when the boys got too rough. It was there that Hyde Igoe used to play a ukulele, until Jack issued orders that it should be taken from him at a certain hour of the early morning and placed in the icebox for safe keeping. All the theatrical world patronized Jacks. Most of the rest of the world could be found there taken over or another. Rubens has taken over and another. Rubens has the right of that trade and the rest of the world speaks have the rest.
