Mount Zion's Baptism Attracts Large Crowd

By Jim Black
Post Feature Writer

Sunday was a day of baptizing services for some of the parishioners of the Mount Zion Holiness Church, located at 2800 Tuckasee Road.

The parishioners, known as watch care members, or sinners, according to Bishop W. Davis Jr., were undergoing the age old ceremony of having their souls cleansed of original sin.

The baptisms, which took place at the swimming pool of the McCrorey Branch YMCA on Beatties Ford Road Sunday, was attended by a large number of well wishers. When asked, how often his church has baptisms, Bishop Davis replied, "As often as the Lord blesses me with candidates, I'll take them and put them down in the name of the Lord Jesus."

There were at least 20 candidates ranging in age from 12 to 50 years. The shouts and singing increased in tempo as one after the other Bishop Davis lowered the sinner and raised the newborn. By the time the third member was baptized the on-lookers had set aside previous inhibitions and were as wrapped up in the spirit as much as the actual participants.

In Act 2:38 Peter said, "Repent Everyone And Be Baptized." Well, on Sunday, according to Bishop Davis, at least 20 Charlotteans heard the word.

UNCC Summer Session Shows 7.1 Increase

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte's first session of summer school showed a 17.1 percent increase in headcount, according to Summer School director Dr. Seth Ellis.

The enrollment is 2,526, up 390 from the 2,156 of the first term a year ago. Quarter hours, on which the budget is based, were up to 18,848 from the 16,407 of a year ago for a 14.9 percent increase.

The increase is the biggest since 1971. "If we had a 15 percent increase for the entire summer, we would have an excess of enrollment over our budgeted figure of 40,000 quarter hours," Dr. Ellis said.

Comprehensive Employment And Training Act Program For Fiscal Year 1976

The Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) was enacted in December of 1973. The purpose of this Act is to provide job training and employment opportunities for economically disadvantaged, unemployed, and underemployed persons, and to assure that training and other services lead to maximum employment opportunities and enhance self-sufficiency by establishing a flexible and decentralized system of Federal, State and local programs.

The City of Charlotte has received a tentative planning grant for FY '76 from the Department of Labor in the amount of $1,689,417 to assist persons in this community who are economically disadvantaged, unemployed and underemployed in raising their income above the poverty level, with the goal of eventually becoming economically self-sufficient. The prime sponsor will provide coordinated counseling services and skill training opportunities, in those occupational areas where there are indications of employment opportunities to supply the needs of local employers in this community.

The FY 76 program is based on labor market information gathered from the sources rated most reliable in our community: the labor market projections of business and industry; the projections of the local office of the Employment Security Commission; the 10-year Labor Market Projection of the Employment Security Commission of North Carolina; the national forecast of the U. S. Department of Labor; reviews of news and labor related publications; and the concerns of the Manpower Advisory Council.

Classroom training and vocational training will be utilized. Generally, individual referrals will be in various areas where employment opportunities are projected.

The prime sponsor will provide classroom training for forty-five (45) clients in the general service area, e.g., cosmetologist and commercial and service worker.

Vocational education training will be provided for one hundred ninety (190) clients in the areas of Clerical, e.g., executive secretary, clerk typists, medical secretary, clerk stenographer and bookkeeper. Mechanic and Repair, e.g., auto mechanic, auto body repairman, air conditioning mechanic, industrial machinery repairman; Health Services, e.g., licensed practical nurse, registered nurse, dietitian, hospital attendant; Early Childhood Care, e.g., early childhood aide; Printing, e.g., printing and graphic worker.

Vocational education funds will also be used to purchase books, supplies, tools and other related classroom materials for CETA clients enrolled in individual or group classes at the local community college.

The prime sponsor does plan for career development in its classroom and vocational education training activities to a limited number of participants who are enrolled in the health or clerical occupation at entry level training whose performances are exceptional or who are interested in further training will be offered advance training in those areas.

All training will be contracted, using such criteria as viability of agency (administrative structure with necessary fiscal accountability), accreditation (accreditation by reputable sources), proposal content (proposed cost of services comparable to other agents), and credibility (within the community) in selecting delivery agents. However, the prime sponsor will be flexible in considering community based organizations, providing the quality of services in not compromised.

The only occupations that will be included in the on-the-job training program activity are those with productive skill levels and employment mobility. The participants who complete a specified period of training are expected to have enough work experience to enable them to be hired at wages consistent with those paid to others with similar training and experience.

The primary purpose of the work experience activity is to assist eight hundred and eighty (880) youth with career development and to increase the retention rate of high school students. It is expected that twenty-five (25) of these students who complete high school will pursue additional training through the CETA Title I program. This project will serve as a "feeder" to the CETA vocational educational program.

Support services such as orientation, counseling, medical examinations, general referral, job development, and placement will be provided to all CETA participants.

The prime sponsor will pay allowances consistent with the minimum wage law. Generally, the maximum number of hours a client will spend in classroom training is thirty (30) hours per week and allowances will be computed at the rate of $2.10 per hour through December 31, 1975.

The basic allowance payment will be increased to $2.30 per hour effective January 1, 1976 to coincide with the minimum wage law. In addition, participants will be paid $1.00 per day for transportation and $1.00 per day for lunch.

An incentive allowance of thirty dollars ($30.00) per week will be paid to social service recipients and inmates in correctional facilities.

The prime sponsor will evaluate its efforts based on the following criteria:

That 95 percent of course graduates are placed within 3 weeks in positions for which they were trained;

That training programs are structured so that graduates earning power will have a high probability of progressively increasing to over 125 percent of the poverty level corrected by the C-O-L index factor. Provide that persons placed in unsubsidized employment will receive wage increments in amounts and at times regularly scheduled by employers;

That clients are selected so that at least 80 percent of each starting class successfully completes the course and that no more than 15 percent will terminate for nonpositive reasons from classroom training or on-the-job training. Provide that 95 percent of program graduates who are placed in unsubsidized employment will remain on the job at the end of 3 months, 75 percent at the end of twelve months.

The work experience program will be assessed in the following manner:

That clients are counseled so that 90 percent of work experience clients will successfully complete their high school education;

That clients are counseled and selected so that 90 percent will be placed on work sites consistent with their career objectives whenever possible.

All comments concerning this summary should be forwarded to Mr. Robert Person, Jr., Manpower Director, City of Charlotte Manpower Department 401 East Second Street Charlotte, North Carolina. Complete copies of this document may be secured from the above address.
