Career-O-Rama

West Charlotte High School's more than 1,800 students will get the chance to discuss occupations and careers with the experts Thursday, March 20, at the school's all-day Career-O-Rama.

Representatives of more than 100 businesses, industries, public service agencies, professional organizations and schools will be available to talk with students from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the school's gymnasium.

According to W.D. Potat, Vital Information for Education and Work (VIEW) counselor, Career-O-Rama will give students an opportunity to discuss career and occupational information, training requirements, employment procedures and general job facts with persons who have first-hand knowledge and experience.

The Employment Security Commission, several public service organizations and several professional organizations such as International Management Council, Sales and Marketing Executives, Advertising Club, and the Association of University Women will be represented as well as business and industry.

CHERYL McCULLOUGH
Junior High Student

Cheryl McCullough Is Our Beauty

By POLLY MANNING
Post Staff Writer

This week the Post has as its Beauty Miss Cheryl McCullough. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough of 2816 Burbank Dr.

Cheryl is a ninth grader at Wilson Junior High School where she is a cheerleader, and was elected the black "Homecoming Queen." "In order that the procedure will be fair, we always have a black homecoming queen and a white one. The queens are selected by the vote of the student body," explained Cheryl.

Cheryl has an older brother, John McCullough, Jr. "He prefers to be called 'Ace' because he is named after our father. He is alright as a big brother, at times. He isn't bossy and I like that. He's 17 and thinks he knows everything," was the way Miss McCullough described him.

Miss McCullough has as her hobbies: dancing, singing, and riding the bicycle. She prefers dancing. The bump is her favorite dance, and of course she mastered it from "Soul Train."

The McCullough family attends Salem Baptist Church where Rev. M. H. Bostic is the pastor. Cheryl sings on the junior choir, she is a junior usher, and is a member of the missionary department.

Our Beauty's favorite actor is Max Julien. "I just love the way he acts, smiled Cheryl. He seems to put his all into his movies and it really appears as if he's having fun. My favorite movie was "Thomasine and Bushrod." In this movie he teamed up with his lady, Vonetta McGee. It was really nice.

The 5-feet, 3-inches, 115 pounds, Miss McCullough is born under the sign of Cancer. In describing them she said they are very talkative, they love to be around people, and they love debates.

Cheryl would like to trade places with Gladys Knight for one day. "I'm sure hers is an interesting life. Singing, recording, luncheons, and being a mother must take a lot of time. She seems poised and well organized. I would just like to know for one day how popularity would affect me."

Cheryl doesn't have a someone special as of yet. "I have a friend but I wouldn't really consider him a someone special right now. Eventually it may turn into that, but not now."

Charlotte Girl Wins Stoddy Fellowship

Greensboro, N. C. — Miss Myra Davis, Director of Information and Publications at Bennett College, Greensboro, has been awarded the 1975-76 Ralph Stoddy Fellowship for graduate study in journalism.

Announcement of the $3,000 award was made on March 11 during the semi-annual meeting of the Joint Committee on Communications of the United Methodist Church.

Miss Davis was selected from 15 applicants for the Fellowship which honors Dr. Ralph Stoddy who was the executive of Methodist Information for 24 years before his retirement in 1964. The purpose of the Fellowship is "to enhance the recipient's professional competence and thereby to help perpetuate the standards exemplified by Dr. Stoddy."

Miss Davis plans to enter the School of Journalism at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is a graduate of Bennett College and been serving in her pre-See Davis on page 3

Senior Division Pianist Delcia Harper Wins Omega Talent Hunt

By James Peeler
Post Feature Writer

As has been the custom since 1946, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity held its Annual Talent Hunt last Sunday at The Memorial United Presbyterian Church's sanctuary.

The 7:30 P.M. program was well-attended in spite of a continuous down pour of rain that was still falling when the contest ended at 9:30 and followed by a reception in the church's fellowship hall sponsored by the Quettes.

The winners in the Senior Division this year were: Pianist Delcia Harper, First Place, who played "Great Gate of Kiev" by Modeste Moussorgsky.

Second Place in the Senior Division went to Cassandra Rawls for her performance of Claude Debussy's "Reverie" at the piano.

Vocalist Rose Clemmons placed Third for her sparkling rendition of H. Lane Wilson's "Carmarena".

Performances by pianists Gena Amos, who played Sonata, op. 151, No. 4 by A. Diabelli; and Debra Stanley, playing "Tara Theme" by Max Steiner, rounded out the Senior competition.

Miss Harper will represent Pi Phi Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity in the District Talent Hunt Program in Raleigh, N. C. on April 27.

In the Junior Division, Smith Turner, III placed First with his performance of W. A. Mozart's "Turkish March" on the piano.

He was followed in Second Place by Darrel Ervin who also played the piano and rendered "Sonata in C" by W. A. Mozart.

The Third Place Plaque was awarded to Cynthia McCullough for her rendition of "Juba Dance" by R. Nathaniel Dett.

The Junior Division Competition was completed with the performance of pianist Gayle Harris playing "Rondo I" by W. A. Mozart.

All the winners received plaques for their appearances. Fraternity member Richard Maxwell, assisted by P. Woodard, presided at this year's Talent Hunt Program which featured the appearance of McClintock Presbyterian Church Gospel Choir, under the direction of Miss Linda Hoover, as Guest Artists.

Omega man P. Woodard, presented Directress Hoover and the choir a Certificate of Appreciation on behalf of the fraternity.

Judges for this year's Talent Hunt competition were: James Flanders Jr., Samuel Hill and Mrs. Lydia Pride.
